Holy Name officers for the 1942-43 season will be trained to meet war time problems confronting their administrations in the parish unit at the Holy Name officers' training schools held June 20-28 in the Chicago archdiocese.

The leadership schools complete the 1941-42 Holy Name year, and are expressly designed to tutor newly elected officers in the art of being Holy Name leaders.

"During the past season, our Holy Name officers have brought to the organization its most successful year," said Rev. Edward J. Kelly, executive director of the Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name societies. "With the training of the newly elected and re-elected officers will receive at the leadership schools, we expect even greater achievements."

Due to the demands that war makes on individual leisure time, Holy Name men may choose to attend any one of seven sessions of the schools in any particular area.

Officers' training schools open with the first session on June 20, 2:30 p. m., at Loyola university, 6525 Sheridan rd., Chicago; on June 21, 2:30 p. m., Leo High school, 901 W. 79th St., Chicago; on June 23, 8 p. m., Our Lady of Sorrows parish, Jackson blvd. at Albany ave., Chicago; on June 25, 8 p. m., St. Agnes parish, 1515 Chicago rd., Chicago Heights; on June 26, 8 p. m., St. Anastasia parish, 624 Douglas ave., Waukegan; on June 27, 2:30 p. m., Sacred Heart parish, 114 S. Elizabeth St., Lombard; and on June 28, 2:30 p. m., Catholic High school, 29 N. Broadway, Joliet.

These schools are open to all officers, committee chairmen and members. Secretaries of parish branches are urged to register their officers and committee chairmen before June 17.

Parishes who expect to attend from this area are: Immaculate Conception, Highland Park; St. James, Highwood, and Holy Cross, Deerfield.

Bob Hope To Play Exhibition Golf Match June 17

Bob Hope, radio and screen comedian, who takes his golf seriously, will play an exhibition match with Bobby Jones at Ridgemoor Country Club on Wednesday afternoon, June 17. The Hollywood jester advised Bobby he would fly to Chicago from New York after his broadcast on Tuesday and join the famous Atlanta for 18 holes. Word is awaited from the East to learn whether Hope will confine his golf to the match with Jones; or will he be an active contestant with Bing Crosby, his Hollywood golfing pal, for the four days (June 18-21) of the Hale American National Open Golf Tournament.

The Chicago District Golf Association, through its tournament chairman, Larry Rutherford, advised the Rotary Club and Chicago Association of Commerce that Jones would arrive in Chicago on June 16 to appear as guest speaker at special luncheons given for the Hale America Open. The Rotary luncheon is scheduled for Tuesday, June 16, and the Association of Commerce luncheon for June 17. In addition to Jones, the other speakers will be Francis Quimet, Sammy Snead, Byron Nelson, Tommy Armour, and Horton Smith.

The $4.00 season ticket, good for the four day tournament and three days (June 15-17) practice rounds, have been placed on sale at all golf clubs in the Chicago District. The sale will end at midnight, Wednesday, June 17. Most active in the advance ticket sale are the women of the Chicago District, under the guidance of Mrs. Gilmore Mellor of the C. D. G. A., and Mrs. F. A. Bunte of the W.W.G.A. Advance ticket Sale Chairman, John R. Hackett of Glen Oak C. C. reported that the advance sale has already exceeded that of any tournament held in Chicago under the C. D. G. A.

Screen Comedy Is Glorified By Romantic Stars

The infectious swing to comedy in full cry in the film industry and critically in demand by theatre audiences has caught up with Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullivan.

From Universal studios hotspot in the hilarity sector and site of the hysterical antics of such outstanding clowns as Abbott and Costello, Olsen and Johnson, and W. C. Fields, comes "Appointment for Love" to open Sunday at the Glencoe theatre with Boyer and Miss Sullivan as its co-stars.

Remembered in Drama
Boyer and Miss Sullivan, heretofore noted as two of the foremost exponents of screen pathos in the form of highly romantic and emotional drama, are cued by Director William A. Seiter through a racy, sparkling modern comedy-drama in the newcomer. The play is a forthright, though sometimes sophisticated, appeal to the risibilities of audiences wanting release from drab daily headlines.

Set on Broadway and against Manhattan's arresting skyline, "Appointment for Love" presents the suavely nonchalant Mr. Boyer as an eminently successful playwright who turns his back on cafe society to stage a merry chase for the hand of chic but wholly professional Miss Sullivan. Miss Sullivan, enacts the role of a New York doctor and surgeon who refuses to permit sentiment to push scientific theory out to the spotlight.

Emotional Nonsense
The tale is steeped in nonsense with a heart. The roles of its principals are a turnabout for both, who will be recalled most recently for their hit performances together in "Back Street." Revealed are opportunities for Boyer to cash in on a flair for farce for which he was noted in Paris, and Miss Sullivan's like talents which were widely exploited on the American stage before she came to pictures.

No accident, the teaming of Boyer and Sullivan in a romantic comedy was outgrowth of suggestion to the pair by Producer Bruce Manning,

Jean Brand Becomes Bride of Dr. Lee Lewis

Jean Brand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Brand, 217 Bell ave., was married Monday afternoon in Bethany Evangelical church to Dr. Lee Lewis, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lee Lewis of Detroit.

