May 2 to May 8 will be National Baby week. Started by the Infant Welfare society of Chicago in 1914, Baby week has become a nation wide observance. It is sponsored in this community by the Highland Park-Ravinia center and the Highland Park-Ravinia Senior board of the Infant Welfare society to spread the knowledge of what the society is doing to give babies a healthy start in life.

The Infant Welfare society guards the health of 13,000 children and expectant mothers in the poorest areas of Chicago by providing doctors and nurses to give medical examination and health instruction in twenty stations, nurses and nutritionists to visit the homes, and mental hygiene service to teach mothers how to train their children.

Highland Park-Ravinia center of the Infant Welfare society was organized in 1925 and the Senior board in 1939. In eighteen years the two groups have contributed $45,260.24 to the cause of health for underprivileged children in Chicago. This means that approximately 3,900 children have been given their chance to become strong, useful American citizens through the efforts of these Highland Park and Ravinia women.

Their contribution to Infant Welfare of late years has come through the Highland Park-Ravinia Community Chest, in whose annual campaign the members of the Infant Welfare centers always take an active part.

The presidents of these two Infant Welfare groups for 1943 are Mrs. Franklin Lundberg for the center and Mrs. D. D. McCormick for the Senior board.

Arrangements have recently been made to allow Residence Fuel Oil users to connect gas water heaters during spring-summer-fall in order to conserve their fuel oil. You merely sign a request for service at your plumber's where you purchase your heater. The request is also an agreement that you will not use the additional gas service from November 15 to March 15 (our heaviest house heating load). See your plumber or gas appliance dealer.
