OCD Consumer Breakfast Class Well Attended

"Let's start with breakfast!" said Miss Ann L. Olson, nationally known Home Economist who is conducting the Lever Bros. School of Wartime Cookery at the Highland Park Y. W. C. A. "Housewives have a big and important job in this war. Start the day right with a good, nourishing breakfast."

The "breakfast" session of the Lever Bros. School was held last Friday. This Friday, May 28th, Miss Olson will talk about—"Luncheons." On Friday June 4th, she will discuss "Dinners." Each school session will begin promptly at 1:30 p.m. Admission is free. For a small charge children of busy mothers will be cared for. Many attractive prizes were given away last Friday including the appetizing and attractive dishes prepared by Miss Olson. Prizes will also be given away at the two remaining sessions.

Mrs. I. S. Riggs, chairman of the Consumer Information Service of the Office of Civilian Defense, introduced the young and attractive Miss Olson to the audience. Mrs. Riggs expressed appreciation of Lever Bros. for sending one of their finest experts from the Spry Kitchens and thus cooperating with the government in a national wartime educational program designed to help housewives with their food problems.

Miss Olson "glamorized" many commonplace breakfast dishes and delighted her "pupils" with her deft, sparkling touch and the charming manner in which she answered a barrage of questions. The audience was large and appreciative and it is hoped everyone that possibly can will take advantage of this splendid opportunity to learn something new and help the war effort.

A complaint was made by Commissioner Arthur Swanson regarding the raising of the railroad tracks at Elm place and Central avenue. The Northwestern railroad will be notified of this condition.

Commissioner Swanson also discussed the dogs ruining Victory Gardens. The matter was referred to the police department.

A discussion took place among the Council members regarding the open sewers on Lambert Tree road and a letter will be written by Mayor Garnett to Ravinia Park, where the street is located, asking that storm sewers be installed.

Lieut. George Titman is visiting his father, G. A. Titman of N. St. Johns avenue and will report to Alpena, Mich., when he leaves here. He received his pilot's wings at army Gulf Coast Training Center, Randolph Field, Texas.

Demonstration Given Victory Garden Canning Group May 24

A small group of neighborhood women interested in learning how to can fruits and vegetables and thus insuring their families against a possible food shortage, met Monday May 24th at the home of Mrs. C. Eugene Pfister of Highland Park. Mrs. Pfister who is chairman of the Victory Garden Canning Committee strongly urges the forming of these neighborhood groups so that women who are novices in canning may take heart and learn that canning is not really difficult but a most interesting and satisfying experience. Mrs. E. K. Rice demonstrated the pressure cooker method and Mrs. John Monroe the hot water bath method. The group discussion and exchange of experiences and ideas was greatly beneficial. Mrs. Pfister will be glad to help anyone interested in forming these neighborhood groups.

Tentative plans are being made for use of the Highland Park High School in holding group canning demonstrations this summer. According to Mrs. Pfister, this series of demonstrations cannot be announced until plans for the school's summer session has been completed. Miss Bean of the Home Economics Dept. will conduct the demonstrations. Watch this paper for further announcements.

Workshops Of A. W. V. Sew for Men In Service

The Volunteer Workshops of the American Women's Voluntary services are designed for women who are interested in making their contribution to the war effort by sewing for convalescent service men. According to Mrs. George Fortelka, chairman, they will cover the entire metropolitan and suburban area.

The volunteers sew, make afghans and slippers under trained supervision. The afghans, consisting of large varicolored squares of wool, crocheted together with bright yarn, are quite attractive. The slippers, designed for comfort, are also made from wool. The Marine hospital, Great Lakes Naval Training station and the Sixth Service command have been supplied with the finished articles.

Members are free to contribute all or part-time work at the Workshops, or if unable to do so, may do this work in their own homes.

The unit is urgently asking for contributions of wool, yarn, or sewing machines.

Women of Moose To Sponsor Dance

"My big sister told me—"

"She says we can all do something to help the war work. Or give up something..."

"Like telephone calls. When I get my girl friend on the wire, we go on and on and on, like as not. And all that time, no one else can call our family—or her family..."

"And that isn't all. My sister's a telephone operator, and she says sometimes the lines are so busy people have a long wait."

"And the worst of it is, you can't tell who it is you're making wait! It may be a soldier or sailor. Or an air raid warden."

"Maybe it's some war plant trying to reach a worker. Or somebody needing a doctor right away..."

"Well... I don't think any of my calls are that important!"

"So I, for one, am not going to stay on the line so long. And I'm going to ask my friends to be brief, too."
