League of Women Voters to Meet September 22

How to be an effective discussion group leader is the subject of an all day workshop of the board of the League of Women Voters Wednesday, Sept. 22, in the library auditorium. Mrs. Evelyn Millis Duvall, director of the Association for Family Living, is coming to Highland Park to lead the day's program. Mrs. Duvall is well known throughout the Chicago region as an authority of informal education.

League members who are frequently called upon to conduct study classes, or lead panel discussions will have an opportunity to learn more about such questions as how to make discussion lively and to the point, how to get participation from all members of a group, and how to keep up a continuing interest over a period of time. There will be an opportunity for members to try out techniques of leadership on one another. The league has invited the presidents of the Lake Forest, Lake Bluff and Barrington Leagues of Women Voters, the presidents of the Highland Park P.T.A.'s, and the executives of several group work agencies in Highland Park to be guests for the day.

The Association for Family Living, directed by Mrs. Duvall, has been known in Highland Park chiefly through its parent education work, but one of its functions is also the training of group leaders. For the past seven years it has offered, at the request of lay and professional people, training courses for those engaged in informal adult education. The Office of Civilian Defense used the staff of the association last spring in its Moral Leaders Training course to present accepted ways of handling discussion groups.

"More and more, group discussion is being used as a means of helping people think through current problems," says Mrs. Duvall. "It takes expert leadership to keep discussion constructive, to make people feel comfortable in a group and make the group process truly democratic. For at its best, the discussion group is one of the finest instruments we have at hand for making democracy work. I suppose that accounts for the interest of the League of Women Voters in improving their skill in this field."

HALL OF FAME ON THE FOOD FRONT

America's "soil soldiers" are doing a wonderful job. Thanks to these hard working, patriotic farmers our fighting forces are the best fed in the world.

In the territory served by the Chicago and North Western Line alone these "soil soldiers" are producing 57 per cent of the nation's corn and over 47 per cent of our hogs. Quite a showing for nine states. Feasting bounteously on corn, no wonder porkers become sleek and fat.

Statistics, generally speaking, may be pretty boring. But war makes them mighty important—yes, and interesting. These same mid-western states, for instance, produce 62 per cent of the nation's oats, 67 per cent of the barley, one-third of the wheat, three-quarters of the rye and flax. Then there's hay—41 per cent of all tonnage comes from these same states.

Livestock, too, makes a splendid showing. Besides hogs, these states raise 34 per cent of our cattle, over one-quarter of our sheep, better than 31 per cent of our chickens and 26 per cent of our turkeys.

Really something, isn't it? Do you wonder we're proud of the "soil soldiers" we serve? From these hard working producers to our fighting forces move the foods that keep our boys in top condition . . . and we are happy that America's railroads, including the "North Western," can play a part. It's one of the many transportation jobs we're doing to shorten the gap between now and victory.
