Events of Year Outlined In Voters League's Bulletin

In the quarterly report recently issued by the Illinois League of Women Voters by the Highland Park League, Mrs. Haller, president, has reviewed the accomplishments of April, May and June of this year. Listed as the two most significant activities during this period were the work on the six April elections and the assistance to the school board on the first step toward the collection on delinquent taxes. The League covered its entire membership by telephone through election captains to secure a representative vote in the elections, and the number of votes cast exceeded that of any other year in an uncontested election. One of the League's strongest policies is that of informed, interested participation in government. The committee which worked in the county office at Waukegan recording the list of tax delinquents is now assisting in addressing the tax notices.

The Highland Park League of Women Voters supported the tax appropriation for a town recreational program and aroused public interest in the school budget hearing. The department of Government and Its Organization started a Junior League of Women Voters at the Highland Park high school and gave a Girl Scout citizenship talk at the Braeside school in April.

Interviews with public officials included all the legislators in this district and the welfare worker of the State department of Child Welfare. Members of the League visited the Park board and the County board, and arranged with Miss Rosemary Carr, the welfare worker loaned to Lake county, to train members to interpret her program to groups in Highland Park who should be aware of her work and the opportunities it affords for pre-delinquent children.

The one general meeting in this three month period was the all-day annual meeting on April 28, with an attendance of 150. Mr. William D. Clarke, assistant director of the British Information service, spoke on "Economic Problems Now and After the War." There were two board meetings, and regular meetings of department chairmen, who are working with their sustaining committees during the summer in preparation for the fall programs and the League school. The League has conducted a drive to increase revenue from memberships in order to strengthen their financial aid to the Illinois League of Women Voters, and have worked on organization and work in personnel.

Relations Class To Celebrate

The North Shore International Relations Class will celebrate its fourth year at a summer meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. David Cahn, 205 Harbor street, Glencoe, on Tuesday, August 17 at 1:30. At this meeting Eve Curie's "Journey Among Warriors" will be presented in absentia to Mrs. Meyer Steinberg as Capt. Steinberg's family have taken residence near his post of duty, Fort Sill, Okla. The prize was won in a recent world affairs competition.

The prize selection is particularly appropriate. Miss Curie, impatient with what she considers the absurd cliché about a "small world," believes that only by thinking of it as immense and varied can people realistically approach solution to problems fundamental to interdependent living.

The group feels that although its program has been necessarily curtailed, the time spent has been to good purpose and ways will be devised to streamline its program to fit budgeted hours and best serve as a community clearing center on post-war problems.

Members of the community are welcome to join the class in its informal session. Please note the change of date from Friday, August 13 to Tuesday, August 17.

In addition to the older range makers, several firms such as Servel will add Gas ranges to their line of appliances after the war and you will buy still further improved and even more economical Gas ranges.

Please limit your Long Distance calls to matters that are really IMPORTANT

Right! WAR NEEDS THE WIRES NOW. Long Distance telephone lines are often crowded to capacity—and your "non-essential" call may delay some message that is necessary and urgent.

Your operator tries to put every call through, but she cannot know whether one call is more important than another.

Please remember those things when you're planning to make a social call or any other personal call that you might well do without.

Decide now to make fewer Long Distance calls—and keep all calls as brief as possible. Thank you.
