Recipes for Sharing The Meat

Using leftover meat and making the best use of fresh meat is not going to be a game of culinary solitaire for the American homemaker. Plans are now under way for the full cooperation of all food industries to help the lady of Uncle Sam's house "share the meat."

A group of home economists meeting with representatives of the meat industry heard Dr. Louise Stanley, Chief of the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture, outline the government's plan for stretching the meat supply of the country. She called for the return of plenty of bread and gravy and the wise use of cereals to help stretch the food value of meat. Cereals are plentiful and wheat flour is the greatest in our history.

Enriched flour is America's most economical and efficient extender of meat, for enriched flour not only supplements the B-vitamin and iron value of the diet, it is also an important source of protein. The protein of flour and bread are largely responsible for the pleasant way these foods have of absorbing the delicious meat flavor.

The delicate flavor and light texture of enriched bread and enriched biscuit combine most deliciously with meat flavors. Southern hospitality has boasted of hot biscuits and gravy for generations. Folks above the Mason-Dixon line who have not mopped up the last drop of luscious brown pork gravy on a hot bit of flaky biscuit have missed a delicious treat.

Crusty, biscuit-topped meat pies or meat turnovers blanketed between flaky layers of pastry are dishes that do more than help "share the meat," they make meat sharing a real pleasure.

For the "Share-the-Meat" section of recipe files, we present two new recipes using both enriched bread and enriched biscuit.

Yankee Meat Ring

4 cups enriched bread cubes 2 cups cubed, cooked meat 1 1/2 teaspoons salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper 2 eggs 2 cups meat broth or milk or vegetable juice from canned vegetables

Mix bread cubes and meat. Beat egg, add stock or milk, salt or pepper. Pour over bread mixture. Mix well. Pour into greased 9" ring mold or 8x8 1/2" baking pan. (Lining the bottom of the mold with narrow strip of waxed paper prevents sticking.) Press firmly into mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 45 minutes. Serve with creamed vegetables or tomato sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Topsy-Turvy Meat Square

Meat Filling: 1 cup ground meat (3/4 lb.) 1 tablespoon fat 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon pepper 1 1/2 tablespoons chopped onion 1/4 cup condensed tomato soup or 1/2 cup canned tomatoes 1 1/4 cup cooked green beans.

N. S. Sunday Club To Hear Noted Minister Jan. 24

The speaker at the North Shore Sunday Evening club on Sunday, Jan. 24, at New Trier high school will be Dr. Roy L. Smith. Dr. Smith was, for eight years, pastor of the largest Methodist church in America at Los Angeles, where he preached to 5,000 people each Sunday. He will speak on, "Tomorrow And The Far East." Dr. Smith has spoken at the Sunday Evening club in Chicago.

Dr. Smith was recently selected as one of the seven most representative of the Methodist church in America, in a poll among ministers. For valiant service, he was recently awarded the Order Of The Jade, by the Chinese government, which is the highest honor the Chinese can give anyone not in their own country. Dr. Smith was a foreign correspondent in the Orient several years ago. He is also the author of syndicated "Sentence Sermons." He is the editor of the Christian Advocate. On the notable course at Barrington, he was voted best among the speakers, in the last two years.

Blood Plasma Vital To War Effort

The lives of Navy men who are battling our enemies on the seven seas are being saved every day by civilians thousands of miles away who are giving their blood at American Red Cross centers, according to a statement of thanks to the donors issued by Rear Admiral John Downes, U. S. N., Commanding Officer of the Ninth Naval District at Great Lakes.

Citing the case of Bill Sullivan, seaman second class on the carrier Lexington in the battle of the Coral Sea, Admiral Downes said that this sailor was critically wounded when a Jap bomb hit near his gun crew station. With a crushed arm, a smashed foot, and shrapnel lodged in his back, head and legs, he managed to keep afloat until picked up by a destroyer twenty minutes later.

By all the rules, Seaman Sullivan should have been dead, according to Admiral Downes. His pulse and blood pressure could scarcely be detected. But Navy doctors pumped pint after pint of the life-saving plasma contributed by a dozen donors here into his veins, and signs of life returned.

"Today, Seaman Sullivan is alive, thanks to the patriotic Americans who have kept up this flow of life's fluid so that fighting men may live," Admiral Downes said. "The need is great, and I am confident that our civilian population will need the call," he concluded.

Two Local Nurse's Aides To Be Graduated Friday

Mrs. James Clarke, 2237 Lincolnwood road, and Mrs. Ross Marvin, 387 Oakland drive, who have taken nurse's aide training at Cook County hospital, will be graduated and capped at ceremonies held at the hospital Friday afternoon, Jan. 22.

These latest additions to the Red Cross-OCD nurse's aide corps will bring the number trained in the Chicago area during the first year of the war to more than 1,600. However, demands by hospitals for assignments of nurse's aides are still growing due to the departure of nurses in the Chicago area for the armed forces. The greatest demand at the present time is for nurse's aides who can give volunteer service during the daytime.

Nurse's aide training is open to women over 18 years of age who are American citizens and who can pass a physical examination. Women interested are asked to apply in person at Red Cross headquarters, 529 S. Wabash avenue, Chicago.

There are no written tests and no maximum age limits, Mr. Carlson states, and applications will be accepted in the commission's Washington office until further notice.

Open Program Of Evening War Courses at N. U.

A program of evening war courses for recent high school graduates has been arranged by the University college, evening division of Northwestern university, it was announced today by Shirley A. Hamrin, director.

The courses, which will be given on the downtown campus beginning Feb. 10, include "Introductory Meteorology," "Military Use of Maps," "Astronomy for Aviation and Navigation," and a complete mathematics program, all of which will be especially helpful to those who are preparing to enter military service.

The course on astronomy will be taught by Oliver J. Lee, director of Dearborn observatory, and will include celestial observations at night from the tower of the Ward Memorial building on the Chicago campus.

Rabbi Richard Hertz To Speak at Services January 24

Rabbi Richard C. Hertz will talk on "The Power of the Prayerbook" for the regular Sunday morning services on Jan. 24 at North Shore Congregation Israel, Glencoe.

With special reference to Dr. Solomon B. Frechof's new book, "The Small Sanctuary," Rabbi Hertz will discuss the importance of the prayerbook to the average man.

Services at North Shore Congregation Israel are conducted regularly on Saturday and Sunday mornings at 11 o'clock, and visitors are always welcome. The temple is located at Lincoln and Vernon avenues.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 17.

The Golden Text was, "The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. That your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the Lord sware unto your fathers to give them, as the days of heaven upon the earth" (Deut. 5:1, Deut. 11:21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality. This faith relies upon an understood Principle. This Principle makes whole the diseased, and brings out the enduring and harmonious phases of being" (P. 487, 488).
