

What's Doing In Deerfield

Barbara Ashman, daughter of Lewis Ashman, Deerfield Road, has been elected the secretary-treasurer of Hathaway Hall at Frances Shimer college for this school year. Hathaway is one of the dormitories, and its officers control the student affairs and problems for its members.

George Haws and Frank Stuppel are now stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson announce the birth of a daughter, born Oct. 3 at the Highland Park hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Ott Sr. and Mrs. Julius Johnson of Deerfield.

Mrs. J. G. Neeyers of Madison, Wis., former Deerfield resident, announces the marriage of her daughter, Dorothy, to John A. Cochran at Las Vegas, Nevada, on Sept. 20.

Grant-Knox Football Game To Be Gala Event

The Camp Grant vs Fort Knox football game scheduled for Dyche stadium in Evanston, Saturday Oct. 31, is expected to be a gala event in fall season sports.

Not only are coaches Lieutenant Glen Rose of Camp Grant and George Bach of Fort Knox priming their men for a supreme effort on that day, but the commanding officers of both camps are trying to make the day an exceptional one in reward to the twelve North Shore towns that are sponsoring the game as a North Shore army celebration.

Special Ceremonies
Special flag raising ceremonies participated in by ranking officers in the Sixth Corps area are planned, together with special exercises by the Camp Grant drill team. The drill squad will perform maneuvers that will give the residents of the North Shore an inside glimpse of the army drills. The program will be further augmented by the appearance of Camp Grant's band now engaged in preparing a special musical program for the Oct. 31 celebration.

Lieutenant Colonel Frank A. Bush, infantry officer of Camp Grant and in charge of the program hopes to also have his Camp Grant soldiers Glee club available for the half-time ceremonies at Dyche stadium that Saturday afternoon.

Ticket offices have been opened in every North Shore town.

Public Service Employs Women Meter Readers

With over 600 men employees now in the armed forces and more going every month, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois is preparing to meet war's demand on manpower by training a carefully selected group of young women as meter readers.

Already five girls are in training, three in Joliet and two in Maywood, and if the experiment works out as expected they will soon be making their rounds in selected residential areas of suburban and northern Illinois towns — the first women meter readers of World War II.

To qualify, all passed strict mental and physical tests, and upon completion of their training will read meters in Maywood, Oak Park, River Forest, Forest Park, Kankakee, Pontiac, and Joliet.

If the experiment works, more girls may be added to replace men called to the colors, company officials said.

Tops on the variety show program staged last Saturday night at the Highland Park USO club were Julian and Marion Stripe, a husband and wife singing team. They sang individually and followed their program with duets, accompanied at the piano by Shirley Waldorf.

Both walk with the aid of crutches as a result of infantile paralysis; are well known on the North Shore. Mr. Stripe, tenor and his wife, soprano, sing with the choir at the Second Presbyterian church in Evanston.

Mr. Stripe at one time won first prize as a tenor at the Chicagoland Music festival. Mrs. Stripe has sung for President Roosevelt; volunteered her services in an air-flight across country selling infantile paralysis seals. Both contribute to the war effort by singing on programs given for men in service.

Mrs. Theresa Cook Brown sponsored the variety show.
Last Sunday evening at the Highland Park USO club hearty applause was given to Paul Klickman, 13-year old violinist and Miss Norma Gordon, vocalist.

Two Local Girls Take Part In Mills College Production

Two Highland Park girls are playing an active part in preparations for the presentation of "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream" to be given by the Mills college Drama association on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 23 and 24.

One of the leading roles is being played by Patricia Haynes. She will take the part of Oberon in the whimsical play by William Shakespeare, which is the annual play given by the California college.

Jean Gutmann is a member of the business staff of the production.

Patricia Haynes
According to Marian Long Stebbins, director, the campus has not included the play for more than a decade because the film production was shown so extensively throughout the country. The Mills production, she states, may be more in line with the conception of Shakespeare, when the play was given in the last years of the sixteenth century.

Plans Being Made For Senior Party

Plans are being completed for the senior class party at the Highland Park high school, which will be given Nov. 20. Officers of the senior class are: William E. Mann, president; Constance Koebelin, vice president; Harry Pertz, secretary-treasurer, and Pete Florsheim, social chairman.

Friday afternoon, Oct. 16, from 2 to 5 o'clock, the Wives club will meet at the Highland Park USO club. Mrs. W. F. Einbecker announces this week's program will feature pictures of the south by Mrs. E. W. Sundell, from the Smokies to Key West, including some famous Southern gardens.

The new handicraft teacher for the Wives club is Miss Patricia Bennit of the art department at the Highland Park high school.

