

Workers Needed At Once for Civilian Jobs

Critical manpower shortages in the heavy construction equipment and material field threaten a score of vital army engineering functions, and skilled workers must be immediately recruited, for civilian jobs, to rehabilitate, operate and maintain heavy duty equipment, the army corps of engineers has announced.

"Experienced civilians ranging from operating engineers and master mechanics down to virtually material stock room clerks are needed to replace army personnel who have been sent overseas," said the commanding general of the corps of army engineers. "Much equipment used in blasting through routes for our soldiers has begun to wear and constant repairs and replacements for thousands of machines must be effected."

Base pay for the various jobs ranges up to $3,800 a year, plus per diem allowances for some. Skills needed include spare parts consultants, operating engineers, master mechanics, high grade mechanics, purchasing agents, and inspectors, who understand the operation, maintenance and repair of diesel, electric and gasoline motors; men familiar with air, electric and gasoline tools and compressors; men skilled in operating and repairing concrete mixers, cranes, graders, scrapers, shovels, tractors, electric generators, power units, and acetylene and electric arc welders; those with knowledge of the essential material and parts thereof; those who are experienced in the inspection of related engineering items and equipment; and many who understand steel mill operation and the fabrication of steel products and the various spare parts of heavy construction, including supervision or assistant supervision of warehousing, and the clerical and administrative functions incident to the handling of heavy construction machinery spare parts.

Qualified applicants should immediately communicate with the Seventh United States Civil Service commission, Room 1107, in the New Post Office building, Chicago — Telephone: Wabash 9207, Extension 589.

Arts Piano Series To Select Outstanding Pianist of the Year

Thirty-two entrants will be heard at Curtis Hall on December 27, in the fourth annual auditions to select the outstanding young pianist of the middle west who will be awarded a place on the 1943-44 Musical Arts Piano Series. The public is invited to attend the auditions which began at 9:30 a.m.

The 32 aspirants are the largest number ever to have entered the competition which is conducted by the Society of American Musicians and the Adult Education Council of Chicago which presents the piano series. There are entrants from Cleveland, Columbus, Minneapolis and Indianapolis. Clarence Eidam is president of the Society.

Semi-finals in the auditions will be held at Kimball Hall at 7:30 p. m. on Wednesday, December 30, with 12 contestants to be heard.

Dorothy Crost, Chicagoan who won last year's auditions, will be heard in the series at Orchestra Hall on Tuesday evening, January 5.

Lake County Egg Producers Nearing Food for Freedom Goal

Farmers of Lake County are well on their way toward achieving their "Food for Freedom" goal of 1,794,000 dozen eggs this year, production statistics issued by the U. S. department of agriculture indicate.

The figures show that, despite a shortage of labor which has taxed the ingenuity and lengthened the work day of most operators, the goal already is in sight.

The rise in production has been accompanied by an increase of more than 20 per cent in returns to producers, both in the county and in the state.

The Chicago Mercantile exchange, futures trading center for eggs, reports that prices paid for future deliveries have been running sharply higher than in 1941 and that transactions on the spot boards have shown advances of several cents consistently over prices paid for identical grades a year ago.

The USDA asked that Illinois increase its egg production by 10 per cent this year, raising its output to 186,175,000 dozen.

Local U. S. O. To Feature Vaudeville Entertainment

The U. S. O. club, 21 N. Green Bay road, Highland Park, will on Wednesday evening, present a musical and vaudeville entertainment, states Arthur Ridenour, director of the institution.

The program arranged by Alex Trostrud, public relations of the Royal League, national fraternal society, will feature as its headline attraction, the Mail Order Mountaineers a group of seven players, who perform on all kinds of ingenuous instruments and sing too.

Waltz Contest

Laslie K. Lear an executive with the N. S. War manpower commission, will preside as the master of ceremonies and Lieut. William C. Ferguson will conduct a waltz contest in which service men and their lady partners will compete for prizes that will go to winners.

Everett Grossenbacher, Arthur T. Eichel, Peter S. Siavelis and Fred A. Johnson prominent Chicago civic and welfare leaders are assisting in preparations for the show.

Barbara Ives Spends Holidays At Home

Spending the Christmas holidays at home is Barbara Holley Ives, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ives. A freshman at Ogontz Junior college, near Philadelphia, Pa., Miss Ives graduated in September as a nurse's aide and has received her certificate from civilian defense authorities as an accomplished pistol shooter. At Ogontz, she is working in the Navy league and is head of the Auxiliary Hospital association. She will return to school on Jan. 11.

