

MOVIES AND AMUSEMENTS

Present Program At Masonic Service Dance

The Masonic Service center will sponsor a variety show and dance at 19 N. Sheridan road, the Masonic temple, Saturday evening, Jan. 23, from 8 to 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Esther Friend Arnold and her group of twelve young ladies will furnish the entertainment. The program was originally scheduled for last week.

All service men are invited. Senior hostesses will be the Campbell chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, and refreshments will be served, with Mrs. Mary Knobloch as chairman. The Evanston G.S.O. will act as junior hostesses and music will be by the Waukegan Melodiers.

ELKS KENO PARTY TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The Highland Park Elks lodge, No. 1362, will sponsor a keno party tonight (Thursday) in the Elks hall at 8:15 o'clock. Members may bring their friends, according to A. G. Klomp, secretary of the lodge.

Dr. Richard Raines Guest Speaker at Chicago Sunday Club

Dr. Richard C. Raines, friend of American youth, who keeps his sermons in the tempo of modern life, and who has the genius for making religion attractive and goodness, fun, will return to the American Sunday Evening Club platform next Sunday. He will be presented by President Clifford W. Barnes at the main meeting at eight, and will speak on "Turn Ye Northward." Groups of young people from all parts of the Chicago area will attend to hear the originator of the University of Life movement, a Sunday evening religious club for teenagers of all denominations, now in use in churches throughout the country.

Dr. Raines, after brief pastorates in the East, began preaching in one of the most influential churches in Minneapolis, the Hennepin Avenue Methodist, when but 30 years of age. From this church today, he not only takes an active part in Minnesota religious circles, but leads in civic and educational affairs, with a keen insight particularly into the problems of youth. His annual visit to Chicago is looked to eagerly by an enthusiastic following.

