

YOUNG MAN ABOUT TOWN

by Whitt N. Schultz

Highland Park Dads

Highland Parkers, much has been written about Mothers — and rightly so.

Find me finer or better Mothers than those we have in Highland Park. Just try. You can't. Anywhere. You know that. I know it, too.

Highland Park Dads

Now, to the subject of the day. Dads.

Fathers. Dad's the fellow who pays the bills. Yes, we know that. But he's also the fellow who is sensitive to pain, but because he's a real man he can grapple with it and frequently overwhelm the pain that cuts deepest.

He's the man who will be stern with his son.

Extremely stern. But then, after his son has driven off in the family car, Dad will say a prayer. And he'll pray deeply and inwardly. A prayer that counts. He'll pray that his son will be safe. Heroic. Contented. Successful.

Commuter

And he's the man who reads the morning paper as he rides the suburban train into the city. Yes, he reads about the war, the ships sunk, the airplanes downed — and he breathes in deeply, murmuring to himself how he hopes his Bill was not on the sunken merchant ship or in that big bomber crash.

He says these things silently to himself. But he feels them. So much.

Family First Always

And he's the one who puts his family foremost. That is, Highland Park Dads do. And that's what we're interested in here and now.

Dads are taken too much for granted.

For some reason we feel Dad will always be here to give advice, to help, and to act as a bank and a sympathetic creditor.

But Dad won't be here always.

We, the younger generation, are forcing him off the stage. But Dad is a mellow fellow. And he can take it. He keeps tottering along. He's leaving a little more shaving cream behind his ears now. And he's spending more time raking up the leaves and burning them.

Good Percentage Of Registrations For Nov. 3 Election

According to County Clerk Jay B. Morse, registration in Lake County was a successful affair, with a good percentage of the voters registering.

In the entire county there were 54,572 registrations; in Deerfield Township, 8,407, and West Deerfield Township, 1,768. About 80 per cent of the Highland Park residents registered, he stated, which is approximately the same amount of voters in the city, with the exception of the presidential election.

There will be no more registration days until the day of election, Nov. 3, when voters may register at their regular polling places. Although they must register for the Nov. 3 election, this will not be a full registration and voters must register in Waukegan before the next election in 1944.

Parties for Service Men Given Each Week at Temple

The work of providing entertainment for soldiers and sailors at Fort Sheridan and Great Lakes at the North Shore Congregation Israel, Glencoe, is being carried on by the North Shore Army and Navy committee of the Jewish Welfare board—U.S.O. of which Mrs. Milton H. Grauer is chairman.

Parties for service men are given each Friday evening in the temple lounge immediately following the religious service conducted in the chapel at Fort Sheridan.

Mrs. B. L. Stein of Glencoe is chairman of this project and those interested in serving as party hostesses either individually or jointly are asked to telephone her at Glencoe 1312, or to call Bert Horowitz, North Shore staff representative of the J.W.B.-U.S.O. at H. P. 3691.

Candidates Meeting Planned In Evanston

The Evanston League of Women Voters will hold a candidates meeting to which residents of all North Shore towns are invited on Monday, Oct. 19, at 8 p. m. in the social hall of the Evanston high school.

The candidates who have been invited to speak include Messrs. Adamowski, Bairstow, Brooks, Church, Day and McKeough. Prof. A. H. Hahne of Northwestern university will preside at the meeting.

The Country Mind

He's learning to depend on his country mind — that part of him which sees and reacts positively to beauty and simplicity.

He's living his life through his son. Perhaps Dad didn't have all the "advantages." Money. A comfortable, worry-free home. Automobiles. Education. But do you think Highland Park Dads deprive their sons of benefits they've done without?

No. Definitely not.

Self-sacrificing

Rather, Dad's feeling is one of sacrifice — sacrifice until it pinches and stings. He wants his family happy. And he makes them that way.

Highland Park Dads are not average. They're high above. And they're different. And that originality should be preserved. Always.

How?

There are ways. . . . For example, we can praise him.