Winnetka Drama Club To Present Play December 29-30

That lovable, human, comedy entitled "What a Life" will be the next presentation of the Winnetka Drama Club, December 29, and 30, in the

A. V. Mitchell of Glencon, who has an important roll in "What a Life."

This play, which is the Drama club's choice for their winter season, had a very successful run on Broadway and also was spontaneously and hilariously received on tour, a few years ago. It is the story of the tribulations of a high school boy whose scholastic achievements do not reflect the brilliance of his father who had been a Phi Beta Kappa. This lad, Henry Aldrich, by name, made theatre history because seldom have we ever witnessed on the legitimate stage a more accurate portrayal of the "adolescent." All the contradiction, confusion, emotionalism and humor so inevitably associated with age of adolescence, is pictorialized in "What a Life." For that reason it should be a play just as interesting to father's and mothers as to young people. More than one parent will understand the exasperation which prompts a high school instructor to say to Henry "Henry, I should think you'd dread to get up in the morning, you can get in so much trouble in one day!"

For this play William Shepherd, ace director, has assembled an outstanding cast. Following are the names of the players:

Miss Shea ..... Katherine Bingham
Mr. Nelson ..... A. V. Mitchell

Mr. Patterson ..... William Lassar
Gas Pike ..... Margaret Bloch
Bill ..... Darwin O'Ryan Curtis
Miss Eggleston ..... Margaret Hanson
Miss Johnson ..... Irene Elster
Mr. Verchito ..... Nishian B. Jorjorian
Stephen Gordon ..... John Jameson
Barbara Pearson ..... Carolyn Stein
Gertie ..... Pat Gill
Mr. Bradley ..... Fred Bray
Miss Wheeler ..... Ruthame W. Wells
George Bigelow ..... Douglas Orwig
Mrs. Gordon ..... Mrs. Max Murdock
Mr. Ferguson ..... Franz Graynor
Tickets may be procured at the North Shore Gas Company on Elm Street in Winetka.

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin

By George Rector

Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

So that our boys and girls in the service may have a Christmas like they used to know, at least in part, let's share our festive board with a uniformed guest. Your local U.S.O. or Service Center will arrange for as many service guests as you can accommodate. No matter how commonplace the food, how simple the dinner, it comes out festive when imbued with the Christmas spirit. And here's a menu and some directions for making this Christmas an old-fashioned one.

Old Fashioned Christmas Dinner

- CHILLED B-V AND TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL
- WILSON'S CERTIFIED TURKEY with Chestnut Stuffing
- CRANBERRY SAUCE
- MASHED POTATOES
- GIBLET GRAVY
- CAULIFLOWER
- CHRISTMAS HELL SALAD
- HOT ROLLS
- PLUM PUDDING
- BEVERAGE

These simple directions will help you You should know by this time how to make a B-V Cocktail. Dissolve 1/4 level teaspoon of Wilson's B-V in a cup of hot water. Combine with one cup tomato juice. Season to taste. Chill.

MERRY CHRISTMAS FOOD

Tradition has it that we build our Holiday menus around poultry... a pleasure at any time... but this year it's patriotic as well, for your government has designated poultry as one of the meats unrestricted for civilian use. Wilson's Certified Poultry... be it turkey, chicken, duck or goose... is juicy, tender, flavorful. Order yours today.

CHESTNUT STUFFING

Boll 1 pound chestnuts about 20 minutes. Remove shells and brown skins while nuts are still hot. To 1/4 cup turkey fat add 1/4 cup Clear Brook butter. Add 2 cups chopped celery leaves and stalks, 1/4 cup chopped onions, cook for a few minutes. Add few sprigs parsley, chopped, 6 cups bread crumbs and chestnuts, well mashed. Season with salt, pepper, and savory seasoning. Stir until mixture is hot. This is sufficient for a 10-pound turkey. (For larger birds allow 1 cup stuffing per pound of turkey.)

Preparation Pointers

Wipe turkey dry inside, season with salt, stuff, don't pack, and truss. Grease skin well with Bakerite. Lay bird on pan in rack, on one side, back up, turning when partially done, and when half done turn breast up to finish. Cover bird while baking, with cloth moistened in melted Bakerite.

AND SO... A Merry Christmas... an old-fashioned Christmas... one that will take you back to the gayest times in the presence of sterner realities.
