Make Plans for First All-Lake County Salon

The Salon Committee of the Associated Camera Clubs of Lake County has completed plans for the first All-Lake County Salon. These plans were submitted to the membership of the association at its regular meeting on Monday evening, April 6, at St. John's Reformed Church, Waukegan.

If you have a camera and like to make pictures with it, and enjoy showing those pictures to your family and friends, and, if you have ideas of ways to express your feelings when looking at objects, scenery or people, and are fascinated by what shadows will do to the appearance of these subjects, you will be interested in the Salon.

The association, which is composed of many local organizations in several towns of the county, will exhibit the show at the Waukegan Public Library during the month of July. This exhibit is open to all amateur and professional photographers in the county. Its purpose is to promote interest in pictorial photography, which means that kind of photography wherein a picture tells a story or gives to the person seeing it something of the feeling and ideas of the maker.

Entries in the Lake County Salon are limited to 4 pictures from one person, each to be mounted on 16x20 inch mounting board, and accompanied by a 50-cent defense stamp. The stamps will be held by the Associated Camera Clubs of Lake County and not be converted into cash.

Competent judges will select 100 prints from those submitted and these will be exhibited in the library. Seals will be awarded to all exhibitors whose prints are hung in the show. Copies of the rules and entry blanks are now available and will be gladly sent to anyone interested. Write to the Secretary, LCACO, 846 Hickory St., Waukegan.

Among other business conducted at the meeting, Stanley Fry, of the North Chicago Club, announced that the Photorealist cup which was won by his club for having the most points in the annual exhibits would be placed in competition again. Chester Collymore, of the Zion Camera Club, has arranged to have 30 prints of members of the association placed in the display rooms of the Edison Camera Club, Chicago. These will be shown from May 18 to May 30.

By general assent the name of the association was changed to Lake County Association of Camera Clubs.

Following the business meeting, Harold Dodds presented a highly enjoyable talk about Mexico and illustrated it with Kodachrome pictures. The Lens Hawks, host club for the evening, served refreshments after the meeting.

Russian Medical Aid Group to Give Entertainment

A night of Russian entertainment for Chicagoans and suburbanites will be held Sunday, April 19, beginning at 5:00 P. M. at the YWCA, 59 East Monroe street, by the Rogers Park Committee for medical aid to Russia.

The program will include Slavic songs and dances by the Yugo-Slav Yavor Kolo ensemble; Hindu dances by the internationally famous Mme. Vera Mirova; Spanish dances by Inez Clavijo, and dancers from the studio of Mme. Jeanette Noel; and music by George Marchan, Claire Dinokour, and Fletcher Butler.

China Relief Week Observed April 11-19

Spurred by the message that "aid for China means aid for MacArthur," citizens of Highland Park and other communities throughout the Chicago area are joining a concerted nationwide drive to raise seven million dollars for China relief.

China Relief Week will be observed in Chicago and surrounding communities April 11 to 19, but the campaign to raise $7,000,000 as Cook County's contribution to the relief fund will continue until that goal has been reached, according to Silas H. Strawn, chairman of the executive committee of United China Relief, Inc.

At the meeting, 150 business and civic leaders from communities throughout the Chicago area were organized as a "flying wedge" to carry the drive forward. Money raised will be dispatched immediately by radio transfer of credit, if necessary—to American agencies in China for medical and health supplies, child welfare work, training of leaders and skilled workers, emergency relief and economic reconstruction.

Funds are being received by United China Relief at Room 1848, 310 South Michigan, Chicago.

100 FAT LADIES LOSE 20 LBS. EACH

In a clinical test just completed under the direction of Dr. G. E. Von Hoover in San Antonio, 100 overweight persons lost an average of 20 pounds each in the thirty days between January 2nd and February 2nd, 1942. One registered Nurse lost 29 pounds, and a Dietitian 30 pounds in the thirty days. All of these people used the new Arde vitamin candy reducing plan, which costs only $2.25 for a thirty-day supply, or $1.25 for a trial box, and is guaranteed to be absolutely pure and to contain no laxatives or drugs and to require no exercise. James Steenhill To Appear In 'Land Is Bright'

James Steenhill, who, prior to his graduation, was an active member of the Highland Park High Drama Club, will play a part in the mid-west premiere of "The Land Is Bright," the Kaufman-Ferber Broadway success which is being given at the Civic Theatre on Friday and Saturday, April 17th and 18th, by the Uptown Players.

