

What's Doing In Deerfield

Deerfield Schools Working Hard To Put Over Bond Sales

The schools of West Deerfield Township are working hard to put over the sales of War savings stamps, with the help of their sponsors in the Mothers' Club. At the Wilmot school on each Wednesday before session begins, a member of the Mothers' Club will be on hand to superintend the sale of stamps. Wilmot has an enrollment of 70 pupils, and from all accounts will make a good record. $9.00 in sales is already accredited to their efforts.

Plans are being made to sell Christmas stamp corsages at their Christmas program to be held on Tuesday evening, December 17, to which all parents of the children and all others interested will be invited.

Mrs. R. F. Hamill, principal of the Bannockburn school, reports that her children worked very hard last week, with the result that their sales amounted to $22.05.

Mrs. George Jacobs, in charge of the bond and stamp sales at the booths in the business district assisted by members of the American Legion Auxiliary, turned in sales to the amount of $47.25 in bonds and stamps. The booths were temporarily placed in four places of business, and opened for several hours during the last three days of the week. Mrs. Jacobs states that they hope to increase their sales materially when their present plans are carried out.

The West Deerfield Township War Savings Committee with Edward A. Reagan as chairman, is making every effort to reach its quota, and asks every citizen to help in this most vital project so that when the statistics for December are released by the Treasury Department, the Township may make a good showing.

Woman's Missionary Society Elects New President Dec. 1

Completing her two years of faithful service as President of the Bethlehem Evangelical W. M. S., Mrs. Chester Wessling was succeeded in office by Mrs. John L. Other officers elected were vice-president, Mrs. Earl J. Brusio; secretary, Mrs. Clarence Scott; treasurer, Mrs. Edwin Beckman; mission band leaders, Mrs. T. G. Johnson and Mrs. Harold Peterson. False Rumor Is Being Circulated About Seeing Eye Dogs

A false rumor that periodically starts in one isolated section and rolls to great size in all parts of the United States is again being circulated. The outcome of the rumor is that it is the blind who suffer.

This hoax on blind people is the rapidly spreading story that they may procure a Seeing Eye dog by saving from 25,000 to 100,000 match covers, cellophane wrappers from cigarette packages, or even the red tab-strips applied to wrappers for convenience in opening. Numerous inquiries coming to the Seeing Eye, Inc., at Morristown, New Jersey, from misled blind people and from friends of the blind, indicate the extent to which the story is being spread.

There is no truth to the rumor, according to officials, which can result in great disappointment to a blind person who, after months of saving of such articles, finds that they have no effect whatsoever in determining his eligibility for a Seeing Eye dog. The actual facts are as follows: No Seeing Eye dog can be given to a blind person either for cash or collected items of any nature. Any blind person between the ages of 16 and 55, physically, mentally, and temperamentally fit, may apply for a guide dog by writing directly to the school in Morristown, New Jersey. Eligibility will be established promptly.

Three New Works To Be Presented By Ballet Russe

Three new works and four revivals will highlight the coming Chicago engagement of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo in the Civic Opera house. The new works, which had their premieres in New York this fall, are "Rodeo," "Snow Maiden," and "Chopin Concerto." The revivals include "Giselle," "Carnival," "Les Elfes," and "Seventh Symphony." Other ballets to be presented here include the perennial favorites "Gaité Parisienne," "Beau Danube," "Scheherazade," "Afternoon of a Faun," "Nutcracker," "Rouge et Noir," and "Prince Igor."

Announcement of the Ballet Russe engagement was made this week by Allied Arts corporation, which will present the company here. Mail orders for all performances should be sent now to the Civic Opera House, 20 North Wacker Drive. Telephone information may be secured by calling Randolph 6933.

Gasoline Rationing And Tire Inspection Now In Effect

Nation-wide gasoline and mileage rationing is now in effect and all automobile owners should abide by it, urges the Illinois Automobile Club. This is a war-time measure, imposed solely for the conservation of rubber in automobile tires so far as motorists in the Middle West are concerned.

