Dr. Harold Phillips Will Address the Sunday Eve Club

"Our Need for Discipline" will be the topic under discussion next Sunday at the Sunday Evening Club in Orchestra Hall by Dr. Harold C. Phillips, speaker from the First Baptist Church, Cleveland. He will speak at eight o'clock. Clifford W. Barnes, president of the Club, whose return to the platform last Sunday after an absence of two months, will preside and introduce Dr. Phillips. Horace W. Armstrong, President of Reid Murdoch and Company, will also take part.

Preceding his talk the Sunday Evening Club choir under the direction of Edgar Nelson, will present a program of sacred selections, including "Sing a Song of Praise" by West, "The Promise that was Made" by Baird and "All Praise to God" by Wagner. Virginia Ayer, contralto, will sing a popular solo, "People Victorious" by Parker.

The informal meeting at seven will bring to the Club's platform the Kalamazoo College A-Cappella Choir, now on its spring tour. The group of 45 is under the direction of Henry Overley, former Chicagoan, who is considered one of the outstanding directors in the United States. Dr. James W. Clarke, Presbyterian Theological Seminary, will give the second of a series of short talks at this meeting.

LIBRARY Children's Department

The war in the Pacific has brought near to many a child islands and cities which used to be only names and points on a big map.

As the war goes on their interest naturally increases. They want to know about these places and they wish to learn about the people who live there, particularly the children, about their daily lives, their customs and habits. Books by responsible authors—and authentically illustrated, are some of the best helpers we have for this.

Lucio and his Nuong—Crockett.
A richly colored picture story book telling about Lucio and his water buffalo on a tropical island in the Philippines.

Java Jungle Tales—De Leeuw.
Animal tales from Java by an author who has a thorough knowledge of his subject.

Riemo—Elliot.
A little brown girl from Java. Soomoon—Elliot.
The tale of a natural ten-year old boy and every day life on the island of Bali.

Blackfellow Bundi—Harris.
An appealing little black boy from Australia presented in a true way.

In the Land of Rubber—Lee.
An authentic informative story from the Malayan peninsula.

Greenree Downs—Ross.
The four young Turners go to Australia to make their home with an uncle. Difficulties and adventures are met in a natural resourceful way.

Carlos and Lola—Sowers.
Family life among the natives of the Philippine islands.

One Day with Jambi in Sumatra—Sperry.
A colorful picture story book telling of a boy's every day doings on this famous island.

Buddy the Bear—Wiese.
The Koala bear of Australia together with the cockatoos and other animals of the Australian plains.

Karoo the Kangaroo—Wiese.
The story of the little kangaroo's journey through the forests in Australia and the animals he encountered on his trip.

Pedro's Coconut Skates—Wood.
A mischievous little Philippine boy in and out of troubles.

MADAME DELORE ADVISES ONE QUESTION FREE

Write to: Madame De Lore, Station No. 410, Las Vegas, Nev. $ for $1.00

L. G. C.—What is the initial of my sweetheart?
J. P. M.

L. P.—Could you give me the initials of my future sweetheart?
No, I cannot, my dear. I would suggest that under these present circumstances you would concentrate on education instead of the boys. You are still very young.

MRS. L. K.—Do you believe we will ever have any children of our own?
I would advise you to adopt one as you really are not in good health just now to become pregnant.

QUESTIONED—Will I ever get in touch with a certain friend again?
You will be able to get in touch with this friend through a mutual acquaintance within the next 15 to 16 months.

J. O. B.—When will I leave the farm?
The impression comes to me that you will leave the farm you are now on around the first of November.

B. M. B.—Will my employer buy the place I am interested in?
I am very sure that your employer will purchase the place you have in mind by the latter part of August or first of September.

W. C. S.—Will I have anymore children?
Yes, and the next one will arrive within the next 10 to 12 months.

N. W.—Will I make the deal I have in mind?
Yes, you will be able to sell your home to the party that is interested in it.

MISS L. H.—Does the man I love love me?
I would advise you to give up all thoughts of this man, my dear, because he is married and you are going to get yourself into a great deal of trouble if you do not make a change in your plans.

MISS D. M.—Can you see when I will meet my future husband?
Around the Fourth of July.

O. I.—Will I marry the man I have in mind?
Yes, and a lot sooner than you expect to.

F. I. T.—Will I find employment?
Yes, when school is out you will have employment all through the balance of the summer.

E. B.—When will I get a new job?
There is one just around the corner for you within the next three weeks.

S. B.—Will I make the change that I am thinking of?
The impression comes to me that you will make your future home in Texas.

E. L. K.—Will I ever fall heir to any money in the future?
Around the age of 54 you will come into the inheritance that you have in mind.

BROWN EYES—I would like to know when I am getting my divorce?
I haven't room for the details of your case in this column, but I will be glad to help you if you will send in five questions privately?

FAWN EYES—Will I have anymore children?
You will have one more.

X. Y. Z.—Should I leave my husband?
I wouldn't advise a separation in your case because you are just infatuated with the younger man that you have in mind, and it would not be lasting.

