

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

HOME-GROWN FASCISTS
After three months of temporizing with native Fascist champions, Attorney General Francis Biddle is finally going to get tough—on direct personal orders of the President.
Roosevelt directed Biddle to take vigorous legal action against certain factional leaders who have been publicly denouncing the war against the Axis and in some instances actually expressing pleasure over Japanese victories.
Complaints have poured into Washington from parents of boys in the armed services demanding that these domestic foes be jailed. But Biddle demurred on the ground of "preserving civil liberties."
Shortly after Pearl Harbor, FBI agents arrested Robert Noble, rabid Los Angeles Fascist leader, on serious charges involving statements concerning the war. Despite the FBI's evidence, Biddle ordered Noble released.
This brought down a storm of protests on Biddle's head that steadily increased as the hostile operations of these elements became bolder and more outspoken. Still Biddle refused to allow either the FBI or federal district attorneys, who were champing at the bit, to crack down.
Finally White House advisers, alarmed over the situation, took the matter direct to the President. They laid before him a mass of evidence dealing with Noble, Father Coughlin, Francis P. Moran of Boston, Gerald L. K. Smith of Michigan and Charles B. Hudson of Omaha.
One document shown Roosevelt was the March 16 issue of Coughlin's weekly publication which declared that a "world-wide sacred war" was declared against Germany nine years ago. The publication also attacked aid to Russia, denounced the British bombing of French plants making Nazi supplies, and contained such statements as:
"Unless the German forces can overcome Russia and successfully invade England by the end of September, there is every evidence that the entire world will have elected to experience a blood bath the like of which was never imagined by the most poetic minds."—"It has been the practiced policy of the Roosevelt administration to favor the Chinese in their war against Japan."
"The policy of Asia for the Asiatic, a policy which, after all, is nothing more than an expression of our own Monroe Doctrine."
After carefully examining the evidence, the President summoned Biddle, ordered him to get tough and do so immediately.

GOOD WAR NEWS
Here is some all-important GOOD war news for a change.
The United States and the British Empire have won a victory of supreme importance in the crucial war production race.
For the first time in the 2 1/2 years of the war the United States and Britain now are out-producing the Axis and its vassal states in vital arms and munitions.
Although the two allies still are on the defensive, henceforth Anglo-American war output should pile up an ever-increasing margin of armament superiority.
U. S. producing capacity in particular is just beginning to swing into an all-out war scale. The mighty auto industry, for example, is now being furiously converted. Other major industries are undergoing the same transformation. Also hundreds of new war plants are in various stages of completion, with hundreds of others being projected.
Sage old "Bernie" Baruch comments: "We can't yet crack our heels together in celebration, even if things are better."
What he means is that there are still plenty of sour spots.
Some of these are: labor supply, certain obstacles in the flow of materials, shortage of materials, inadequate use of equipment, insufficient subcontracting, red tape and bureaucratic obstruction, the incompetence, greed and lack of initiative of many employers, the profit-mindedness of dollar-a-year men.
But despite all these, U. S. industry every week is pouring out a steadily soaring floodtide of war supplies. On the basis of a private survey made by the authors of this column, it can be stated definitely that with the British Empire's greatly accelerated production the two Allies now are ahead of the Axis.

Note: The survey was limited on the Allied side to the U. S. and British Empire because it is impossible to get detailed information about Russian production.

MERRY-GO-ROUND
Congressional critics of President Roosevelt are caustically denounced by A. F. Whitney, white-created president of the Railroad Trainmen, in the latest issue of the union's magazine. In a lead editorial Whitney declares, "No congressman or congressional committee, no senator or group in the senate, no Axis agent or anyone else seeking to use the war to discredit the President will throw any sand in our eyes in any way useful in their desire to advance a selfish, ignoble purpose."

SPRING FLOWING

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

GETTING SHARPER PICTURES

Much of the appeal of this splendid snapshot lies in the fact that everything from the foreground to the horizon is sharply in focus. Strive for all-over sharpness in your snapshots.

SHARPNESS in every picture, with relatively few exceptions, is extremely important to its success. It is, I think, something we should all strive to attain. And fortunately it's not difficult to achieve.
The way I see it, sharpness in a photograph depends principally upon three things: First, a steady camera; second, correct focusing; and third, correct exposure. Get those down pat and you'll have little trouble in your picture making.
But let's take those points one by one. First, the important matter of camera steadiness. To achieve this goal you must practice handling your camera until you are absolutely familiar with its operation. Or, better yet, get the tripod habit. Placing your camera on a tripod every time you take a picture, or at least resting it against a firm support, will mean sharper pictures consistently.
Next, there's the matter of correct focusing. If you don't have a range finder on your camera or among its accessories, measure the distance from camera to subject carefully, especially with close-ups. Or, try tracing it off. If you know the length of your average step you can quickly estimate distances with considerable accuracy. Whatever you do, don't guess.
The third important point is correct exposure. Always choose the smallest lens aperture so that you'll get maximum depth of field. And don't try to hand-hold your camera when using a shutter speed slower than 1/25 second. Most people can, for all practical purposes, hand-hold exposures of 1/25 second, but you'll get sharper pictures if you use 1/50 or 1/100 second exposures as your minimum.

Rabbi Charles E. Shulman
"Will the World Ever Be the Same?" is the timely question Rabbi Charles E. Shulman will discuss at the regular services on Sunday morning, April 12, at North Shore Congregation Israel, Lincoln and Vernon Avenues, Glenwood.
Whether the kind of life we have known and taken for granted in recent years will continue after this war is over, whether there will be the same opportunities that have existed in the past and the same pattern of social life, will be considered in the sermon of the week. Rabbi Shulman will indicate some of the trends toward which new adjustments may be necessary in the days to come.
Services at North Shore Congregational Israel begin at 11 o'clock and are open to visitors.
