"Lo, the winter is past"

THERE comes a time in the changing seasons when there is a new warmth in the breeze, and a touch of new color along the wayside. In the steppes of Asia the snow begins to melt, in the English hedgerows the children look for the first primrose, and on the western prairies faint shoots of green appear. Everywhere there is a stirring of new hope in the hearts of men, and we may be reminded of the words from a familiar song of spring written thousands of years ago (Solomon's Song 2:11, 12), "Lo, for winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land."

Today the perennial promise of spring comes to a troubled world a world which is facing the difficulties of strife, confusion, and seeming loss, with their increasing demands for sacrifice. There is need for strength and courage to face the problems of present-day conditions, but the greatest need is for a clear understanding of the omnipotence of God, of His ever-presence and availability here and now. . . . The joyous days of spring, with their warmth and sunshine, bird calls, and budding trees, illustrate the renewed hope with which men turn expectantly to the Scriptural promises of healing and restoration. . . .

In an article, "Voices of Spring," in "Miscellaneous Writings," Mary Baker Eddy says (p. 330): "Human hope and faith should join in nature's grand harmony, and, if on minor key, make music in the heart. And man, more friendly, should call his race as gently to the springtide of Christ's dear love." There are few of us indifferent to "nature's grand harmony" when, after cold wintry days, we hear the song of birds again and watch the unfolding of budding tree and blossom. However long and difficult the winter may have seemed to be, we were always sure of its breaking up in due season. We had no doubt about it, any more than we had about day following night. . . .

"The springtide of Christ's dear love," is a perpetual springtide, ever present, unchanging, and un-falling. The ever-present truth about God and man is to us a law of perpetual renewal. The prophet Hosea exhorted the people (Hosea 10:12), "Break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness upon you." The land that has lain fallow all winter must be broken up and made ready for the sowing. So does the appearing of the Christ, Truth, to human consciousness begin at once to break up the stubborn beliefs of apathy, inertia, and sluggishness, and to replace them with a joyous activity that is hungering and thirsting after righteousness.

Sometimes even in the midst of sunny days we may seem to be mentally experiencing a winter of depression and discontent until some clarion call of Truth awakens us to our need of more spiritual activity. The Psalmist cried (Psalms 42:11), "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God." We cannot remain long disquieted when we turn away from the evidences of the material senses and accept the facts of being which spiritual sense perceives. The glorious fact that God is the health of our countenance can be demonstrated here and now through the knowledge that God is the only creator, and that man, His image and likeness, is endowed with health, happiness, and immortality. . . .

We do not gain any great good simply by desiring it. We need to add to our desire the giving up of that which would hinder our realization of "the springtide of Christ's dear love." The false beliefs of personal sense, worry, doubt, fear, resentment, pride, and stubborn self-will must be given up and replaced by the spiritual qualities which constitute man's real being. In proportion as we are honestly trying to do this, our trials and afflictions will become less, our joys and triumphs will increase, and, looking back at some landmark in our experience, we shall be able triumphantly to say, "Lo, the winter is past."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 4.

The Golden Text was, "What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 23: 28).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Wee unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel" (Isaiah 5: 20, 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The notion that both evil and good are real is a delusion of material sense, which Science annihilates. Evil is nothing, no thing, mind, nor power. Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make,—hence its unreality" (pp. 330, 525).

George R. Olson Passes Away After Lingering Illness

George R. Olson, 1929 Flora place, died Friday in the Highland Park hospital after an illness of several years at the age of 60.

Mr. Olson is survived by his widow, Emily, and one son, Pvt. George R. Olson Jr., who is stationed at the Fort Worth, Tex., air base. Mr. Olson and his son were in the stereotyping business in Chicago, before his son joined the army 10 months ago.

Funeral services were held at Fred Westfall's Funeral home, 3807 N. Lincoln avenue, Chicago, Monday afternoon. Interment was in Memorial Park cemetery.