Wives of service men, nurses and defense workers are cordially invited to attend.

Tonight (Thursday) at 8:30 o'clock there will be a special party for the 405th, new men in service. Entertainment will include Seth Davis, 8 year old (youngest drummer in the world) and Virginia Wilson, soloist. Dancing will be to Andy Jacob's orchestra.

Tabulations Made Of All Share-The-Ride Replies

'Junior Miss' Is Comedy Hit At Harris Theatre

Now entertaining large audiences nightly at the Harris theatre in Chicago is "Junior Miss," one of the latest stage comedies that has come west from Broadway in many seasons. After this play had enjoyed ten solid months in New York, its producer, Max Gordon, organized a special cast to present it in Chicago. Now entering its fourth week there it undoubtedly will remain at the Harris until Thanksgiving and beyond.

Vivid Imagination

The comedy revolves around a young girl, Judy Graves, whose movie-fed imagination causes her to dramatize everything she sees or hears in terms of motion pictures she has attended, thereby getting her family and friends into difficulties at once serious and ludicrous. Lenore Thomas, who plays the title character, has made one of the biggest hits that a youngster ever achieved in Chicago.

Among the other well-known players in the large and talented cast are Lois Wilson, Eddie Nugent, Harry Ellerbe, Loring Smith, Adrienne Marden, Doro Merande, Eileen Clarence and Sandra Holman. Performances are given nightly including Sundays and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Chamber of Commerce Has F. B. I. Program

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Highland Park Chamber of Commerce was held last Tuesday evening at the Open House Tea Room.

Special agent R. P. Baldwin of the Chicago office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was the guest speaker and after tracing in an interesting manner the development and growth of this law enforcement agency, showed a sound film, "Men of the FBI."

The election of the Nominating committee took place and the following members were elected. Howard Moran, Chairman; Lloyd Sheahan, Henry Siljestrom, Nels Dahl, Howard Huber, Robert Denzel and Karl Hansen. It shall be their duty to select the officers and directors for the coming year and to make their report at the regular November meeting of the Chamber.

A complete tabulation has been made of all the replies to the transportation survey sent out regarding the forming of riding groups by the Share-the-Ride committee headed by Robert Leopold.

The detailed tabulation sheets contain the names of those interested in joining groups, together with the morning and evening trains they take and includes those who are interested in joining shopping, church or school riding groups.

The next step, according to the committee, is to appoint a transportation coordinator in each precinct, who will be in charge of all problems arising in his neighborhood. It is planned to form a women's committee to work under the coordinator.

Display Stickers

Stickers, as shown in the accompanying cut, will be issued to all members of riding groups and they should be placed on the rear window of the car. All members should display a sticker.

It will, states Mr. Leopold, take considerable time to personally contact everyone in town regarding these groups, but he plans to begin notifying people by mail, listing others in their immediate neighborhood who have formed such groups. It may be impossible for some people to locate a group which fills their particular needs, but in that case, they are asked to notify the Share-the-Ride committee and they will be told when a suitable group is started.

In a survey made last week, it was found that there were only 92 cars at the 8:10 a. m. train, as compared to 169 in March.

Called to Springfield

Mr. Leopold was called to Springfield last Saturday to confer with Wesley W. Polk, chief highway engineer for the state of Illinois and acting chairman of the Illinois state highway traffic advisory committee. He presented his plans to the highway department who offered their praise for the complicated details and stated that Highland Park was the only city in the state, to their knowledge, which had worked out such a satisfactory arrangement for sharing rides. Groups are being started now in Lake Forest and Glencoe, under the Highland Park plan.

It is planned to establish an office in the near future, in the Community center, where the committee will provide information to interested persons.

Dick Nelson, 829 Forest avenue, is a member of the Lawrence college homecoming committee, which is planning the homecoming to be held on Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24. The feature of the annual affair is the Lawrence-Coe football game on Saturday afternoon.

Help save TELEPHONE TIME for Uncle Sam

IN ALL-OUT WAR, things of a purely social nature must give way to those which will directly contribute to the nation's Victory.

That is as true of Long Distance telephone calls as it is of any other part of our everyday life.

Supplying the vast stores of equipment needed by our fighting men requires constant telephone communication. So does the actual directing of our Army, Navy and Air Force.

Enough telephone lines must be kept clear at all times for messages vital to the winning of the war.

One way YOU can help is by planning exactly what you want to say before you make a Long Distance call so you can be as brief as possible — especially on Long Distance calls going outside the state.

Help save telephone time for Uncle Sam by limiting your use of Long Distance as much as possible.
