

DEEPS and SHALLOWS

Balance

Form, though fit to frame it, Accent art, and aim it, Cannot be the ending; There must be a blending.

Dead decrees defame it, Tether it and tame it... Strive for moderation; Find the true equation.

Poets, please proclaim it, Notarize and name it; From a mind restricted, Talent is evicted.

Pat Shannon Sloan.

Defense on the Home Front

Being somewhat deaf in one ear, and holding the nozzle of the hose with a sprinkling attachment going full tilt which really needed all my attention, I could not be sure; still I thought I heard a voice.

As I was near the front of the house and hadn't seen anyone come in, I thought I was mistaken. But in a minute I heard it again.

I turned around, and found standing about twenty feet away a very large man, without a hat, hair rumpled, shirt open at the neck, no tie, and trousers the worse for wear.

He was in the act of picking up a large piece of flag stone. It was heavy, and the way he was holding it made me think he was going to throw it at me.

We had had several very hot days and this was going to be another scorcher. I came to the conclusion that this man had suddenly gone insane from the heat.

I had heard that to handle a lunatic one had to do one of two things: either play the game the way he wanted to, or let him see at once that you were boss. I chose the latter course.

I ordered him in my sternest manner to put that stone back exactly where he picked it up. He hesitated a minute and then put it back. Then, in still a commanding way, I asked him where he came from. He answered, pointing toward the back of the lot, "From back there," and started limping toward the porch, which was nearer to me.

Now "from back there" meant the ravine. That ravine was a favorite hiding place for escaped prisoners from Fort Sheridan. Why, of course, I should have thought of that in the first place. That explained the man's appearance. The limp also could be explained. Climbing the ravines in this dry weather wasn't easy. He could have sprained his ankle.

He began telling me he had a corn on the bottom of his foot and he couldn't stand to have his shoe on another minute. When he pulled at his stocking he winced. I concluded that he was trying to get my sympathy, and that all the while he was trying to get some unsuspected weapon to throw at me. His shoe would be as good as anything.

I wanted to get into the house, and I wanted a reasonable excuse for so doing. So I said, "I have a foot plaster which is very soothing, and if you'll promise to sit there, I'll get it for you."

He began taking off his shoe and promised he would sit still until I came back.

The hose was attached to the faucet at the back of the house. So I pulled it along with me, dumped the nozzle into a fern bed, and turned off the faucet, taking the key with me.

I scooted upstairs, got a foot plaster, and while he was bending over putting it on the sole of his foot, I sneaked his shoe, which he had put behind him, and put it in the box which I have on the porch for the milkman.

Just then the guns began shooting at Great Lakes. I sat on the door step so I could get into the house if I had to.

The medicated plaster was easing the pain in the man's foot and he was feeling better, and so grateful. I mentioned the guns at Great Lakes and then gradually came around to talking about the guns at Fort Sheridan.

He said, "My grandmother was a German, and she used to tell us stories. Every one of them ended in one of the Ten Commandments."

It looked as if he wanted to impress me, and that made me decide to take his shoe with me into the house when I was going to telephone for the police. But before I could do any telephoning, I noticed a gray auto coming along the street very slowly, and then turning into our drive.

The driver leaned out and said, "I see, Dan, you didn't get very far... You must be pretty hungry. Come with me and I'll get you a nice dinner."

The man didn't seem afraid of the driver. I began to think I had better go back to my first impression of the man being at least temporarily off balance.

He said, "I'll be glad to go with you. This good woman has given me a magic plaster for my foot, but I haven't talked business with her."

Lt. Peter Reinhart Arrives Home Monday

"How does it seem to be home?" Just plain wonderful!" states Lieut. Peter Reinhart, colorful figure in the war news, with deep sincerity. He reached Highland Park on Monday to stay until October with his mother, Mrs. George Moseley, 425 Egandale.

It will be recalled that Lt. Reinhart, pilot of a B-17, and hero of 30 missions over enemy territory, was forced down over Jugo-Slavia on Jan. 24 and reported missing. However, the news of his rescue was not long in following.