We can tell him how proud we are that he has made his mark; that he has kept his mind clear, noble, and idealistic. We can honestly and sincerely compliment him on his abilities, on his driving determination to keep the bills paid, food on the table, and money in the bank. We can praise his on these accomplishments. And we should. Now. And always.

Highland Park Dads have vividly seen the bleak, the bawdy, the obscene. Yet they have come back saying YES to life, to people, and to Nature. This in itself is a goal. And deserving of praise.

Alright.

That's enough.

There is much more to say.

You say it.

But, Highland Parkers, let's remember Dad.

Let's bolster his ego. He's always bolstering ours!

Series of Eight Children's Shows To Be Presented

A new series of eight shows called the Glencoe Children's playhouse starts its season at Central school in Glencoe on Saturday, Oct. 24, at 2:30 p. m.

The recreation committee, headed by Mrs. Oscar Rome, announces that magic, juggling, drama, musical, movies sponsored by the Field museum, a troupe of performing animals and another of marionettes will be featured during the season.

The recreation states that the series is a community project. The name was suggested in a school-wide contest, won by Gina Guttmann and Loraine Levy of North school. Eighth grade boys and girls will be ushers, and Glencoe mothers will supervise every performance. Doors will open at 2 o'clock and children may be called for at 4 o'clock.

Tickets on Sale

The sale of tickets opened Oct. 12 and will continue until Oct. 16 from 8:30 to 9 a. m. and from 12:45 to 1 p. m. Season tickets are for the series of eight shows.

Scheduled to appear are the following: "Hansel and Gretel," the Proctor Puppets, Oct. 24; "The Adventures of Chico," a movie on Nov. 14; "Doodle Dandy of the U.S.A.," Junior Program's patriotic musical Nov. 26, Thanksgiving night, at 7:30 o'clock; an animal show on Dec. 12; Bob Lotz, magician, and Bill Talent, juggler, Jan. 16; Jack and Jill players in a new drama, Jan. 30; "King of the Sierras," a movie, Feb. 20, and a surprise show on Mar. 6.

The series is open to all children and candy will be given away at each performance. Tickets for children outside of Glencoe may be obtained at Woodland Grocery, Hubbard Woods, or Neild's Sport shop, 17 Sheridan road, Highland Park.

Red Cross Continues Children's Work

The Red Cross will continue to work on children's clothes and hospital dressings at the Highland Park Woman's club tomorrow Friday from 9:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. Coffee will be furnished to workers who can stay all day.

There is a need for additional sewing machines. Anyone who will loan a foot pedal or electric sewing machine to the Red Cross, notify Mrs. Malcolm Vail, chairman, or Mrs. L. C. Schultz, co-chairman.

Religious Conference To Be Held Friday At National College

"Building Sure Foundations" is the theme for an all-day conference on utilizing community resources for religious development, sponsored by and to be held at National College of Education, Evanston, on Friday, Oct. 16.

Edna Dean Baker, president of National College of Education, in extending the invitation for this conference which is the second of its kind to be held by the college, said: "All of us who deal with children and young people in the home, in day schools, camps, or in church schools, sense the added strain and insecurity these days are bringing them. It taxes our own deepest resources to meet their needs at all adequately. We are hoping to gain from the conference a mutual acquaintance and understanding of our common problems and the part each can best contribute toward their solution."

The conference is open to all parents, public and private school teachers and administrators, church school workers, ministers, workers in character building agencies, such as camps, settlement houses, etc. Registration may be made through National college.

'Victory' Subject Of Rabbi's Sermon

Rabbi Richard C. Hertz, who is serving North Shore Congregation Israel, Glencoe, as Rabbi Charles E. Shullman's assistant, will speak on "The Price of Victory" for the regular services at the temple on Sunday morning, Oct. 18, at 11 o'clock.

In his sermon Rabbi Hertz will dwell on the spirit that makes people valiant in a time of struggle such as American is now entering.

Services are conducted every Sunday morning at the temple, Lincoln and Vernon avenues, Glencoe, and visitors are always welcome.

