

DEEPS and SHALLOWS

Keyhole Observation

Your friend of the feminine gender Has a manner that bids you confide. You open your heart and you lend her Those titbits of grief you should hide.

The Commuter Communes with the Country

Well, whadday know, here it is Spring, That beautiful thing That makes folks long for the great outdoors with the sky for a ceiling

And in the spring one is supposed to think of flowers, isn't one? Well, I mean, it's done! Unless, of course, you're a young man, in which case the modern equivalent is, oh, sister!

And, leave us not be coy, with the other half it's, oh, mister! But, following the good old poetic patter It should be flowers that matter.

Now, there are flowers that are caloric, And there are flowers that are historic, I'll even bet there were a few sad sprays around when Hamlet was being clever about poor Yorick.

I must admit that spring beauties are slightly terrific. Though on what counts it's hard to be prolific Or even specific. But, however nebulous their charms, it's one of those March or April duties

To go muddily forth and coo over spring beauties. Then there is that cute little jack-in-the-pulpit. Hmmm... Anybody know a word that ends in 'ulpit'?

And how can we forget That teacher's pet Of Forest Preservers, the trillium Which has been preserved like crazy for so long that now you see them by the millium.

And, after the first picnickers have come each year, You see a speck of white and run blithely down the bank because you're sure it's a trillium, only to discover it's the cap off a bottle of beer.

Next we consider the morning glory, Though what pathological case decided that anything to do with morning was glorious... But that's another story.

And, while I admit there is much in favor of a trumpet flower, I like my trumpets red hot and served up at a late and unseemly hour.

In like vein, I view that lovely bloom known as the tulip Whose greatest charm in my eyes is that fact that it almost rhymes with mint-julep.

And while it is certainly not up my alley To mouth sweet nothings on the lily-of-the-valley, I find that my real Gethsamane Is trying to say something nice about an anemone.

So, to conclude, (and it is certainly time and over), I guess I just ain't a flower lover. PAT SHANNON SLOAN.

* "Ulpit," as a suffix is unusual to rare. However, the word "ulpit" is sometimes uttered involuntarily, in cases known to storywriters as "situations"; viz., by wives whose husbands come home unannounced, exclaiming, "Who left his pipe here beside the sofa?" or "What was that deep-voiced sneeze I heard coming from the closet?" eliciting as response the word in question.

CUPID'S CORNER

Lauramae McMahon To Wed in Virginia

Miss Lauramae McMahon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McMahon, 130 S. Second, left on Wednesday evening for Quantico, Va., where on Saturday she will become the bride of Lt. Walter E. Stuenkel, USMC, returned veteran of the Pacific campaign, who is now stationed there.

Miss McMahon plans to be married in white satin with finger-tip veil, at a candle-light ceremony.

Lt. Stuenkel returned to the United States last November after serving for 34 months in the Pacific area, and is now taking an advanced training course at Quantico. His sister, Mrs. Herbert C. Bartelman, lives at 1641 S. Green Bay. Miss McMahon is a former employee of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

The young couple will make their home near the lieutenant's base.

Betty Giallanza Is Bride of Corporal

Miss Betty Giallanza, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Giallanza, 37 N. Green Bay, was married last Saturday morning at the church of Immaculate Conception to Cpl. Sam Volpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Volpe, Stanford, Conn.

Given in marriage by her brother, Pvt. Joseph, the bride was gowned in white bridal satin with court train and wore a full length veil. Roses, gardenias and lilies of the valley made up her white bridal bouquet.

The bride was attended by Miss Yola Crimo, maid of honor, and Miss Alice Gialmo, bridesmaid, both wearing gowns of turquoise blue with small hats and slippers to match their bouquets of American Beauty roses. Anthony Volpe served his brother as best man, and Richard Cucchiari as usher.

The wedding was followed by a reception for 150 guests at Witten hall, after which the young couple left for a short honeymoon.

Athlene Bjork Weds Vet in Pennsylvania

At a simple wedding in the chapel at Valley Forge General hospital, Phoenixville, Pa., Athlene Bjork, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Bjork, 242 Sard, Highwood, became the bride of S/Sgt. John Kasper, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kasper of North Chicago, a patient at Valley Forge hospital.