This play depicts America's latter day history, and is divided into three panels each representing a different generation of the same family. In the first generation (1890) Lacey Kincaid has run a pickax into a $200,000 fortune. He cheats his partners, steals a railroad and builds a red-plush mansion. The second generation of Kincaids (1920) still believes that there is nothing that money can't fix. A daughter has become a European wastrel. A son has become a die-hard reactionary. Among the grandchildren are a philanderer and a consort of gangsters. Members of the third generation (1941) under the impact of a national crisis, rededicate their lives to the country that gave them their wealth.

It is no wonder, then, that "The Land Is Bright" rated such praise as "the season's first-rate show" by the New York critics.

In the cast will be such well-known little theatre actors as Marjorie Lamie, Marion Gibney, Howard Cox, Leslie J. Walker, Duke Watson, Bobbe Avery, Pat Fagen.

The production will be directed by James Bradley-Griffin who has attracted nation-wide attention as a dramatic recitalist.

All seats are reserved and are priced at $1.10, 83c and 55c including tax. For reservations phone Webster 2123.

Dr. B. Merrill To Address Sunday Evening Club

A new speaker will be heard at the meeting of the Sunday Evening Club in Orchestra Hall next Sunday, Dr. Boynton Merrill, former minister of Old South Church, Boston, and one of the leaders in the national work of the Congregational Church. He will speak at 8:00 on "In Quietness and in Confidence." Clifford W. Barnes, president of the Club will preside, and Colonel Robert G. Peck, a trustee, will also take part. A special music program by the choir of 125, starring Louisa Hoe in one of her most "requested numbers," "When Thou Comest" from Rossini's Stabat Mater, will precede the talk. Other selections, announced by Director Edgar Nelson are "He Sendeth the Springs into the Valleys" by Wareing and "The Glory of God in Nature" by Beethoven. Mark Love will sing "The Earth Is the Lord's" by Lynes.

Doug Fairbanks, Jr., Supurb in Thrilling Action Romance

With Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in a swashbuckling role that brings back memories of his father, "The Corsican Brothers," Edward Small's picturization of the Alexander Dumas novel, will have its first local showing Sunday at the Glencoe Theatre, through United Artists release. Swift action, thrilling drama, and all the romance of the Dumas novel are here, expertly directed by Gregory Ratoff, and given a superb production by Producer Edward Small. That the audience recognized "The Corsican Brothers" as top-notch entertainment, was evidenced by the enthusiastic reception that was given the film.

Swashbuckling Hero

In the dual role of the twin brothers, who seek revenge for the wrongs done their family by the Corsican tyrant of one hundred years ago, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. gives an exciting performance. He has no easy job, creating two separate characters who are different, yet alike in most respects. One, brought up in luxury, is a gay young man of the world. The other, raised as a bandit in the wilds of Corsica, is a dour and forbidding personality. Yet young Douglas Fairbanks manages to convey their likenesses as well as their differences, with an authenticity that is astounding.

Swift Action Scenes

In the scenes of action, the hard riding, the duels, and the fighting scenes, he is particularly good. Thrilling sword-play, vivid and exciting, carry the story along to a really great climax.

Special words of praise are due for the villains of the film. Akim Tamiroff, as the tyrant, and John Emery, as his lieutenant, are the very embodiment of evil. They are as fine a pair of wicked schemers as has been seen on the screen in a long time.

Superb Supporting Cast

Ruth Warrick, in the feminine lead, is comparatively a newcomer to motion pictures; but in this film, she gives ample evidence of her ability. She is a lovely creature, and she can act.

The stellar supporting cast includes, Henry Wilcoxon, Gloria Holden, J. Carroll Naish and H. B. Warner.

All in all, "The Corsican Brothers" adds up to entertainment plus. Fine production, brilliant direction, and the romance of an Alexandre Dumas story well told on the screen, spell screen entertainment that is liked by everyone.

de la Torre on Northwestern Golf Team

Manuel de la Torre of Highland Park who captained the Highland Park High School golf team which won state championships in 1939 and 1940 is one of the sophomores on the Northwestern University golf squad upon whom Coach Ted Payseur is counting to fill the gap left by the loss of five lettermen, two by graduation and three to the armed services.

De la Torre began his golf career at the age of two by playing an exhibition game for King Alfonso of Spain. He placed second in the Illinois State High School Golf Championship in 1939 and first in 1940. Last year he won the annual golf tournament at Northwestern.

