Award Purple Heart to Chaplain

Chaplain Raymond C. Hohenstein, U.S.N., of Highland Park, has been awarded the Purple Heart. He was wounded during battle action aboard the U.S.S. California at Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941. On Wednesday, May 5, he was also notified that he has been advanced from lieutenant to lieutenant commander. He is married, and his wife, Wilma, and two sons, Clyde, 8, and Charles, 11, live at 636 Vine avenue.

As he was preparing for morning worship on the deck of his ship, Chaplain Hohenstein saw the Japanese planes approaching Pearl Harbor. Bomb fragments during the attack wounded him, and after his recovery he was assigned to shore duty at Pearl Harbor as a submarine base chaplain. In February he received a transfer to Great Lakes where he now serves as chaplain of McIntyre dispensary.

Until 1940, when he became a navy chaplain, he was pastor of Redeemer Evangelical Lutheran Church in Park Ridge, Ill. Born on Aug. 13, 1907, he is a graduate of Concordia college, Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he also received military training under the supervision of an army officer. He also graduated from Concordia Lutheran Theological seminary, St. Louis, Mo., and was ordained minister in 1930 in St. Paul, Minn.

In June, 1940, he was assigned duty aboard the U.S.S. Boise, on which ship he served as chaplain for more than a year. He was transferred to the U.S.S. California in August, 1941.

Laura Stoddard

An Appreciation by Those Who Know Her Best

Nineteen years ago, Laura Stoddard came to Ravinia School from her position as teacher of ceramics at the Art Institute in Chicago. For many years the Art Institute has sent its students to receive their practical training in working with children, under her direction. The representatives from the Art Department of the University of Chicago who visited the schools in the early autumn in connection with the survey, were greatly impressed by the excellence of the murals in the classrooms and hall. When told that the children had made them under Miss Stoddard's direction, the leader exclaimed, "Oh, Laura Stoddard. If the art work is under her direction, we know it is all right!"

He knew her from the professional angle. But he could not know her as those who worked with her. At first she guided children in all the grades. But after the Braeside School was built, she went there also, and so was unable to give time regularly to the primary grades. Still later, classes at West Ridge School were added to her other work. In spite of her many new assignments, she continued to meet the needs of all the schools. Few projects in connection with classroom units were completed without her advice and cooperation. Her help with scenery and costumes for assemblies was taken for granted. Her classes made all the scenery for the class plays, and she saw that it was properly arranged on the stage when scenes were shifted. The responsibility for the care of the costume room was hers. Under her direction, eighth grade girls even made our earlier gray backpack for the stage.

In addition to her work in the fine arts, she offered to interested children, especially boys, craft classes in which they carried on such activities as rug weaving, modeling in clay, wood carving and the making of model airplanes. Someone less conscientious might have slighted some of these demands on her time and energy, but Miss Stoddard met them all unflinchingly and efficiently.

No problem was too difficult for her creative ingenuity to solve; nor were the time and energy required to bring a task to a successful conclusion ever too much for her untiring zeal to give freely and cheerfully.

We will remember you,
A loyal friend and worker true
Who found no job too hard
Nor task too great to do.

Why I don't act my age

Act my age! Why, I'd be acting like an old worn-out cleaner that's ready for the scrap pile. Instead, I'm young and active, and can clean rugs with the best of 'em.

That's because my owner gives me extra special care. And it's mighty important now during wartime, because materials that usually go into vacuum cleaners are needed for making guns and tanks and planes.

If you ask me, I'd say my boss is wise and patriotic, too. And I suggest that you follow her example. It's really very easy.

First thing to remember is to empty the dust bag every time you use your vacuum cleaner. You'll be surprised how much better your cleaner works.

Shake the bag thoroughly to get the dust out of the pores of the cloth. And every month or so brush the bag... but don't ever wash it.

No, no, lady! Don't run your cleaner over pins, tacks, hair pins, coins or other hard objects. Pick them up by hand, and you'll avoid unnecessary repairs.

Check the brush to see that it is properly adjusted—about one-eighth inch below the nozzle. It should be reset periodically to compensate for wear.

A new brush sweeps clean. So if the tufts become badly worn, replace the brush. And remember to keep it free from hair, lint and thread.

Famous last words—Follow the manufacturer's instructions for lubricating your cleaner. And don't attempt to service your motor. Let your dealer do it.
