

Washington Merry-Go-Round

DR. WASHINGTON & ROBERT ASHLEY

NO SOVIET-NAZI PEACE

Those who are on the inside regarding the report which Ambassador William C. Bullitt gave President Roosevelt regarding the Near East say there is only one slight ray of sunshine in it. Bullitt told his chief that there was absolutely no chance of Russia making peace with Germany.

Coming from Bullitt, who served as ambassador to Russia and who spent considerable time there in the early days of the revolution in 1917, this means a lot. Bullitt has been vigorously critical of the Soviet regime in recent years and probably would lean over backwards against any overly optimistic appraisal. However, after his special tour of the Near and Middle East on special assignment from the President, he reported that the Russians were so irate against the Nazis that there would be no surrender or compromise.

Bullitt is not so optimistic about the Russian army, which he thinks may fall badly when the Germans are able to get their airplanes in the air again, which they cannot do in sub-zero weather and with snow on the air fields. Politically, however, Bullitt is convinced that Russia will stand with the United Nations to the last ditch.

Against this, Bullitt goes further than anyone else around the President regarding Allied losses. Not only does he believe that Japan will take India, but he feels that Australia will be lost to the British Empire.

If he is right, this will be the worst blow which the United Nations can suffer, especially inasmuch as American troops are now stationed in Australia and New Zealand.

Not all war observers agree with Bullitt on this latter point. They point out that Australia is chiefly a desert country, and it would take weeks and months for a conquering army to envelop these vast areas.

PATRIOTIC INDIANS

As in the last war, thousands of American Indians again are demonstrating their patriotism.

The desk of John Collier, able chief of the Office of Indian Affairs, is stacked with letters from every tribe in the country, pledging aid and offering to make fresh sacrifices for the war effort. Here are a few examples:

Immediately after the declaration of war, the Crow Indians of Montana voted $10,000 of tribal funds to President Roosevelt to "use as you see fit." They also voted to place in the President's hands the entire resources of their 2,000,000-acre reservation, including mineral, oil and coal deposits, plus all available manpower for combat service.

The Creeks of Oklahoma have set aside $400,000 of tribal funds for the purchase of defense bonds. Other tribes voting large sums for the same purpose include the Jicarilla Apaches and Pueblos of New Mexico, the Euchee and Seminole Indians of Oklahoma, and the Navajos.

Not to be outdone, the Colvilles of Washington state, the Cheyennes and Arapahos of the Plains and the Nez Perce Indians have announced they will not press for settlement of tribal claims against the government while the war lasts.

Following the Jap attack there was a big rush among Indian youth at every reservation to enlist, especially at the Sioux reservation in South Dakota. Only three of the 46 North Carolina Cherokees in the army were drafted. The rest volunteered.

The patriotic response of Indians may surprise the average American, but not Collier. He says: "The Indians know more than any of us what freedom means. They knew it in other years when they fought against overwhelming odds to save their lands from the white man."

WE WILL WIN

Due to initial Axis advantage of having great organized military machines, the war will be long, difficult and costly. But if the Allied peoples will stick it out they can't lose. All the major basic economic advantages are on our side. Here are a few:

The Axis powers plus their occupied territories have 29 per cent of the world's coal, 18 per cent of the iron ore, 3 per cent of the oil, 31 per cent of the wheat, 29 per cent of the sugar. Total population under their flags, 474,000,000; of which 180,000,000 are conquered peoples secretly trying to throw off their terrific yokes.

On the Allied side of the ledger is 67 per cent of the world's coal, 45 per cent of the iron, 76 per cent of the oil, 64 per cent of the wheat, and 51 per cent of the sugar.

ECONOMIC WAR FRONT

Don't start getting jittery about reports of a soap shortage. There is absolutely nothing to them. You will always be able to get plenty of soap—of some kind. Shutting off of imported oils, chiefly from the embattled Pacific, probably will affect the quality of soap, but not the quantity. Ample domestic, Brazilian and Central American oils will provide satisfactory substitutes.

However, if you're a lamb chop fan, you can figure on paying more for them.

DOCUMENTARY PHOTOGRAPHY

Want an interesting picture project? Try making a pictorial record of your home town.

AT FREQUENT intervals, in discussions of picture-making, the term "Documentary Photography" turns up. And to many people it seems like the "bad penny" which keeps coming back.

With such a record you're probably wondering why the subject is even mentioned here. Well, the reason is that today I'd like to suggest that you try your hand at documentary photography and become a photo historian. For instance, suppose you had a picture record of every important event in your home town during the last five years, or every important local character. Right now, at your fingertips, you'd have a veritable treasury of local history.

There's no reason why you can't assemble such an album if you start picturing the local scene at once. Thirty years from now people will be wondering how we lived. They'll want to know what sort of clothes we wore, what kind of houses we lived in, what Main Street looked like, what kind of cars we drove, who the important people were and what they were like. Of course, we could sit down and write a book giving them all of the details, but there never has been—and there never will be—any book which can describe anything more clearly than you can, in a fraction of a second, by means of your camera.

In fact, there's so much that honestly deserves a place in your album I'd suggest you specialize in two or three principal subjects. Your section of town, for one, should have a special division all to itself. Another section I'd devote just to people—the way they dress, their work, and the games they play. That's a broad field because things change so fast—fashions in clothes, for instance.

Maybe that isn't your idea of documentary photography. Perhaps you think it's necessary to photograph big, dramatic subjects. Well, you're wrong! It's the little personal items—seasoned with human interest—that makes interesting history. And that is the type of subject that is often overlooked.

NORTH SHORE CONGREGATION ISRAEL

Glencoe, Ill.

Rabbi Charles E. Shulman
"The Religion of China" will be Rabbi Charles E. Shulman's topic for the regular Sunday morning services on March 8 at North Shore Congregation Israel, Glencoe. This is the second of a series of three sermons on the religions of the Far East.

Rabbi Shulman will discuss the Confucian idea and ideal which permeate so much of the thinking and acting of the Chinese people. Since it is impossible to cover the limitless range of the religious experience of an old people in terms of a single sermon, he will limit his sermon to the influence cast upon the present generation of Chinese by the doctrine of Confucius. Through analyzing the thinking of this teacher and philosopher, an attempt will be made to better understand what spirit it is that for almost five years has held at bay the vaunted might of the Japanese armies.

Services at North Shore Congregation Israel are conducted every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The Temple is at Lincoln and Vernon Avenues in Glencoe, and visitors are always welcome.