The young golfer learned the game from his father who was open champion of Spain and instructor to King Alfonso until the family left Spain in 1936 at the time of the Civil War. His best round is a 67 at the Lake Shore Country Club at Glencoe, Ill. He is interested in a career in diplomatic work.

With a tough ten match schedule looming this spring Coach Ted Payseur is counting heavily on Payseur and John Stoltz, another promising sophomore, to bolster his team which has only two veterans returning from last year's squad. The first match will be against Indiana at Indianapolis on April 18.

Bob Harza Gets Class Numeral at NU

Robert Harza of Highland Park, Ill., was one of the members of the Northwestern University freshman wrestling squad to receive his class numerals this week in recognition of his outstanding work on the freshman team.

There were only ten numerals awarded to the freshmen and the Wildcats' varsity wrestling coaches are hoping to find some much needed replacement material from among these men whose showing merited the award of class numerals.

Dr. James W. Clarke of Presbyterian Theological Seminary, who this month has attracted large audiences to hear his stirring short talks, will give the third of a series on the Bible Parables. Doors open at 6:45. Admission is free.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

ROLAND YOUNG made up a novel "ten best" list the other day, between scenes of Columbia's "He Kissed the Bride"—a list of Hollywood's best scene-stealers. Being a gentleman, he spared the fair sex. Here are the performers he considers most dangerous to have in camera range while playing a big scene; Cary Grant, Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery, Charles Chaplin, James Gleason, Robert Benchley, Bob Hope, Allyn Joslyn, Edgar Kennedy and Daisy, the canine star. For your information, the best scene-stealers do the trick with their eyes and their hands, and are death to newcomers; put two together, and you have a battle royal.

Mickey Rooney, it seems, is considered adept at scene stealing, but according to Roland Young, his face lights up too much when he gets ready for a piece of business. In the Hardy pictures, Lewis Stone stops Mickey cold every time by dead-panning.

At last Richard Denning's actually going to appear in scenes with Dorothy Lamour; it's taken him three years. When she played in "Her Jungle Mate" he was an aviator flying over the jungle, searching for

RICHARD DENNING

Ray Milland. In "Disputed Passage" he had two scenes and two speeches, but not with her. Now, in "Beyond the Blue Horizon," tall, blond Denning steps out as Dorothy's love interest.

Billie Burke is one of those people who never throw away anything of sentimental interest. But the other day she told Joan Crawford, whose mother she plays in "He Kissed the Bride," that she was going to destroy most of the things she'd been saving. So she went home and pitched in—and the first old letter she opened was one from Enrico Caruso, written to her after she refused his proposal of marriage. (That was in the days when she didn't want her career cluttered up with matrimony.) The house cleaning stopped right where it had commenced.

Recalling the damaging effects of a terrific beating George Raft took in the original version of "The Glass Key," six years ago, Paramount executives have applied for $50,000 worth of insurance to cover possible damage to the handsome countenance of Alan Ladd, playing Raft's role in a re-make of the mystery thriller. Raft still bears the scars of the slugging administered by Guinn Williams.

William Holden's been grounded for the duration of "Meet the Stewarts." Director Al Green nearly collapsed when he found that Holden was spending his Sundays racing high-speed motorcycles at Muroc Dry Lake, and got studio permission to stop it.

Betty Winkler, of the air's "Abie's Irish Rose," and Vice President Wallace agree on one thing—that she can't speak Spanish. She auditioned for NBC's new "Down Mexico Way," and without warning was asked to learn a Spanish song from a record and sing it. When she heard the result she criticized it vehemently. Wallace was kinder when he heard the recorded show; just said "That girl cannot speak Spanish."

"Johnny Presents" Talullah Bankhead in evening gowns, only because her sponsor asked her to wear them instead of slacks when broadcasting. So now she changes in a special dressing room at the studio, and as soon as she's finished her stint, bowed and thrown kisses to the lads in the audience who are in uniform, she gets back into her own favorite uniform—slacks.

ODDS AND ENDS—Sammy Kaye, the band leader, is learning to skate since he accepted a leading role in Sonja Henie's next picture, "Iceland." At last Lionel Barrymore has a role he longs to play, that of Thaddeus Stevens, arch enemy of Andrew Jackson. . . . In "The Castles of Michigan" Cary Grant gets chased by six blood hounds, one of which captured conviction who escaped from the Arizona state penitentiary; at rehearsals that one always caught him. . . . Pat O'Brien's formed an "All Irish" club on the set of "He's My Old Man"—Pat's the only Irishman in it.