A strict censorship, as well as modesty, prohibits Lt. Reinhart from revealing the details of his adventures, but we do know that he was recently awarded the DFC for assisting in the safe landing of a disabled plane with four dead engines, over rough, mountainous territory. For this he received a citation for courage, skill and initiative. His party finally arrived in Italy.

Among other decorations the lieutenant is the possessor of the Air Medal and a silver cluster, the equivalent of five gold ones.

Students to Enter Colleges, Universities

It is reported that, owing to housing and transportation problems, many college and university students are entering or transferring to institutions nearer home, this fall. Among those who will enter Northwestern university as freshmen are Jean Skidmore, Grace Williams, Ipsy Hayes and Katherine Kerrihard. Barbara Bode will return to Northwestern, and Nancy Nerheim will transfer from Carleton to Wisconsin. Luise Haessler will return to Vassar, where she will finish in December. Betty McClure and Marian Kerrihard will return to Lake Forest for their senior year. Paula Raff, Louise Carani, Sally Friedman and Dorothy Bonn will return to Iowa as juniors. Joan Van Bergen and Betty Ann Wyble will begin their freshman year at Carleton. Bunny Norman, Bannockburn, will leave shortly for Mills college in California, and Carolyn Wyble plans to enter prep school at Monticello.

Margaret Anne Elmore and Janet Elizabeth Morrissy have enrolled in DePauw university.

Sandra Lee Rankin Born in Pensacola

Sandra Lee Rankin, weighing over 8 pounds, arrived with the stork on Sunday, Sept. 3, at the home of Ens. and Mrs. Leslie Rankin. Mrs. Rankin, the former Elaine Kauffman, is with her husband in Pensacola, Fla., where he is an instructor in the Navy air forces. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Kauffman, 2243 S. Sheridan, has been visiting the young couple for several weeks.

The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rankin, Sr., will leave next week for their first view of the new arrival.

Leontine Benuventi Weds William Goodall

In an informal ceremony last week, Miss Leontine Benuventi and William Goodall, both of Highland Park, were united in marriage by Justice Howard Huber, in his office at 386 Central, Highland Park.

The bride, dressed in powder blue with corsage of white roses, was attended by Mrs. Bruno Benuventi, cousin of the bride, wearing white and green with tea roses. Joseph DeWilde, of Waukegan, uncle of the bride, served as best man.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at The Highlander for the bridal party, and a few close friends.

After honeymooning in Wisconsin the couple will make their home with Mrs. James Goodall, 722 North, Highland, mother of the bridegroom.

Charlotte Getz to Return After Summer in East

Charlotte Getz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Getz, 64 Clifton, who has been doing work at the Marine biological laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass., for the summer, is now in New York city. She is expected to return this week-end to Highland Park, and will complete her course at Chicago university, graduating in December.

Rites Held on Tuesday For Mrs. A. Schlossman

Funeral services were held on Tuesday in Chicago for Mrs. Augusta H. Schlossman, aged 80, who passed away at the home of her son, Norman J., 1415 Dean, last Saturday. She had made this her home for seven years. Her husband, the late Isaac Schlossman, of the Brunswick-Balke-Collander Co., passed away 13 years ago.

She is survived by her son, Norman, a grandson, John Schlossman, and a sister, Mrs. William T. Hynds, living in Toronto, Canada.

Activities at the Highland Park USO

Regulation boxes of the proper size for overseas mailing may be purchased at the Highland Park USO. In addition, from Sept. 15 through Oct. 15, the USO Home Hospitality committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Nerheim, will be prepared to wrap packages for overseas mailing.

Two big dancing parties are featured at the Highland Park USO this week. On Friday, September 8, from 8 to 11 p.m. the Highland Park USO and the Jewish Welfare board under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Wyle and Mrs. Ben Lazard, will sponsor a dance for 200 men from the outgoing unit of Great Lakes. The 344th Army band will play and during the intermission the national champion baton twirlers, Shirley and William Skrivan, will give an exhibition. At 9:30 the J.W.B. will serve refreshments.

On Sunday, Sept. 10, the Java club will meet at 9:30. Mrs. Gerard Priestly from London, England, will speak on the post-war world. From 6 to 8 the Northmoor Country club under the direction of Mrs. Melville Keim, will serve a buffet supper.

