TODAY'S BURDENS MAY BE TOMORROW'S WINGS

The present, with its manifold responsibilities, fills one with many misgivings, but, viewing the past (which constitutes the departed phases of what was once the present) one perceives the fruitlessness of a pessimistic attitude.

Therefore, in shouldering the responsibilities of the present in consideration of our respective abilities, and persevering in the duties of our state-in-life, we are rendering lighter and easier the burden which tomorrow will inevitably bring.

Therefore, "Today's burden may be tomorrow's wings."

Mrs. Jenkins Heads Service Men's Mothers' Club

A meeting of the Local Service Men's Mothers' Club was held on Wednesday, January 14, at the Y. W. C. A. The spirit of the group was characterized by a desire—or rather determination—to stand firmly back of the boys in service in this tremendous job they have to do. The name of Deerfield, Highland Park and Highwood Service Men's Mother's Club as follows: President, Mrs. A. B. Jenkins; 1st vice-president, and membership chairman, Mrs. J. J. Riddle; 2nd vice-president and activities chairman, Mrs. Joseph Cameron; secretary, Mrs. Reuben Lloyd; treasurer, Mrs. W. Howard; publicity chairman, Mrs. Lester Olson; program chairman, Mrs. John Lemmon.

The suggestion of establishing a Red Cross unit in connection with the group brought ready response. Many members were already identified with other Red Cross units. Friends of the group will be welcome in the Red Cross project.

The membership of this group of mothers is not complete, and Mrs. Riddle—phone H. P. 4264—will welcome information concerning local service men.

The Highland Park Press is working on a list of names of local service men with the view of placing them on a complimentary mailing list for the duration and would appreciate help in completing this list.