Following the wedding ceremony, at which the Rev. Lester H. Laubenstein officiated, a reception was held in Hearthstone house, Winnetka.

WILLIAM M. DUNBAR

Private funeral services were held in Highland Park Monday afternoon for William MacInnis Dunbar, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. MacInnis Dunbar of Bannockburn. William died Saturday in the Highland Park hospital from blood poisoning. Surviving is a sister Dianne.

handled them so astutely in "Back Street" and at that time proposed their reunion in streamlined, modern "Appointment for Love." Both stars fell enthusiastically in with Manning's proposal and their new play was written precisely to take full advantage of the pair's talents.

Discards Dignity
Boyer tosses dignity wholly aside in interpreting the playwright's role. He plays volunteer fireman, connects with a black eye in a fistic melee and otherwise comports himself unconventionally if not undignifiedly. Miss Sullivan is chily responsive to the mood of farcial piece as the career woman who seeks to push domesticity into the background in favoring her professional activity.

Lining up with the stars is an unusually talented cast which includes Rita Johnson as "the other woman," Eugene Palette as Boyer's play producer and confidant, Ruth Terry as an uninhibited member of cafe society with a yen for Boyer and Reginald Denny as a fast-talking rival of Boyer's for Miss Sullivan's affections.

YOUR CITY GOVERNMENT: WHAT IT IS DOING

By Elmore M. Murphy

"The Rains Came" might be an appropriate title for a large part of the discussion at Monday evening's council meeting. As is usually the case when old J. Pluvius cuts loose with one of his typical down pours the wails of those unfortunate citizens who live west of Green Bay Road were both long and vociferous. The writer does not wish to appear facetious by indulging in wise cracks at the fate of the water dwellers in the western reaches of our fair city. Your columnist lived in those parts himself for the better part of two years and knows first hand what it is to wade around in three feet of water every time it rained more than a mere drizzle.

We dislike being repetitious but we again wish to point out that an adequate drainage system in this part of town is the only satisfactory solution. It may help the harassed property owner to work off surplus steam to call the City Hall when his basement begins to resemble the streets of Venice but he isn't going to get much in the way of relief simply because under existing condition the city is powerless to effect a remedy.

This brings us back to the proposition of starting the ball rolling toward eventually getting an honest to goodness drainage system for the west side of the city. Your writer is cognizant of the fact that million dollar drainage systems just don't grow on trees but he also feels sure that the road to the realization of this dream is not as rocky as it would appear at first glance.

Some contend that a preliminary survey of sufficient extent to get such a project on the Public Works Reserve list would cost upwards of $5,000. I believe that a thorough investigation of the possibilities of the situation will reveal that it can be done for considerably less money. It has been estimated that the first Public Works program has cost the country some $30.00 per capita. It takes no wizard at figures to come to the conclusion that unless a city the size of Highland Park has received at least $600,000 in federal funds for public works it is coming out on the short end of the deal. Some cities have received as much as $100 per capita in FWA grants. To this writer's knowledge Highland Park has yet to receive its first dollar from this source. Those close to the picture in Washington contend that any community that hasn't one or two projects on file at the Public Works Reserve headquarters is missing an opportunity to get back at least a portion of the funds it is going to have to pay in taxes. I think the time has arrived for Highland Park to get on the band wagon. Why help pay for a garbage disposal plant in Fort Worth, Texas or a water works in Podunk, Iowa when we are so badly in need of public improvements in this town.

The east side of town did not come through the recent rains completely unscathed. Commissioner Swanson stated that numerous unpaved drive ways were washed into the streets and down the drains all over town. This situation again brings up the question of compulsory paving of approaches. It also calls attention to the fact that Highland Park is woefully lacking in proper curbs. Commissioner Sharp pointed out that proper curbing and the corresponding protection of sewer heads would go a long way towards conserving tires and automobile wheels. It is a constant source of amazement to the visitor to Highland Park to find a city of such apparent wealth so lacking in what other communities would call the necessities of civic existence.

On the brighter side of the ledger Commissioner Sharp stated that the beautification program of the incinerator property would shortly get under way. This is indeed welcome news to those of us who have long felt the need of such an improvement.

Now that the Safety Lane is in operation all motorists are urged to make use of its facilities to see that their cars are in good driving condition. Some of the ancient jalopies and broken down taxi cabs running around town could well afford a check up at this time.

An interesting sidelight on the effect of the war on home construction was brought to light with the reading of the building report for the month of May. Last year during May construction permits totaled over $190,000. This year the figure for May showed only a few thousand dollars spent for construction and remodeling work. The city's revenue from construction permits has practically disappeared for the duration.

Commissioner Sharp stated that the bicycle rack situation at the railroad stations was now well in hand. All that is needed now is a little education on the part of the city's cyclists to use the facilities provided for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hepry Getz, 64 Clifton avenue, entertained Alexander Schneider and Mischa Schneider, members of the Budapest String ensemble, at their home over the weekend. The two musicians were enroute to Denver, where they are on concert tour.

REPORT OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 7.

The Golden Text was, "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is" (Acts 4: 24).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth" (Psalms 104).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The creative Principle - Life, Truth, and Love-is God. The universe reflects God. There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God" (p. 502).
