

Mrs. Raymond Watts To Address Ravinia Garden Club Nov. 10

Mrs. Raymond Watts of Naperville, an honorary member of the Ravinia Garden club, will return to Highland Park on Nov. 10 to address the members of the club at the regular monthly meeting to be held at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Wilbor, 1881 Lyman Ct.

"History of the Local Terrain" will be the title of Mrs. Watts' talk but she will also include a short talk on conservation to help some of the younger members of the club.

Mrs. Watts lived in Highland Park until 1941 when she became head of the Morton arboretum and moved to Naperville. She is a most popular speaker and is well known throughout this whole area for her lectures on botany and subjects botanical.

Mrs. Bertram Weber, assistant chairman of the Plant, Flower and Fruit guild, has asked all members of the club to keep in mind the annual Christmas collection to be sent as usual to Northwestern Settlement next month. The guild wants anything except old clothes, worn out toys or adult magazines. November 4th has been set as the deadline for all packages to be in.

The meeting will be preceded by the regular board meeting and following the lecture, tea will be served. Mrs. Kenneth Kraft will be the assistant hostess for the afternoon and will be assisted by Mrs. P. D. Stokes, Mrs. Stanley Grace and Mrs. Theo Uehling.

Last Rites Wednesday For William G. Ives

On Wednesday, Nov. 1, funeral rites were held at the Petroschius Funeral home in North Chicago, for William Griffith Ives, 360 Central Ave., Highland Park. The services were conducted by the A. O. Fay lodge, A.F. & A.M., Dean Howard E. Ganster officiating.

Mr. Ives, popular trainmaster of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee railroad, passed away Sunday morning, Oct. 22, at the Lake Forest hospital, after an illness of about two weeks. The son of Charles and Rosabel Ives, he was born December 15, 1889, at Davenport, Iowa.

As a young man he came to Lake county, and began his railroad career in January, 1907. In 1909 he entered the motor service, and eight years later was made trainmaster, which position he retained until his death. An employee of the road for 38 years, he had a host of warm friends and acquaintances who valued him for his ready tact and agreeable personality. For many years he was an active member of the Masonic lodge.

He is survived by his widow, Margaret, now chief clerk at the local Selective Service board, No. 1, a stepson, Melvin L. Miller, 22, of the Navy air force, stationed at Miami, Fla., a stepdaughter, Jean, 16, of Junior Young People's society will this town, and two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Bower of Racine, Wis., and Mrs. E. L. Terry of Winfield, Kans.

Interment was made in the Ives family plot at Mound cemetery in Racine.

Ft. Sheridan Volunteers' Com. Entertains Officers And Civilian Friends

The Orientation Center at Fort Sheridan supplied unusual background for a large tea last Sunday, when the Fort Sheridan Volunteers' committee was hostess to officers at the Post and civilian friends of the Volunteers.

After guests had studied the wall-size water color maps and other global concepts of modern warfare, Mrs. Chase Smith, chairman of the tea, introduced Mrs. Harry N. Kerr, Wilmette, executive chairman of the Volunteers. Colonel George H. Cushman, post commander, was invited by Mrs. Kerr to tell of the Volunteers' work.

"There is a minimum of company punishment and AWOL problems at the fort," said Col. Cushman, "which can undoubtedly be credited to a large extent to the good work of the Volunteers." He said that no cash value can be given the real appreciation of thousands of enlisted men who were the direct benefactors.

Furnishings for a number of these recreation day rooms and many other contributions to Fort Sheridan soldiers' happiness and comforts have been supplied by Highland Park people who have shared in the Volunteers' work. Since 1942, this committee of North Shore women has co-ordinated civilian activities at the fort and interested many organizations and individuals in soldier welfare. Mrs. Chase Smith is village chairman for Highland Park and Mrs. Allan Kidd is chairman for Ravinia. Highland Park chairman of the fund raising drive which was launched last Sunday, is Mrs. James T. Aubrey.

Sixty recreation rooms — commonly called dayrooms — are well distributed over the post for convenient use by soldiers either daytime or evenings. These home-like and cheerful rooms are completely furnished with chairs, tables, reading lamps, circulating libraries, radios, curtains and pool and ping pong tables. Most of the furnishings have been donated by interested citizens. Because of the tremendous use of these dayrooms, the upkeep is an enormous and constant problem. Boys who have enjoyed these rooms write back "There will never be another Fort Sheridan."

War is seldom static. Fort Sheridan is both the beginning and the end of military service. Raw recruits are still marching into the Fort in civilian clothes, and at the same time the Separation center is busy relocating and releasing soldiers. Several states will be demobilized here and the Fort will be a military installation long after V day comes.

Magazines, Playing Cards Needed at Great Lakes

Gray ladies of the American Red Cross on duty at McIntyre hospital at Great Lakes Naval Training station are making an appeal for more magazines to provide recreation for the patients in the hospital.

While the Red Cross workers are grateful to those who responded so readily to last month's appeal for reading material, the need is a continuous one, as due to the paper shortage, publishers no longer make contributions and the hospital is now entirely dependent upon used magazines. With the exception of Reader's Digest, Geographic magazine and similar publications, the magazines should be of September and October issue.

Playing cards, which provide endless hours of entertainment for the patients, are also being solicited. Up to this time the Red Cross has provided new decks of cards, but now the supply is completely exhausted and there is no prospect of getting more.