JENA—Who will I marry and when?
I am sorry I cannot give you his initials as you have not met this young man. You will marry in the summer of 1945.

GOOD LOOKING—Who took my coat and dress?
That's a rather personal matter and I would like to answer you privately if you will send in five questions.

Tomei Enlists in U. S. Navy

He was a magician in civilian life, but Armando Louis Tomei, 29, of 322 McDaniel Avenue, Highland Park, Ill., says there is no mystery about why he joined the Navy.

He enlisted in the Naval Reserve to do his share in bringing an early victory to the United States in World War II.

Tomei is undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station here and as soon as he masters Navy fundamentals he will be assigned to duty at sea or a shore station: He is a yeoman, third class.

Before joining the Navy, Tomei was in demand as an entertainer at servicemen's centers and while in "boot" camp he may again be given an opportunity to display his sleight-of-hand talents. At the same time he will be on the receiving end of some fine entertainment, since favorites of the screen, stage and radio appear here often to entertain Navy recruits.

In addition to mystifying the public, Tomei was produce manager of the National Tea Food Stores. He was a member of the Wizzard Club of Chicago and the International Brotherhood of Magicians. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tomei of Highland Park.

THE MASTER GARDENER

Everbearing Strawberries are a Welcome Addition to the Victory Garden.

Everbearing strawberries have increased in popularity from year to year, and quite a few overbearing varieties are now obtainable.

Strawberries are a welcome addition to the small-fruit section of your Victory Garden, and the everbearing varieties especially so.

It is possible to set plants in early spring and harvest a crop in the fall. Any good soil that will grow spring berries or ordinary vegetable crops is also suitable for overbearing strawberries. Everbearing strawberries do need ample moisture for plant growth, fruit production, and utilization of plant food applied, so it is wise to choose a soil with good water-holding capacity.

Get good plants; set them early, while the soil is cool and moist; cultivate regularly; and remove the blossoms until July, to enable the plant to build up strength for berry production in fall. For best yield of fruit, remove most of the runners.

It has been found that summer mulching increases the yield little or none, but it does not keep down weeds, and keeps the berries clean.

With everbearing strawberries, the continual fruiting is a constant drain on the resources and strength of the plant, and it is important that the plants be fed properly. Apply a complete balanced plant food when the bed is prepared for the plants, applying at the rate of four pounds per 100 square feet, and raking lightly into the soil. Feed again at four to six-week intervals, applying the plant food at the same rate as given above. In these later feedings, apply the plant food on both sides of the row but away from the roots. In making later applications, be sure the foliage is dry when plant food is applied, and brush off any plant food that lodges on the leaves.

Cultivate often to conserve moisture.

Now as to choice of varieties: No everbearer bears every day from mid-summer to cold weather. Here are good and bad points of various overbearing varieties, and approximate periods when they bear most heavily: GEM is productive about August and early September. Plants are not as rugged as Mastodon. Need cool wet weather to get a good start, but once started Gem is one of the best of the everbearing varieties for the middle states and the south.

MASTODON reach their peak bearing period about late September; Mastodon is also one of the best spring bearers among the everbearers, being a midseason variety for the regular crop.

GREEN MOUNTAIN bears best late in the season, about late September and early October. It is also a good spring bearer, a late variety for the regular crop. As you might surmise from the description, it likes cool weather.

WAYZATA reaches the peak of its bearing period in late September. It is the best tasting of all the everbearers. It is at its best in the northern states. Wayzata is a heavy feeder, so feed liberally.

CHAMPION was the first good everbearer. Fruit is very sweet and plants productive, but berries are small. One of the best varieties for the South. Not as strong a grower as Mastodon and Green Mountain, therefore not especially suited to the North.

(I am indebted to the W. F. Allen Company, Salisbury, Maryland, strawberry specialists, for much of the information in the above article.)

CASSEROLE OF GREEN BEANS AND TOMATOES
BAKED APPLE PUDDING
BEVERAGE

TASTY BAKED VEAL (Serves 6)
Buy about 2 pounds of Wilson's Gela Seald Veal shoulder chops or steak, cut 1/2 inch thick. Season steaks with a teaspoon of salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 1 tablespoon onion juice.
Beat 1 Clear Brook egg with 1 tablespoon of water.
Dip the veal in the egg, then in bread crumbs, seasoned with 2 teaspoons of paprika.
Heat a heavy skillet. Add 2 tablespoons of fat.
When fat is hot, add veal, brown slowly on each side. Pour a pint of milk over the meat and bake, covered, in a slow oven (325° F.) for an hour. Serve garnished with spiced prunes.

"Unexpected-Company" Lunch
Fry 4 slices of Wilson's Certified Bacon (diced) until half done. Add one onion (diced) and saute to a light brown. Then add one No. 2 can of whole kernel corn, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 4 Clear Brook eggs (beaten). Cook slowly for 5 minutes, stirring from the bottom up. Before removing from the fire, add 1/2 cup of grated Wilson's Certified American Cheese. Serve in center of a round platter flanked with 8 strips of bacon. A luncheon dish for 4.