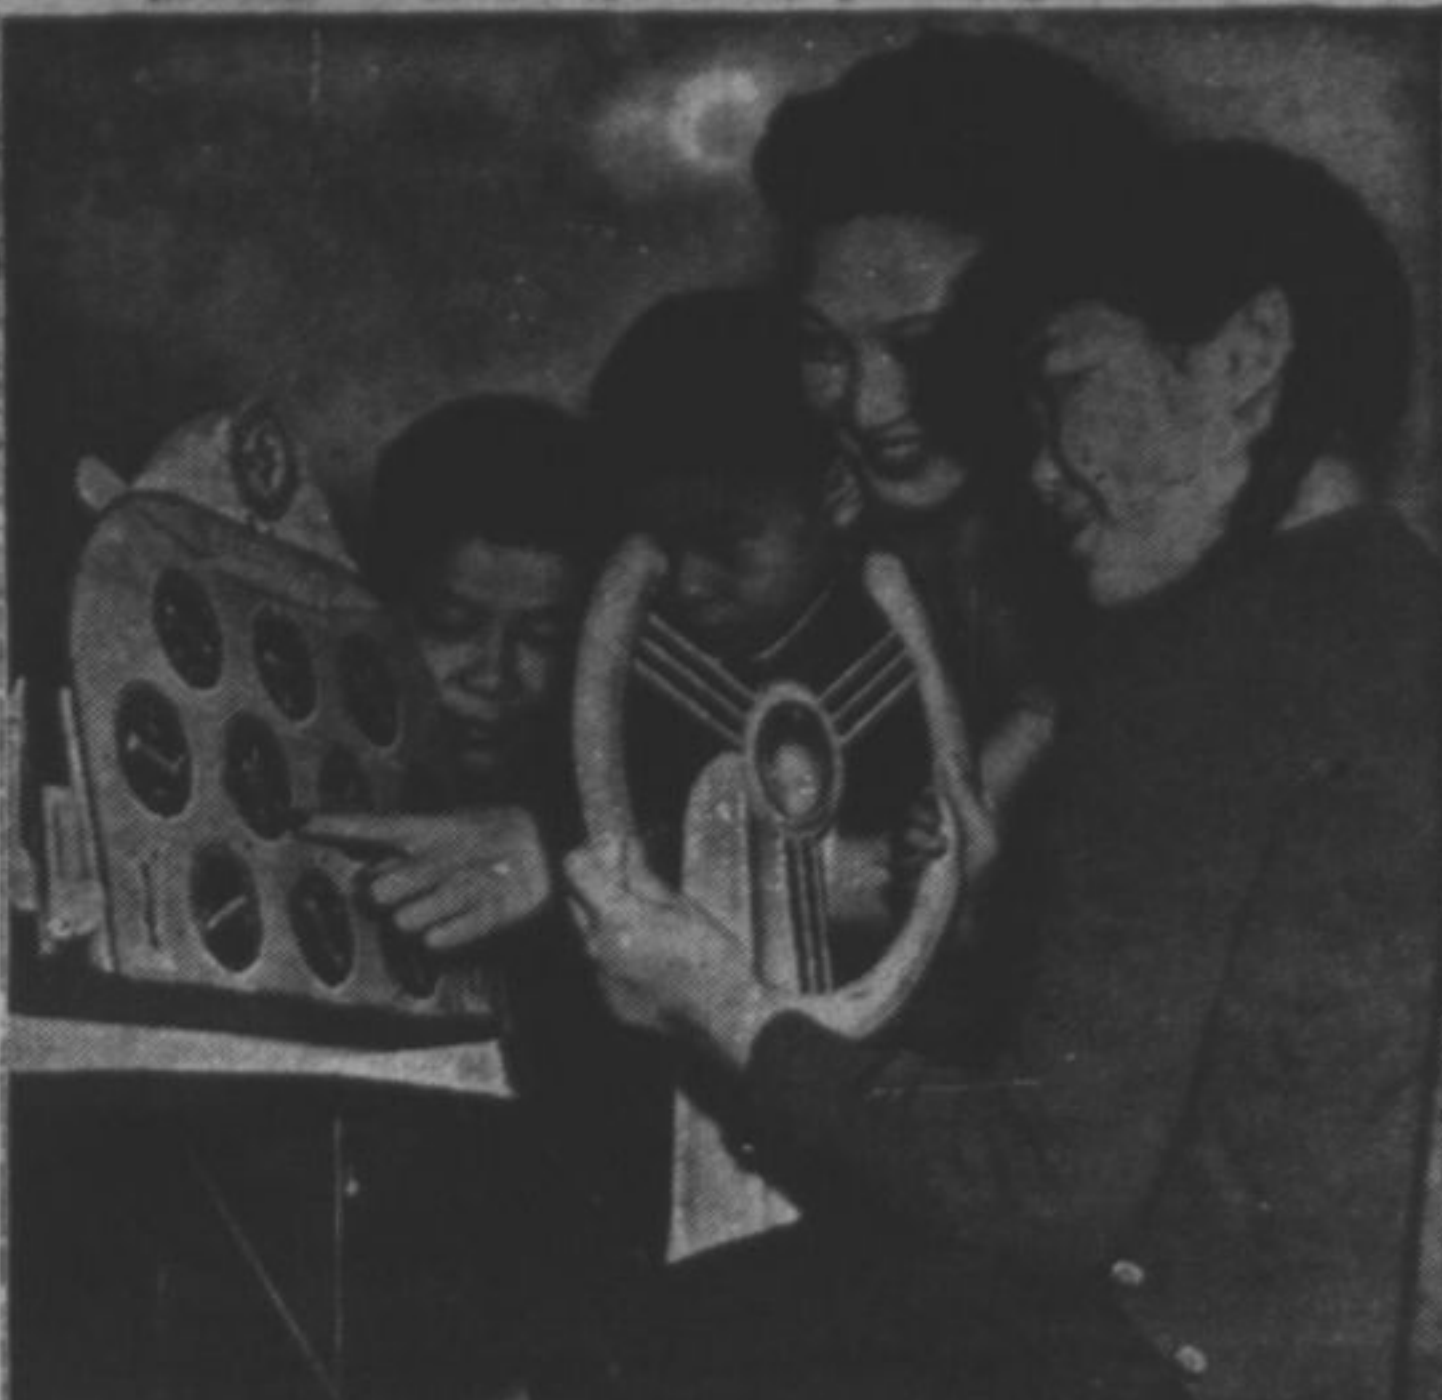

Edward Hall Taylor of Winnetka, youngest member of the Sunday Evening Club board of trustees, will take part in the meeting. The Club's famous choir of 135 voices, under the direction of Edgar Nelson, preceding the address will give a music program of religious selections by Schubert, Naylor and Buck. Hilda Ohlin, popular young soprano, will be special soloist.

One of the features of these Sunday evening nonsectarian services is the informal meeting at seven, designed for those who wish to go early and sing the old songs. Between 1500 and 2000 usually take part in the song service and hear an informal Bible talk by one of Chicago's prominent religious men. Next Sunday, Dr. William Clyde Howard, Second Presbyterian Church, Chicago, will discuss "Joseph—the Redeemer of His Brethren." Admission is free.

Dr. Raines' address will be broadcast by WIND, 9:30 to 9.

