

Notes of an Innocent Bystander:

The Story Tellers: Because of war-time economic difficulties, some mags have ceased publishing. One of the regrettable casualties is The Living Age...

The Editorial of the Week: (From the Memphis Commercial-Appeal): "Sedition laws need immediate re-examination for the purpose of giving them teeth. There is desperately needed a policy of government which will lump all traitors, seditionists, and subverters, whatever their citizenship status, into one category..."

The Front Pages: Editor & Publisher's thumbnail editorial: "If it's anything we can't print, you shouldn't be talking about it!"

A notorious Sixth Columnist argues that writers who pen malicious things about women in public life deserve to be shot... What a fraud! That from the Americanerfeit, who has made a career out of malice.

Scrambled Eggs: No matter how little you have you're rich if you envy nobody... The Indians who sold Manhattan for $21 weren't such goons. It didn't belong to them! The island had to be bought back again from the real owners...

The friends who are most deserving of your favors are those who were your friends before you were in a position to do them any... Nobody's ever perfectly content.

Next time anyone complains about cuffs trousers remind him that they don't wear 'em in the Army and Navy, either... The only actual talent possessed by many celebrities is the knack of getting their names in the papers...

Joan Edwards says that what the country needs most right now to win the war is a blockade around Japan and fewer blockheads around Washington... Comes the real blackout what happens to guys carrying torches?...

RAYON fabrics lose strength when wet. Never iron rayon until it's practically dry—or you'll injure the threads and shorten the life of the garment.

Invest the pennies you'll save by your careful handling of rayon in DEFENSE SAVINGS STAMPS, because you care for Democracy!

The SNAPSHOT GUILD MAKING PICTURE STORIES

Up's-a-daisy! Here's just one of the appealing pictures from a series showing the big events in a baby's day. Picture series, you'll find, are a more interesting than just single shots.

PERHAPS I'm wrong, but I think the reason most amateur photographers don't try to make picture stories—or series of pictures—is that they believe they lack the necessary equipment, or subject matter. Well, let me kill such rumors right now. The truth is you can make complete picture stories with any camera if you'll just try. Furthermore, you don't have to have a spectacular subject to make a good set of pictures.

ture was taken just after he'd had his bath and was about to be placed in a play pen out in the sun. Now you can't tell me that you couldn't make a series of pictures like that if you'd only try. It just takes a little forethought and planning. Here's what I suggest. The next time you select a subject for a snapshot, stop and think a minute before you press the shutter. Ask yourself, "How can I make a picture series out of this subject? What other scenes might tie right in with it and tell a more effective story?"
