Anti-Cruelty Society Elects New Officers

A meeting was held Friday, March 13, at the Anti-Cruelty Society, 157 West Grand Avenue, Chicago. The meeting was held to organize the Red Star Auxiliary of the Anti-Cruelty Society.

Dr. W. A. Young, Managing Director, of the Anti-Cruelty Society, presided over the meeting. Dr. Young is the North Central Regional Director of the American Red Star Animal Relief. He spoke about the work of the Red Star in the past years, the plans for the present and the work that is still to be done to meet the present emergency.

The following officers were elected: President, Sally Kiemele; Vice-president, Louise Ronne; secretary, Frances Baumgartner; treasurer, Margaret Hussbauer; recording secretary, Frank Kiemele; directors, Marion Foertsch, Rose Pantarotto.

The Red Star Auxiliary will give a series of classes on animal handling, first aid, handling of animals under wartime conditions, etc. Persons interested should contact The Anti-Cruelty Society, Superior 8338, by letter or telephone. These classes will be conducted for an indefinite period of time in order to meet the demands of all dog owners and interested persons.

Huge Dog Show Soon To Open In Chicago

Pedigreed pets of the canine world, representing 109 different breeds, will be on display in Chicago's all-breed purebred Dog Show, to be held in the International Amphitheatre Saturday and Sunday, March 28 and 29.

It is the second largest indoor dog show in the world. Officials of the show predict that by the time entries are closed on March 23 nearly every state will be represented by exhibits as well as Canada.

The show is sponsored by the International Kennel Club of Chicago. Cash prizes alone will total $11,800. In addition to this, more than 200 special trophies will be awarded to owners of winning dogs.

Private Wallace Ward Reichelt is now stationed at Camp Lewis, Washington. He was inducted into the army at Camp Grant, Rockford, February 23.

Dance Classes At Local USO Sunday Night

Men in service and their partners will have an opportunity on Sunday night, March 22, to learn the latest dance steps free of charge at the Highland Park USO center's "Variety Dance Night."

"It will be one of the largest classes in ballroom dance instruction ever to be given," said Nicholas T. Young, director of the USO center at 21 North Green Bay Road, Highland Park.

"Only 25 per cent of our men know how to dance and the rest have expressed a keen desire to learn. We feel that they will welcome the entertainment and opportunity it affords since dancing is one of their chief sources of recreational activity," he said.

An exhibition of Rumba, Tango, Fox Trot and Samba will be given by the instructors, Miss Anita Stone and Jack Momand of the Alan Stone Dance studios, preceding the instruction period. The class will be continued if the men desire it.

Instruction is available in the Chicago area for all service men who are interested, through their local USO center.

The Highland Park center presents dances every Wednesday, Friday and Sunday nights as a regular part of their social program. Recent statistics show that ballroom dancing is beneficial to good health and an additional aid to the health program planned for our fighting men.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
 By VIRGINIA VALE
 (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

FOUR soldiers from the middle west got the thrill of a lifetime recently. Claire Trevor, who'd been working late at Paramount on "The Black Curtain," was driving to a Hollywood cafe for dinner when she saw them trying to thumb a ride. She stopped and asked them if they'd have dinner with her. There were no introductions. In the middle of the meal one of them suddenly exclaimed, "Gosh, I know you—you're Claire Trevor!" Resultant casualties, one glass of water, spilled; two cups of coffee, dropped. Cause, amazement of fellow guests.

Claudette Colbert's slated to play another of those beautiful, brisk newspaper women that we see so often on the screen and so rarely in real life. She'll do it in "No Time for Love." Fred McMurray, the hero, plays a sand hog, who works on a tunnel project under the Hudson.

We're told officially that Jean Parker, now playing in "Hello Annapolis," has just planted the largest one-girl victory garden in Hollywood—half an acre, all vegetables, which she's taking care of entirely by herself. Anybody who's ever taken care of a vegetable garden knows that either her screen career or the tomatoes and beans is going to be sadly neglected.

"Klondike Kate," who's in Hollywood to select an actress to portray her in the Columbia story based on her life, gave the same final test to all candidates, including Evelyn Keyes, Jinx Falkenberg and Shirley Patterson—had each roll a cigarette.

Jonathan Hale, who plays a bit in "Joe Smith, American," is a great-grand-nephew of Nathan Hale—plays the part of a foreign agent who beats up a man who's inspired by Nathan Hale's words, "I regret that I have but one life to give for my country."

Joan Fontaine better get ready for the biggest year of her screen career, now that she's won the Academy award for her work in "Suspicion," whether she really wants to go on making pictures or not. She was sure that one of the other nominees, her sister, Olivia de Havilland, Bette Davis, Greer Garson and Barbara Stanwyck, would get it.

"On-the-air" habits of radio folk—Fred Allen chews gum, swag-organist Mill Herth chews candle wax; the Andrews Sisters squeeze each others' hands, Phil Baker squeezes the golf ball that he always carries in his pocket, Tallulah Bankhead grips her script so hard that afterward it shows the marks of her finger nails on every page.

Sixteen-year-old Linda Ware postponed her Paramount commitments because her doctor said she'd have to take a rest, preferably out of town. She went to New York. A week later she'd accepted a singing engagement at a swank night club, was discussing the lead in a musical show opposite Ray Bolger, and had four offers for guest shots on the air. They say the doctor's threatened with apoplexy.

Bob Hawk's Friday evening radio program, "How'm I Doin'?", is one of Uncle Sam's heaviest buyers of defense stamps. The program authorities keep a $2,000 reserve on hand at all times.

Two men are responsible for keeping actress Ann Thomas in New York, when she had an opportunity to join Shirley Temple in the radio version of "Junior Miss"; they're Mr. Ace of radio's "Easy Aces" (she's his stenographer in the air show) and Mr. Meek of "Meet Mr. Meek."

ODDS AND ENDS—Since Fred Allen moved his broadcasts to Sunday evenings he's right back where he was nearly ten years ago, with "Fred Allen's Bath Club Revue" . . . Kate Smith photographed almost 1,000 sailors' caps when she appeared at the Great Lakes U. S. naval training station . . . Norma Jean Wayne was only 14 days old when she made her screen debut as the new baby of the screen's "Blondie" series . . . Warner Bros. has to find new leading men for "The Hard Way" and "The Widow Wouldn't Wasp" because Jeffrey Lynn's in the army now . . . Marjorie bought "Dragon Seed," by Pearl S. Buck, and will make a picture of it.