The annual "Fun Day" of the Deerfield Woman's club is scheduled for Tuesday, February 8th. Mrs. Ralph Peterson has been appointed chairman of this meeting.

BAD NEWS FOR JAP ZEROS

China's first aviatrix, lovely Lee Ya-ching, now in America in behalf of United China Relief, shows some little Chinese-Americans how to play Training Cockpit, new war game which actually teaches the fundamentals of flying and gives the youthful "aviators" a chance to "shoot" Jap and other Axis planes out of the air. At the controls is Marilyn Chu, Charlie and Harry Kee (L to R) await their turn.

Five Concerts On Schedule Of Chicago Symphony Orchestra

With five concerts, topped by the million-dollar war bond concert, on its schedule, the Chicago Symphony orchestra under the baton of Hans Lange, this week faces the busiest week of its winter season.

Nathan Milstein, famed violinist, and Gregor Piatigorsky, noted cellist, are the stellar soloists who have donated their services for the patriotic concert Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, seats for which are available only to purchasers of war bonds. Zino Francescatti, celebrated French violinist, appears as soloist at the concerts Thursday evening and Friday afternoon, Jan. 28 and 29, and Hilde Somer, youthful Viennese pianist, makes her Chicago debut Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 26. The fifth concert is Saturday night's performance.

Mr. Lange and the entire personnel of the orchestra have contributed their services for the war bond concert, through the courtesy of James C. Petrillo and the American Federation of Musicians, and Orchestra hall has been donated.

Sidney Howard's Play Appearing Now At Goodman Theatre

A little more than a year ago Sidney Howard, the playwright of "The Late Christopher Bean," and one of the outstanding contemporary American dramatists, was killed in an accident. He died leaving the theatre a heritage of some dozen plays, which together reveal a sympathetic understanding of American life in its many phases. Among these is the fascination that the New England landscape and its people exercised over Howard's mind and imagination. It is here that the action of "The Late Christopher Bean" takes place. It is a play about an artist who left to posterity great beauty, and died unrecognized. The play, which begins many years after Chris Bean had died, is a delicate comedy which does not fail to have its poignant moments. It is also a portrait of a family whose lives become involved with hopes of wealth, art critics, art dealers, and art forgers.

The play is having a two weeks run at the Goodman and will close January 23. There are no Monday evening performances.

John Van Druten's comedy "There's Always Juliet" opens for a short run on Sunday January 24.

"The Magic Horn" is the current production at the Goodman in the Children's Theatre and will run until January 23. "Little Black Sambo" will be the third production of the season opening on January 30. Each Saturday the Goodman is following its new plan of giving a few seats to the different settlement houses so that during the season, each group will have had a chance to share in the fun of the Children's Theatre.

High School Girls To Help in Labor Shortage

Fifty girls of the junior and senior classes of the Highland Park high school signed up Monday, Jan. 18, with Mrs. Frank Peers, vocational counselor, as desiring after school or Saturday work.

These girls plan to help out in the labor shortage, and at the same time to obtain experience, earn money and get a start which may lead into some type of summer vacation work or a permanent job.

Local business firms or merchants interested in obtaining the services of these girls should call the high school and ask for Miss Emada Griswold, dean of girls.

UNTIL the academy awards come through everybody can find food for argument in those voted by the New York film critics. Noel Coward's British navy film, "In Which We Serve," which opened in New York at the end of 1942, was chosen the best picture of the year after stubborn balloting; some of the critics wanted the award for the very stirring "Wake Island." James Cagney was chosen best actor for his work in "Yankee Doodle Dandy"; Agnes Moorhead the best actress for her performance in "The Magnificent Ambersons." Greer Garson and Katharine Hepburn were contenders for that crown for a while, but Miss Moorhead won out.

Jane Randolph is on her way up; she has the feminine lead opposite Tom Conway in "The Falcon Strikes Back," the next of the RKO mystery series based on that detective's exploits, and it's her fourth film since she was discovered last summer in a routine screen test that led to her being given a leading role in "Highways by Night." She'll be a star before you know it.

Rita Hayworth's engagement to Victor Mature seems to be one of those if-and-when things; they'll be married when they are freed by divorce from their present matrimonial commitments, and when the war is over.

Incidentally, Greer Garson's engagement to Richard Ney seems to be a thing of the past. It didn't seem like the kind of truth that Hollywood executives approve for their biggest stars—he wasn't important enough in the picture business. On the other hand, she seems to be the kind of person who does as she likes—and with "Mrs. Miniver" to her credit she could do it.

