During the evening, the eggs were planted in nooks and corners of the club. At the starting time of 9 p. m. the hunt was on, and the winners were awarded prizes as well as all the eggs they found.

The Young Ladies sodality of St. Dominick's church of Chicago furnished the refreshments of sandwiches and cakes. They also brought along a large bus load of girls to swell the crowd of Victory Belles who were present.

H. P. Public Library

Now that May is almost here, many Highland Park residents have started their Victory Gardens. Some of you may find good advice in one of the most recent books added to the Highland Park Public library—The Old Dirt Dobber's Garden Book by Thomas A. Williams. Mr. Williams, who answers questions about gardening over the Columbia Broadcasting system, answers, in this book, many of the questions about vegetables, soils, shrubs, lawns, etc.; that puzzle the home gardener.

If you're not even an arm-chair gardener, but enjoy books of nature study for their own sake, you'll want to read Rutherford Platt's This Green World. This book is the "lively and revealing chronicle of a naturalist who has gone out with cameras and a huge curiosity to discover the thrill and action of nature's world, as well as the beauty of its scenery."

A scientist in an entirely different field is Dr. Fred H. Albee, who tells his own life story in A Surgeon's Fight to Rebuild Men. Dr. Albee first gained international fame during World War I when he proved that he could mend bones that had refused to heal. His work to rehabilitate men wounded in combat has made him "the world's foremost Ambassador in White."

Among the most popular of the new books on the present war are Quentin Reynolds's Dress Rehearsal and Vincent Sheean's Between the Thunder and the Sun.
Quentin Reynolds, author of Only the Stars are Neutral, gives us, in his latest book, a stirring eyewitness account of the raid at Dieppe—the first air-land-sea performance in the European theatre of war.

Mr. Shecan, a native of Illinois, seems to have an uncanny ability for being on the spot at the right moment. As a foreign correspondent he is always in the part of the world where action is thickest. His latest book, Between the Thunder and the Sun covers the entire theatre of the war, starting with the arresting picture of a European world that was dying in 1938-39, leading up to "Our War," an analysis of the American effort and what we are fighting for.

All of these titles are among those which have been added recently to the collection of the Highland Park Public library.

Walter Clarke Dies At Age 59

Walter Clarke, 59, of 1130 Lincoln avenue, died Saturday in his home. A resident of Highland Park for 17 years, he was an advertising man associated with Montgomery Ward and company and N. Shure and company. He was born in Waldwick, N. J.
Surviving are his widow, Maude, and a sister, Miss Lillias Clarke of New York City. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon and the body was sent to Ludington, Mich., for burial.

Why I don't act my age

Act my age! Why, I'd be acting like an old worn-out cleaner that's ready for the scrap pile. Instead, I'm young and active, and can clean rugs with the best of 'em.

That's because my owner gives me extra special care. And it's mighty important now during wartime, because materials that usually go into vacuum cleaners are needed for making guns and tanks and planes.

If you ask me, I'd say my boss is wise and patriotic, too. And I suggest that you follow her example. It's really very easy.

First thing to remember is to empty the dust bag every time you use your vacuum cleaner. You'll be surprised how much better your cleaner works.

Shake the bag thoroughly to get the dust out of the pores of the cloth. And every month or so brush the bag. . . but don't ever wash it.

No, no, lady! Don't run your cleaner over pins, tacks, hair pins, coins or other hard objects. Pick them up by hand, and you'll avoid unnecessary repairs.

Check the brush to see that it is properly adjusted—about one-eighth inch below the nozzle. It should be reset periodically to compensate for wear.

A new brush sweeps clean. So if the tufts become badly worn, replace the brush. And remember to keep it free from hair, lint and thread.

Famous last words—Follow the manufacturer's instructions for lubricating your cleaner. And don't attempt to service your motor. Let your dealer do it.