USO-Salvation Army

346 Waukegan Ave., Highwood, Ill.
Maj. Ira J. Fitzpatrick, Director

It would be hard to say which made the bigger hit at the unit on Monday evening of this week—the famous Aunt Jemima with her remarkable personality or her delectable pancakes. The latter were pronounced by the guests to be the best they had ever tasted. During the evening Aunt Jemima and her assistants sang old-time southern melodies in which they were joined by the service men, led by Cpl. Joseph Attanasio, headquarters cadre. Later Cpl. Attanasio gave several solo numbers.

On Tuesday evening the Winnetka civilian defense group furnished entertainment and refreshments. A ladies' trio, consisting of Evelyn Lebin, Helen Kindt and Janet Ray of Highland Park, sang familiar songs and Erma Barret gave several popular numbers. Games and prizes were provided by the junior hostesses.

Program for the week is as follows: THURSDAY, Oct. 15: Jasmine Sesso, of Highland Park, with her accordion. Service in initialing bill-folds, wallets, pens and pencils. Coffee club at 10 o'clock.

FRIDAY, Oct. 16: Special movie feature. Coffee at 10 p. m.

SATURDAY, Oct. 17: Afternoon instruction in crafts for wives of servicemen. Keeno and prizes in the evening. Service in initialing. Coffee at 10.

SUNDAY, Oct. 18: Open house. Vespers at 7 with Highland Park Methodist church. Coffee at 10.

MONDAY, Oct. 19: Instruction in crafts in afternoon. Initialing service in evening. Special entertainment and refreshments by group from Evanston.

TUESDAY, Oct. 20: Instruction in hobby and camera craft. Entertainment by members of Fay Ebberson's School for Whistlers—Chicago—and vocalist. Coffee at 10.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 21: Entertainment and refreshments by J. W. B. group under the supervision of Mrs. Roy Wyle of Highland Park.

America's Strength and Highland Park

The United States is in the midst of the greatest and most all-embracing war in its history, a war in which this country must be victorious if the principles of liberty, justice and democracy are to prevail in the future.

To win this war, the efforts of every citizen are required. Throughout the nation, every community must be integrated into the war effort, its production assuring a continuous flow of war materials and its citizenship strong and well balanced to meet the tremendous duties and responsibilities which are rapidly falling upon it.

In this great effort, Highland Park, has a very definite part. To this end, the strength of individuals and families, physical and mental, must be kept at the highest possible point in order that they may do their jobs well and effectively.

The Highland Park Community Chest, a time-tested organization for the support of 12 social and welfare agencies vital to the bodily strength and morale of thousands of residents of this city and vicinity, has its place in the war program. It does this in the true democratic way—the American way—by the voluntary support of these agencies and institutions.

These agencies are particularly vital to the community at all times and especially now in view of the threatening dangers ahead. All contribute indirectly to the war effort and these contributions will increase the longer the war lasts. Every agency has and is adopting its program to the new war-created needs of the city.

Instead of many community problems diminishing under the impact of rising payrolls, they are increasing and must be met as they arise if the city is to continue to have strength for its share in the national effort.

The nearness of Highland Park to two of the nation's large military training centers has brought new and added problems. More money has brought increased family problems—and neglected children are the result. Overstrain, fatigue and loneliness are taking a toll among individuals and families. These are but a few of the factors which are bringing new demands on the services of agencies devoted to character building, to the protection of young people, to the providing of social, emotional and recreational outlets for large numbers of the city's residents in this first year of war.

Designed to provide service to maintain the physical strength, the moral well-being and the character of individuals and families at the highest possible level, the member agencies which derive their support from the Chest are staffed by experts trained in solving the problems which are now on the rise.

These services supplement the work of the churches and the schools and do not duplicate services provided by tax-supported agencies. They represent the services which no other organizations are equipped to give with any degree of efficiency. They are indispensable to the well-being of Highland Park and its citizens.

Your support of these agencies through the Chest was needed before the war. It is needed even more now. The appeal is to you to ensure this support at the time when the city requires the services of these agencies the most.
