WHAT'S NEW
Frank Sinclair of the Milwaukee Journal wrote about a Canadian Army Captain who trained himself to pick up a shaker with his artificial hand. Also, he can write, use a square, put on a gas mask, telephone, cut meat, load a revolver, fire a rifle, drive a truck, and dig a trench. He was returned active duty.

Did we complain? Manpower shortage and other problems look small by comparison with that captain, don't they?
Rev. "Let us pray—Brother Runnfeldt, will you lead?"
PaPul, walking up sudden.
"It isn't my lead, I just deal."

Army garrison bakeries said to bake 1,250,000 pounds of bread per day. We are proud of the part Gas ovens are playing in training army bakers baking for our army. Some of the fuel gas you save is needed for this purpose.

A small model Gas Range has been put into production. Local Gas range dealers will soon have them available for those customers who are eligible for OPA certificates.
We'll always appreciate suggestions for improving North Shore Gas Co. either for the War or for the present.

We do OUR BEST WORK on Both Fronts

Practically all new telephone equipment now being made is for war—special instruments for planes, tanks, ships and field systems. They are the best of their kind in the world, and constant research is making them even better!

The same sort of telephone research has enabled us to continue to serve you here on the home front.

In the face of critical shortages of materials, we have been able to stretch existing facilities to give most people normal service.

If you could spend a week with an Illinois Bell repair man, you'd see many amazing ways of "making it do." You'd see how we use plastics, glass and wood to replace tin, rubber and other materials.

He'd tell you that many worn parts and pieces are reconditioned to serve "like new." He'd show you new devices invented under the pressure of war to cut down wastes and keep up the service.

Telephone people are working as a team to give you all the service there is! They intend to stay at that job, regardless of difficulties.
