

Draft Boards To Eliminate Limited Service Classes

Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois director of selective service, explained the change whereby all registrants now classified in I-B, I-B-O and IV-E-LS, are to be reclassified by their local boards.

"These classes," Colonel Armstrong stated, "have been eliminated and all local boards have been instructed to reopen the classification of registrants so classified and place them in either Class I-A or IV-E, unless it is found that occupation or dependency should put them in other deferred classifications, or, if a man is entirely unfit for military service, the board will place him in classification IV-F."

Will Reclassify

"Likewise," the Colonel continued, "any man now placed in I-B (suspended) because of a remedial defect, will be reclassified."

"A new 'List of Defects' will soon reach the local boards to assist in the determination of classification. If a registrant has been rejected because of a defect appearing in this new list, he will be placed in IV-F. If the defect is not shown, he will be reclassified and placed in I-A and will be subject to army physical examination and induction, or, if reclassified in IV-E, he will be available for assignment to a national work camp."

Possible Gas Rationing Forgotten In Traffic

With the threat of gasoline rationing dangling over their heads like the sword of Damocles, Illinois motorists should voluntarily exert every effort to ward off the impending blow, urges the Illinois Automobile club. Only by the most careful driving, thereby conserving tire rubber, and a material reduction in consumption of gasoline can the motorists of the middle west, including Illinois, hope to escape drastic rationing such as has already been imposed on the eastern seaboard states, warns the club.

The threat of gasoline rationing in midwestern states has been based on the need to save rubber and motorists have been constantly urged to co-operate by driving slower—not over 40 miles an hour, driving more carefully so as not to injure their tires, reducing the use of their cars, eliminating all unnecessary driving and by adopting the share-a-ride plan wherever practicable.

In The Nation's Service

Chandler W. Johnson, of Highland Park, is among a group of 212 officers selected by the U. S. Marine corps for temporary promotion to the grade of lieutenant colonel, according to word received from Washington.

Among those included in the list for advancement are several officers who are either missing in action or prisoners of war and whose promotions consequently cannot become effective at present.

Colin Campbell Sanborn of Highland Park, who is curator of mammals at the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago, has been commissioned a lieutenant, senior grade, in the U. S. navy. Lieut. Sanborn served with the army in the last war, when he was a member of the 149 field artillery, Rainbow division. He joined the staff of the museum in 1912, and has participated in many of the museum's important zoological expeditions in South America, exploring, conducting research and collecting specimens in Chile, Brazil, Uruguay, Paraguay and Argentina. In 1938 he won a Guggenheim foundation fellowship in science, and went to Europe to conduct special research.

Employees of Large Company Allots More Than 10% for Bonds

Employees of Stewart-Warner corporation are believed to be the first, of U. S. companies employing over 7,500 workers, to allot more than ten per cent of their weekly earnings for war bond purchases, it was announced by Norman B. Collins, state administrator, U. S. Treasury department, war savings division.

The company, which is engaged 100 per cent in war production and is one of the largest manufacturers of shell fuzes, has been active in support of the war bond program since its inception.

The payroll allotment plan was first "tried out" by the treasury department at the Chicago plant of Stewart-Warner corporation. Five days after the plan was inaugurated, and the company had set up a special bookkeeping procedure to record purchases, more than 96 per cent of the personnel had voluntarily made allotments.

Limit Is Set on Transportation of Family, Effects

Beginning this month and continuing for the duration of the war, dependents and household effects of army personnel and civilian employees of the war department will be moved at government expense only once, the war department has announced.

This decision was reached officers said, because the necessity of frequent transfer of army and civilian personnel in the tremendously expanded military establishment threw an intolerable burden upon the transportation system.

It was pointed out that the man-hours of effort required to move household goods and dependents must be directed to more useful ends.

Previous Rule

Previously, dependents and household goods of authorized army and civilian personnel had been moved at government expense upon each permanent change of station.

The new regulation will not deprive authorized personnel of government aid if they are required to move in a mass evacuation of a specified area after their dependents and household goods have been moved once at government expense.

Bomb 'em with JUNK

Let's blast Japan—and Germany—and Italy—with the chain lightning of destruction that can be built from the scrap in our cellars, attics and garages, on our farms and in our places of business.

Scrap iron and steel, other metals, rubber and waste materials. It will all be used to make tanks, ships, planes and the fighting weapons our boys must have. It is needed at once.

Sell it to a Junk dealer—give it to a charity or collection agency—take it yourself to the nearest collection point—or consult the Local Salvage Committee... If you live on a farm, and have found no means of disposing of your Junk, get in touch with the County War Board or your farm implement dealer.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

WOMAN'S MAN POWER

This week our hats are off to the men in our war industries for a job well done, but a salute to women is in order, too, for the numerous tasks required to maintain these little bulwarks of our nation's healthy, happy working homes. Here are some ideas to help her plan easier, healthier lunches for that great army of war workers, and the children who start back to school this month.

A LUNCH-BOX MEAL

GELA SEALD MEAT LOAF ON WHOLE WHEAT BREAD with Lettuce, Dill Pickles
DEVILED CLEAR BROOK EGGS
CARROT STRIPS
FRESH PLUMS
HOT RUSSIAN CHOCOLATE IN THERMOS