At 8:30 there will be a sing-song, and at 7 the feature motion picture "Algiers" will be shown. At 9 the 344th Army band will play for dancing.

Tuesday, Sept. 12, the Wilmette Rotary club will sponsor a dancing party for the outgoing unit at Great Lakes. Weather permitting, the dance will be held out of doors. The 740th M. P. band of Camp Skokie will play. At 9 there will be a variety show and at 8:30 refreshments will be served.

Maine Girl Engaged to Capt. James D. Aubrey

The engagement of Miss Phyllis Thaxter of Portland, Maine, to Capt. James D. Aubrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Aubrey, Sr., 181 Hazel, has been announced by her parents, Judge and Mrs. Sidney St. Felix Thaxter. Miss Thaxter, daughter of a Maine supreme court judge, and a graduate of St. Genevieve's school of Montreal, is expected to be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey in October. Capt. Aubrey, army pilot, is a Princeton man.

Three other Aubrey sons, Lt. Steber, Lt. George and Pvt. David, are in the army.

Mrs. Joseph Leaming Is Taken by Death

Mrs. Joseph F. Leaming, an active, well-beloved and long-time resident of Ravinia and Highland Park, died in her home on Dean Ave. on Saturday. Although she had been failing for many months, with indomitable courage she was able to be up and about until the very end, when a heart attack caused her death, and she quietly slipped away.

Her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Harriet Mc. Guire, and Marjorie, and a son Jerry and four grandchildren survive her. Her son, a captain in the army, stationed in Georgia at present, arrived on Monday, and two sons of Mrs. Mc. Guire are serving their country over seas.

Born Katherine Crosey, Mrs. Leaming was always very alive and alert to the best interests of the community, and civic affairs, a former president of the Ravinia Woman's club, and an active member of the Presbyterian church.

She became a member of the national society of the D.A.R. in 1906 and twice became regent of the North Shore chapter. Her regency was during the first world war, 1915 and 1916, and again in 1918 and 1920, and in recognition of her splendid work in those troubled times, the chapter conferred on her an honorary life membership. Her interest in the chapter never faltered, and she was present at every meeting possible.

Services were held on Tuesday, Dr. Louis W. Sherwin officiating, and burial was in Lake Forest. Mrs. Leaming was 75 years old.

Rites Held for W. K. Mandell

Last rites were held on Wednesday at the Kelly chapel, 27 N. Sheridan, for W. K. Mandell, 131 Pleasant, Highland, who succumbed to a heart ailment on Sunday at the local hospital. He had lived in Highland for the past three years, operating a restaurant-tavern there.

He is survived by his wife, his mother, who lives in Milwaukee, a son, Lt. John Mandell, stationed at Cambridge, Mass., and two sisters.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH SUNDAY

Special services will be held in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Green Bay and Homewood, Sunday, Sept. 10, at 10:45, in memory of Pvt. Francis Ronzani, paratrooper, who was lost in action last June in the invasion of France.

The Royal Arch Masons, Chapter 226, will meet for the first time this season on Wednesday, Sept. 13, at the Masonic temple.

I love smooth words, like gold-enameled fish Which circle slowly with a silken swish. And tender ones, like downy-feathered birds! Words shy and dappled, deep-eyed deer in herds.

—Elinor Wylie.

JOSEPH L. PROCTORS MOVE TO MICHIGAN

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Proctor, 618 S. Green Bay, are moving to Muskegon, Mich., where they will for the time being make their home with their son, Garfield. Mr. and Mrs. Proctor have made their home in Highland Park for over 30 years.

W. J. Seguin, program chairman of the Lions club, has been appointed to succeed Dr. James Butterworth as deputy district governor of district 1-F. Dr. Butterworth recently joined the U. S. Marine corps.