Gasoline for passenger cars can now be purchased only upon presentation of a ration book from which a coupon will be taken for the quantity of motor fuel purchased. In an "A" book there are four sheets of eight coupons, each sheet being good for two months, the first one until Jan. 22 next and the last one expiring on July 21. After that a new book must be obtained. "B" and "C" books are valid for three months, after which application must be made for renewal.

On all coupons delivered in payment for gasoline, the car owner must write on the back of each the state registration number of his motor vehicle and the name of the state in which the vehicle is registered.

Coupled with gasoline-mileage rationing is periodical tire inspection, which requires all five tires on every passenger automobile to be inspected every four months, the first inspection to be made between Dec. 1, 1942 and Jan. 31, 1943. If the inspector finds that a tire needs repairing, he

Many Motor Trucks Have Been Allotted Insufficient Gasoline

Hundreds of garages and service stations, operating tow trucks, are reporting that their gasoline allotment by the Office of Defense Transportation is so small and inadequate that unless correction is immediately made they will not be able to operate these essential vehicles even through the month of December.

Tow trucks are recognized under gasoline rationing regulations, as "essential" and provision is made that they shall get sufficient motor fuel may so order. To drive without making repairs ordered will be considered as an "abuse" of the tire and may lead to revocation of the owner's ration book. Repairs may be made at any place the owner prefers. Over 100,000 inspectors are to be appointed throughout the United States, according to the Office of Price Administration.

Fees permitted for each inspection are: Visual inspection of tires "on-the-wheel," not over 25c per car; if the inspector deems it necessary to demount one or more tires for more careful inspection, not over 50c for each demounted tire may be charged in addition to the 25c "on-the-wheel" fee.

to keep them rolling. In many instances, however, the allotment of gasoline is so small that it would last only a few days—such as 80 gallons for three months, or less than one gallon a day. In bad weather—blizzards and snow storms—one tow truck may consume 25 or more gallons within 24 hours.

"Even though there may be a reduction in the number of motor vehicles on the highways, due to gasoline rationing, it is still highly important that wrecks be removed from the roadway and that running vehicles be serviced to keep them in good mechanical condition," says Carl A. Barrett, President of the Chicago Automobile club. "Tow trucks are absolutely necessary if the nation's transportation system is to be maintained and it is equally imperative that they get enough gasoline to keep them in operation."

When an insufficient amount of gasoline has been allotted, garages and service station owners are advised by the Office of Defense Transportation to immediately get a temporary special allotment sufficient to keep their trucks running through December from their local Rationing Board and then file an appeal with the Office of Price Administration for an adjustment to take care of 1943. These appeals will be considered and adjustments made by O. P. A. as promptly as possible.

Highwood USO Club

A rare treat greeted service men and their guests last Saturday at the Highwood U.S.O. club, 428 Railway avenue, where the Cuore Arte club sponsored a spaghetti supper, replete with imported cheese, fresh Vienna bread and Italian salad. Members secured donations from merchants.

In attendance for the evening were the Mmes. Rosa Biagi and Dina Casani, Mr. and Mrs. Constantine Scasellati, Mr. and Mrs. John Picchietti, Anthony Biagi, president of the club, all of Highland Park, and the Mmes. Theo. Minorini, Sam Somenzi, Gemma Zagalia and Sante Bernardi and Miss Mary Ugolini, all of Highwood.

Italian girls from Chicago came by bus to dance until midnight.

Sunday, Dec. 13, is the date set for the Christmas supper to be sponsored by the Service Mothers' club of Highland Park and Highwood as a Yule gift to the boys of Fort Sheridan. On the menu are hot creamed turkey on home-baked baking powder biscuits, scalloped potatoes, cranberry mold salad, homemade cake and coffee. A Christmas tree fronting the fireplace will be decked in tinsel and ornaments and lighted. A grab bag from which boys will draw comic souvenirs will be the informal entertainment for the evening. Mrs. Edgar A. Jenks is president.
