Legion Officials Met In Baltimore

The annual Rehabilitation Conference of The American Legion was held in Baltimore this year because of the scarcity of hotel accommodations in the City of Washington. The Illinois delegation left January 17, although the conference was scheduled for the 19th, 20th and 21st. N. Curtis Cation, Department Commander, headed the Illinois delegation, which also included Wm. R. McCauley, Department Chairman of Rehabilitation, of Olney; Wm. C. Mundt, Department Adjutant of Bloomington; and L. R. Benston, Department Service Officer of Chicago.

The Conference, this year, besides interesting itself in the affairs of World War Veterans and their dependents, took up with Government officials many of the anticipated problems arising as a result of the service of men who are now in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps. This, applies to disabilities the men may acquire in line of duty and the rights and benefits flowing to the dependents of those men who may die in the defense of this country. The Legion, in its National Convention at Milwaukee, agreed to assume this responsibility, and L. R. Benston, the Department Service Officer, recently reported to the Department Commander that a number of such claims had already been handled through the Legion Service Office in Chicago.

Glassed Fruits Brighten Meal

Dorothy Lovett, left, and Mary Anderson, who are making their way in films in Hollywood, have learned the secret of serving dessert of their guests' selection. They keep several varieties of Del Monte, California glassed fruits, packed in duralgas containers, in their refrigerator. Lids of containers are replaceable, permitting them to keep the unused contents in the jars for future servings.

DON'T TAKE THIS LYING DOWN...

When men are fighting and dying, you must do your part. Be sure you enlist your DOLLARS for DEFENSE. Back our armed forces—and protect your own life—with every single dollar and dime you can.

America must have a steady flow of money pouring in every day to help beat back our enemies.

Put Dimes for Defense Stamps. And put Dollars into Bonds. Buy now. Buy every pay day. Buy as often as you can.

Don't take this lying down.

A. W. Conover Elected Head of Gas Company

The Board of Directors of North Shore Gas Company has elected A. W. Conover president and general manager of the Company. Mr. Conover, who is 42 years of age, is now vice-president and general manager of Central Ohio Light & Power Company at Findlay, Ohio. Mr. Conover has been in the utility business since 1916 and has established an enviable reputation. Prior to his present position he served as vice-president and general manager of Oklahoma Utilities Company and of Colorado Central Power Company. In 1939 he was given the Forbes Award of the Edison Electric Institute for the most meritorious paper on the subject of public relations. Mr. Conover will assume his new position on February 1. Mr. Conover is married and the father of four sons. He will be joined by his family at the end of the school year and will reside in the territory served by the Gas Company. Mr. Conover is active in American Legion affairs.

North Shore Gas Company, which serves the North Shore territory from Winnetka to the Wisconsin state line, has completed its plan of recapitalization and recently refunded its bonds. As a part of that plan the Gas Company acquired the gas and coke production plant at Waukegan formerly owned by North Shore Coke and Chemical Company.

Colin C. Sanborn In Peru Collecting Animals for Museum

Four of the five expeditions which Field Museum of Natural History currently has in operation in Latin-American countries have recently sent reports on the progress of their work, it was made known today by Major Clifford C. Gregg, director of the museum.

Among the reports, comes one from a Highland Park, Colin Campbell Sanborn, curator of mammals who is conducting a zoological expedition in Peru, reports that he has collected a large number of animals for the museum. He is engaged in visiting localities of special zoological interest, especially in the valleys of some of the more remote tributaries of the Amazon.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

CLAUDETTE COLBERT'S dressing room has been doing a bit of traveling, to the amazement of inhabitants of Los Angeles who saw the one-room bungalow riding along on a truck one evening. It was made for Miss Colbert at the Paramount studios, when she was working in "Skylark." She was so proud of it that she had it taken to Twentieth Century-Fox when she began "Remember the Day." Back she went to Paramount, then, for the new Preston Sturges picture—and back, too, went the bungalow.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is rushing to the nation's theaters a two-reel release special, "War Clouds in the Pacific," which was compiled by the Canadian government just before December 7. It proved to be so prophetic that M-G-M officials ordered a record number of prints so that the picture would be available for simultaneous showing in many theaters throughout this country.

Joe E. Brown, wearing women's clothes for the first time on the screen in Columbia's "Shut My Big Mouth," has set a record for speed in dressing which will make feminine stars look to their laurels. Timing himself with a stop-watch, Brown has streamlined the routine until he can dress completely from petticoats to hat and wig in one minute and forty seconds.

Hugh Herbert, the Woo Woo comedian, will have the principal male role in the new version of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," the role played by W. C. Fields when last the picture was made. Carolyn Lee will play the youngest daughter, the role which brought screen fame to Virginia Weidler.

Patricia Morrison's been playing hostess to a solid silver pagoda, valued at more than half a million dollars. It was smuggled out of China, and will be taken on tour later. It weighs 1,300 pounds.

Ed East and Polly have just finished their second "Kitchen Quiz" film for Columbia pictures; featuring the helps for housewives which popularized the team on thousands of radio programs. The first "Kitchen Quiz" was aimed at comedy; this second one is more serious.

Parks Johnson and Wally Butterworth have offered their Vox Pop interviews program to President Roosevelt, the army and the navy for whatever use it can be put to in informational service, morale building and entertainment.

The popular CBS "Whodunit" mystery series broadcast Thursday evenings has a group of rabid mystery fans continually watching for slip-ups on crime technique and deduction; when they think they've discovered a discrepancy they gleefully write to Lew X. Lansworth, who writes the scripts—and says he can feel them hanging over his shoulder whenever he sits down to work.

It's Ginger Rogers who draws the coveted assignment to star in the screen version—in color—of the highly successful stage play, "Lady in the Dark." This is the second season that Gertrude Lawrence has appeared in it on the New York stage. The leading role requires someone who can sing, dance, act—and wear clothes well. Ginger's a natural for it.

Bob Burns, the "Arkansas Traveler," gets a duplicate of an expert rifleman's medal with three bars; he won it as a marine during the first World war, and lost it—friends have been checking records, and finally got him what you might call "a reasonable facsimile."

ODDS AND ENDS—Guest stars on the new "Shirley Temple Time" program receive beautiful gold watches from Shirley's sponsors. . . Amazingly for Hollywood, Margaret Hayes, former New York fashion model, was actually cast as a model in "Take a Letter, Darling" . . . Macdonald Carey's certainly on his way up in Hollywood; Paramount has renewed his contract . . . RKO's current Lum and Abner picture will be released by RKO under the title of "The Bashful Bachelor" . . . The Association of Hollywood Photographers voted Bob Hope and Rita Hayworth the most "photogenic" members of the film capital.