GLENCOE

Theatre, 630 Vernon Avenue Highland Park 605

THURS., FRI., SAT. Sept. 7-8-9

Charles Laughton, Charles Boyer Rita Hayworth

"TALES OF MANHATTAN"

SUN., MON., TUES., WED., Sept. 10, 11, 12, 13

Gary Cooper, Laraine Day

"THE STORY OF DR. WASSELL"

THU., FRI., SAT., Sept. 14-15-16

Ginger Rogers, George Murphy

"TOM, DICK AND HARRY"

YOU'LL BE CA-RAZY ABOUT SKIP FARRELLI AND THE

BOWMAN MUSICAL MILKWAGON

NEW TIME 10 A.M. WGN

Monday through Friday mornings. Thirty minutes of lifting melody and sparkling harmony. TUNE IN!

Local Events of 25 Years Ago

Waukegan Flats

A letter written by Everett L. Millard was published describing the Waukegan flats and dunes region urging people to become better acquainted with these natural beauties of Lake county. The flats were extolled for the profusion of flowers, some rarely found elsewhere in northern Illinois. This section was highly recommended for a picnic or a day of rest and relaxation.

Elonzo Tyner

Elonzo Tyner, prominent citizen, retired member of the Edward V. Price Company, passed away suddenly at Exmoor club.

Park Board

The new Park Board advertised for a large tract of land suitable for baseball, golf, toboggan, etc. E. A. Warren was appointed secretary of the board to replace Miss Mary H. Lovedale.

Tribune Staff

Rev. Frederick L. Gratia, former curate of the Trinity church, was appointed religious editor of the Tribune to succeed Rev. E. W. Norton.

Highland Park Business Men

The annual stag party of the Highland Park Business Men's association was planned to take place in Milwaukee, with special train for transportation.

Community Shop

The Community Shop had established new quarters at 374 E. Central Ave.

Silent Movies

Mutt and Jeff comedies, Anita Stewart, Viola Dana and Tom Mix comedies were being shown at the local theater.

Deerfield-Shields

The high school was considering a demand for the opening of evening classes.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Suggestions of a few of the kinds of books for work and for pleasure, which may be found at the Highland Park Public library:

- Primer of Electronics—Caverly. Electric Wiring—Schuhler. Elements of Metallurgy—Frier. Fundamentals of Mechanics—Joseph. Industrial Radiology—St. John. Zero Storage in Your Home—Sparks. Counseling and Psychotherapy—Rogers. Art of Color and Design—Graves. Fishing. Freshwater Bass—Bergman. Striped Bass—Rodman. Freshwater Angling—Knight. Incomplete Anglers—Robins.

Births at the H. P. Hospital

- Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joyce, Salem, Wis., a boy, Aug. 29. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Balling, Wheeling, a girl, Aug. 29. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Huff, 1529 Woodvine court, Deerfield, a boy, Aug. 29. Cpl. and Mrs. D. F. Geppert, 614 Woodpath Ave., a girl, Aug. 30. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jenisio, 221 Morgan Pl., Highwood, a boy, Aug. 30. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCormick, 1258 Walter Ave., Northbrook, a boy, Aug. 31. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Monfardini, 226 Highwood Ave., Highwood, a girl, Sept. 3. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tracy, 745 Chestnut, Deerfield, a girl, Sept. 3. r. and Mrs. Axel Nord, 122 High, Highwood, a boy, Sept. 5. Dr. and Mrs. Ellis H. Harris, 7 Hickory, Northbrook, a girl, Sept. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peddle, 619 Homewood, are rejoicing in the arrival of their first grandchild, Bernard Joseph Jacobs, born at Fort George Wright, Washington. The parents are S/Sgt. James and Ruth Peddle Jacobs.

We Carry A FINE LINE OF School Supplies Larson's STATIONERY

Everything you want in a BLANKET!

KENWOOD Famous ALL-WOOL BLANKETS $14.95

There's extra warmth in that long, deep nap... in the lively virgin wool with long, strong fibers. But not an ounce of surplus weight! That spells sleeping comfort. Kitten-soft surface to cuddle your cheek.

And note these quality points. Pre-shrunk to keep its full size and beauty year after year. Colors dyed-in-the-wool for through-and-through loveliness.

Rose Green Blue Peach A BUY AT $14.95

Rayon Satin Binding KENWOOD "Famous" All-Wool Blankets

GARNETT & CO. HIGHLAND PARK, ILLINOIS