What's Cooking

A housewife reports that even though her life in wartime seems to be spent in the kitchen she has papered her kitchen walls with large National Geographic maps. Now she can follow the progress of the war as she hears it over the kitchen radio while she prepares meals, does canning and ironing.

Speaking of CANNING, National Safety Council advised against canning in the oven. Incidentally, have you picked up your canning booklet at this office?

Little Janet, one of our neighbors, tells the following story. "Do you know what the Jap flag said to the American flag?" No, what did it say? "The Jap flag said 'You look like a stick of candy.' Then the American flag answered: 'Yes, but I have never been licked.'"

Then one of the neighborhood's 8-year-old warriors calls our attention to the fact that a new airplane engine has 24 cylinders and develops 3000 horsepower.

Over in Africa the Seabees wanted an ice cream freezer so they made one from a confiscated German motor, a reduction gear from Italy, a gas drum from Paris, several small parts from Palermo, Sicily, and used parts from U.S. tractors and similar machinery.

Several of your Gas appliance service men are serving in the Seabees. One half of our service department is in the armed forces. We'll be glad when they are back on the old job—

CONSOLIDATION—
sulted in a friendly feeling between the faculty and board of education in District 107 that is unique.
Such a feeling would be difficult, if not impossible, to have with board members from a wider area, a superintendent engrossed in administrative duties, and a greatly increased faculty.

III. A smaller school unit provides an opportunity for groups in art, music, etc., to be taught by specialists in their fields rather than by class room teachers directed by supervisors as is often the case in larger school units.
(The Survey reports that District 107 has adequate equipment for full time specialists.)
In a larger school unit, the pupil would miss the inspiration of, and the frequent personal contact with the special teacher which according to the survey very often creates serious difficulties in developing an effective program of work.

IV. In a smaller unit, such as we have, strictly local control of income seems desirable so that any future building programs would be directed toward the benefit of the children in District 107.
(According to the ratings of the Survey staff, the buildings of District 107 are superior to those of District 108. At the present time, Elm Place school has adequate room for expansion without an immediate building program, however, a long term building program would provide for further expansion in the Greenbay Road school area.)
Under the proposed consolidation, the tax income could be diverted to other areas where building needs are more acute than in District 107.

V. District 107, although a small unit, is sufficiently large to operate economically, as regards supplies, administration, and teaching staff.

(Because of the easy accessibility of the superintendent at Elm Place school, special building principals have not been needed. Our supplies have been purchased in sufficiently large quantities that lowest possible prices have been available.)
It is not apparent how the income of the consolidated districts could provide additional curricular advantages because consolidation would not create more funds with which to operate or to provide a larger staff to carry out further improvements.

Increased administrative complications, would also follow.

VI. Within a smaller community it would seem easier to develop unanimity of purpose, a spirit of loyalty, and co-operative effort.

(Home visitations in District 107 have been an important means of integrating school and the home. The P.T.A. organizations have jointly sponsored many worthwhile activities.)

Although in any community there is apt to be some diversity of purpose, the larger the school unit, the greater the chance to be influenced by petty jealousies, pressure groups, and politics to the disadvantage of the educational program.

Conclusion
In accepting the recommendations of the Survey Staff which says, "The union of the six elementary school districts under a single board of education and a single professional leader provides the best solution to the inequalities of educational opportunities which now exist among the elementary school districts of Highland Park High school, we would favor consolidation of the six elementary school districts feeding into the Highland Park High school, rather than the consolidation of District 107 and 108, and we would forego the above mentioned advantages in order to provide equal opportunities to all children who enter the Highland Park High school. But until such consolidation is feasible, we recommend the continued co-operation and co-ordination of the elementary schools and the high school through such groups as the Superintendents' Round Table, District Conferences and Study Groups."

Therefore, at a special meeting of the Elm Place and Greenbay Road Teachers' council held on June 5, 1944, after due deliberation, the following resolution was moved and seconded and, in a secret ballot, carried by a vote of 30 in favor to 2 against, and 2 undecided namely:
RESOLVED, that the Elm Place-Greenbay Road Teachers' Council is of the opinion that the consolidation of School Districts 107 and 108 is not in the best interest of the schools, children or teachers of District 107, and RESOLVED FURTHER, that the Secretary of this Council is instructed to send copies of these proceedings to the Board of Education of District 107 and to the P.T.A.'s of that District with the request that these proceedings be spread upon the records of the Board of Education and the P.T.A.'s of District 107.

COMMUNICATION

August 15, 1944.
Editor Highland Park Press:

Dear Sir:
The Highland Park Recreation Summer program closed last week. Under the able direction of well-known Mr. "X" the whole community has benefited greatly as parents of children who participated know.

But, how many of those who have had little contact with the program, either because children are lacking in their homes, or else because of other reasons, fail to appreciate that all of us, the whole community, whether it shared directly or not, will profit from this supervised recreation. Delinquency, and even mischief-making will occur less often in Highland Park. The prospects that today's youngsters will become better adult neighbors in the future are more certain. Many of us hope for another summer recreation program under the direction of Mr. G. Scheuchenflug (Mr. "X") and his able staff.

Sincerely,
H. K. P.

What's A Mere Million?
Here are two quotes lifted bodily from the Congressional Record to reveal the kind of thinking in which long-time New Dealers still indulge, although they are talking "economy" in speeches to their constituents:
"Mr. Barkley: I hope the Senate will accept my amendment. The difference between $15,000,000 and $15,250,000 is rather inconsequential."

—Senate, June 20, 1944."
"Mr. Russell: . . . Not a great deal of money is involved in this amendment; only $500,000 is involved, and that is a small sum of money.—Senate, June 16, 1944."

WHILE FIVE SONS AND A GRANDSON ARE IN SERVICE

Agent and Mrs. White "Can All They Can"

● Over in Concord, Nebraska, "North Western's" Cecil G. White is busy with his daily tasks. His is a service record of many years. But since war came the Whites have won distinction in another way—five sons and a grandson wear Uncle Sam's fighting uniforms.

You might say this is enough glory for one family. But patriotic Mrs. White thought differently. She turned to victory gardening and last year canned over 600 quarts of fruits and vegetables. That's deserving of comment. This year she expects to do as well or better!

But to get back to the White boys.

Russell, a 1st Lieutenant of Marines, has seen action at Guadalcanal and Tarawa, and is now on Saipan. Sergeant Vilas is over in New Guinea. Vernon, in the Southwest Pacific, is a Navy Aerographer's Mate. Norman, still in the States, is an Air Cadet, while Private Merton is at Camp Phillips, Kansas. Then there's Jerry, Lieut. Russell's son, in Officers' Training Camp at San Diego.

Marvin, we might add, enlisted in the army in 1939, but received a medical discharge last September. He's still carrying on, though... in a Minneapolis defense plant.

A most unusual family, you'll agree. Every member is doing what he can to hasten victory. "North Western" is proud of the Whites—they and their kind are the backbone of America.