Flying Officer Robert Coate, who used to be a Hollywood leading man himself, was released from RCAF recruiting duties to play a command leader in "Commandos Strike at Dawn"—but he kept right on recruiting. The company worked on location near Victoria, B. C., and in his first week with the picture he signed up four Victoria youths for RCAF careers!

Dorothy Lamour, Veronica Lake and Paulette Goddard just scrambled a few old clothes together when they appeared in Paramount's "Star Spangled Rhythm," the big musical which has 70 stars. For their number, "A Sweater, a Sarong and a Peek-a-boo Bang" Paulette wore a sweater and shorts from "Nothing but the Truth," Veronica the low-cut gown that made audiences gasp when they saw "I Wanted Wings," and Dorothy just got into one of her regular sarongs. For other scenes, as they were supposed to be working in the studio in their own pictures, they wore clothes from "The Road to Morocco," "The Lady Has Plans" and "This Gun for Hire."

You might keep an eye on Ann Savage, if you want to see a star in the making. She made her stage debut in a little theater a few months ago, and Columbia signed her to a contract and gave her a few minor roles to get her used to camera angles. Now they think that she's a potential star, and she's been given the role opposite Chester Morris in "After Midnight With Boston Blackie."

Frances Dee, leading lady of RKO's "I Walked With a Zombie," has founded a dramatic club to provide community entertainment at Moorpark, Calif., during gas rationing. A special stage built in a barn on the Dee-McCrea ranch is at the club's disposal.

ODDS AND ENDS—Little Billy Seaman was allowed to keep the usually lamb he plays with in "Journey for Margaret"—but his brother gave the lamb a bath, put it into a lighted oven, and then forgot about it... Richard Quinn had gone off to war in so many films that it was an odd story when he took forward to his comrades and joined up with the army... Young Harry McCrea, who came in as a camera, is booked to play Chester Rogers in "Commandos Strike at Dawn" at RKO... Ellen Drew was old, noted drinking in "White Flies From Cleveland"—but the American girl falls in love with her just the same.

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin

By George Rector
Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

GETTING "MEALAGE" OUT OF POUNDAGE

Getting "mealage" from meat poundage has become the first order of the day for you housewives. In other words, you are concerned in getting the most "eatable" meat from each pound you buy, so that those allotted pounds will stretch to the limit in flavor and goodness and nutritive value. May I give you a word of advice on that subject? Wise buyers know that the best eating per pound is found in high quality meats... So I say, whenever possible, buy the best in meats... Wilson's Certified... for the utmost eating enjoyment.

Sunday Menu
WILSON'S GELA SEALD BEEF (Standing Rib Roast)
GRAVY
PAN BROWNED POTATOES
BUTTERED CABBAGE
GRAPEFRUIT AND APPLE SALAD
WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
CHOCOLATE-NUT PUDDING
BEVERAGE

IN CASE YOU HAVE LEFTOVERS:
Mix chopped cooked beef with chopped onion and green pepper. Spread on biscuit dough made with Baker-Rite and roll. Slice and bake in 450° F. oven about 20 minutes. Serve with gravy. Filling and flavorful! Or slice and heat leftover roast and serve covered with hot tomato sauce.

BRING ON THE ROAST!

To get three delicious meals from a standing rib roast, ask for Wilson's Gela Seald Beef. Then, have the butcher remove the short ribs. Save these for a tasty meal later in the week.

Gela Seald is the meat that's gelatine-covered for protection against loss of flavorful juices. It is an exclusive Wilson & Co. process, designed to give you better meat for your money. And remember... regardless of wartime demands, the quality and goodness of Wilson Products will remain unchanged.

And remember, too, if you're finding you have to take whatever meat you can get at your market these days, rather than getting what you want... it's due to unavoidable wartime demand and distribution problems. I ask your patience and full cooperation with your dealer in limiting your selection to the available supply in your dealer's hands and trust that on another day you will find the meat of your choice.

In the meantime, clip and save these weekly recipes and nutrition tips so that you will have them handy when your dealer does have the meats called for.

LUNCH BOX HINT

For variety in the lunchbox, combine chopped, cooked beef with chopped nuts, and moisten with Wilson's Mayonnaise. Mix well. Spread on buttered enriched bread. Be sure to use Clear Brook butter.

For a Mid-Week Meal You'll Enjoy Braised Short Ribs: (Remember you had these cut from your Gela Seald rib roast.) Wrap each portion in a strip of Wilson's Certified Bacon, and skewer in place.

Add 2 sliced onions, chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Add 3 cups water, cover, and cook slowly for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Add more water if needed during cooking.

The meat flavor can be stretched and the meal better balanced by adding whole carrots, turnips, or other available vegetables.

Yours 'til next week,
George Rector