Contributions of both magazines and cards may be brought to the American Red Cross center in the Public Service store, 521 Central Ave., Highland Park.

Let all your views in life be directed to a solid, however moderate, independence; without it no man can be happy, nor even honest.—Junius.

USO-Salvation Army Club Busy and Happy

Hobby horses are being made in "mass" production in the craft shop of the USO-Salvation Army at Highland Park. It all began when T/2 Krueger made one of the toys for his young Skipper. Now even civilians are asking for the patterns.

You may have your photo snapped with the new portrait camera and develop it yourself in the dark rooms.

A generous supply of fine plastic, maple lumber and several types of experimental plastic are now on hand—thanks to an old friend, Mr. McElroy.

Pfc. Bill Hooks said it with flowers—lovely chrysanthemums—when he returned from a home furlough last week. He is a florist by profession.

The regular club facilities are always available to Mr. and Mrs. G.I.

Landscapes by Paul Sargent Shown at Elm Place Exhibit

The current art exhibit at Elm Place school consists of two large canvasses by Paul T. Sargent.

Mr. Sargent is well known as one of the Brown county artists. His name also is in Who's Who in Art. He is at his best in landscape compositions showing fall coloring.

"The Oak" shows a flaming yellow tree with an interesting pattern of sunlight on the leaves, branches and tree trunk. The picture is framed by a suggestion of dark red oaks with patches of October's bright blue sky phing through.

In striking contrast is "Autumn Morning," a misty awakening on a hillside. A lone oak in the foreground stands as a sentinel overlooking the valley touched by sunlight.

The paintings will hang in the teachers' conference room of Elm Place during November and December.

RALPH CHURCH... and COMMUNISM

Ralph Church, a candidate to succeed himself as the Congressman from the 10th District, has proved himself incredibly unfit. His record is one of the worst for isolationism, obstructionism and partisanship. To his everlasting shame Church successfully led the fight against the proposal to fortify Guam. He opposed selective service. He opposed aiding our Allies. He opposed inflationary controls. He opposed a simple federal ballot for soldiers. He has repeatedly opposed progressive social legislation. It is a simple statement of fact to say that his performance in Congress has been one of the very dreariest. More than that, it is no secret on Capitol Hill, regardless of what tongue-in-cheek utterances are made for public consumption by Republican politicians, that Church is viewed even by the members of his own party with a mixture of amusement, disgust and contempt.

"Second Rate Cipher"

The Chicago Sun describes Church as "a second-rate cipher." The Chicago Daily News repudiates Church as "not on the alert." Time Magazine described Church as "an obscure Republican from Evanston, Illinois" who would do anything to get publicity and who needlessly, stubbornly and wastefully kept the entire House of Congress in session although there was no legislation ready for discussion. The New York Times recently reported that Church's statements before the House Committee to investigate campaign expenditures were "a series of general and disconnected charges."

On top of everything else, Church's true colors have emerged in the past few weeks. Thus Church, like the unscrupulous demagogue that he is, has lately assailed foreign-born American citizens. At the same time he has shown the utmost solicitude for such widely-known American fascists as Edward A. Rumely of the Committee for Constitutional Government and Joseph A. Kamp of the Constitutional Educational League. Edward A. Rumely was convicted for making a false report under the TRADING WITH THE ENEMY ACT in WORLD WAR ONE, and served time in the penitentiary for his offenses against the safety and security of the United States. Joseph A. Kamp, one of the vilest of the hatemongers, has a black record in stirring up racial and religious prejudice and won the fulsome praise of the representatives of the Nazi Government. Church was the only member of the House Committee investigating campaign expenditures who refused to sign a contempt citation against Rumely and Kamp even though they willfully and deliberately refused to disclose their financial backers.

Is it any wonder that the people of the 10th District, regardless of party affiliation or social or economic status, have concluded that Church is a dishonest and disgrace not only to the 10th District, but to the very cause of American institutions and American ideals?

Won't Discuss Record

Because of the tremendous opposition and resentment to Church's candidacy, he is aware that he is in no position to debate or defend his record as a Representative from the 10th District. In consequence, with the one exception when he was roundly and repeatedly booed by the Evanston League of Women Voters, Church has absolutely refused to appear at meetings with his opponent, Curtis D. MacDougall, and is at the greatest pains to avoid discussing concretely and specifically his Congressional record. Instead, in the hope of obscuring the issues and misleading his constituents, Church has broadly intimated that MacDougall is a "Communist." Church's Communistic charges are absolutely, completely and wilfully false. MacDougall is no more a Communist than was George Washington or Abraham Lincoln, and nobody knows that better than Church. His Communist smear of MacDougall is just a sample of Church's characteristically dirty and disreputable campaign tactics. He made the same charges during the campaign of 1938 against Joseph F. Elward, a very distinguished American citizen and a Professor of Law at Loyola University, and Church is trying to work the same fakery again this time.

The question before the people of the 10th District is this: In a time of national crisis, is Ralph Church going to be permitted to camouflage his unbelievably bad record by dishonest and insincere Red-baiting? The people of the 10th District are not going to be misled by this spurious issue and will oust Church from office. The people of the 10th District are going to insist this time on the election of a man who is really qualified to represent them in the Congress of the United States.