The bride was gowned in a teal ensemble with brown accessories for the double ring ceremony, after which the couple left for a short honeymoon in Philadelphia.

Since her fiance, blinded by a bursting shell, has been a patient at the hospital, Miss Bjork has taken employment near by, in order to be near him. The sergeant is a veteran of the Italian campaign, as well as the invasion of southern France, in which he received his injury. When he is dismissed from the hospital, the young folks plan to return to North Chicago.

Doris Ostrand Weds John Juhanjak, USNR

On Saturday evening, at Zion Lutheran church, Highwood, Miss Doris Ostrand, of Highwood, became the bride of John F. Juhanjak, Ph. M. 2/c, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Juhanjak, Canton, O.

Dressed in a white gown with lace bodice and full net skirt, the bride wore a finger-tip veil and carried white iris. Miss Clara Watson, maid of honor, wore blue turquoise net and carried a mixed bouquet of pink flowers. James Mahon, Ph. M. 2/c, USN, acted as best man.

A reception for about 50 guests at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Ostrand, 217 Burchell, Highwood, followed the ceremony, at which address the young couple will make their home for the time being.

Mrs. Beatrice Lawler Wed to Army Sergeant

Mrs. Beatrice Lawler, 448 Waukegan, Highwood, was married in Waukegan last week to M/Sgt. William G. Codling of Fort Sheridan.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baudin, daughter and son-in-law of the bride, who was gowned in gray, with navy blue accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Baudine wore powder blue with brown accessories and white carnations.

Sgt. Codling, a 30-year veteran, now stationed at Fort Sheridan, expects an honorable discharge about July 1.

The couple will live at 448 Waukegan, Highwood.

grades, are also invited, so that they can meet the primary teacher. Miss Pearson, Ravinia school principal, hopes that the mothers will save this date and attend.

D.A.R. To Meet With Mrs. G. O. Strecker

The North Shore chapter of the D.A.R. will hold their annual and business meeting on Tuesday, May 8, at 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. G. O. Strecker, 338 N. Linden. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Elmer Freytag, Miss Florence Lovett, Mrs. Nelson Mayo and Mrs. Kellogg Patterson.

Annual reports will be given by committee chairmen and officers, and officers for the coming year will be elected and installed.

It has been the custom for delegates to give reports of national and state conventions at this annual meeting. However, because of wartime travel restrictions, the national and state conventions were not held this year. National and state officers of the D.A.R. will be held over for another year.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

Wisconsin Irma is giving a Party in her lovely home on the winding ravine; The door is unlatched and there's welcome wholehearted For creative writers who there will convene.

Slick manuscripts will be wisely submitted, Delectable tid-bits from talented pens Of all unknown authors who now are committed. To struggle alone in their writers' dens.

And niece of all — your beau is invited. Bring him along; don't let him refuse, So in the future he'll be quite delighted. When you are immersed in the arms of the muse. If he insists that your spree is too arty

And he'll stay at home with the book of his mood, Tell him that writing's not all of the party, And just drop a hint of the DELICIOUS FOOD.

GIRLS' SPORTS

"You've Been Drafted" will be the theme for the last H.G.A. meeting of the year. At this time new members will be initiated and the new board will be introduced.

All girls interested in dance have been invited by the New Trier high school to attend a program at 8:15 tonight. It will be a dance and dramatic program put on by the after-school dance group and the verse speaking choir.

With the cold weather doing an encore, a damper has been put on after-school baseball. In its place, the girls have revived their interest in the badminton tourney.

No. Shore Writers Plan Activities for Summer

A meeting of the North Shore Writers' group, held last Thursday at the YWCA, took the form of a buffet luncheon. Food was furnished by the members of the group, and tempting dishes proved that "lit'ry" addicts may also wield a wicked spoon in the kitchen. Members were present from Libertyville, Deerfield, and North Shore towns from Lake Bluff to Chicago, and plans were discussed for the coming Writers' conference, as well as for informal gatherings to be held during the summer.

The next meeting, May 10, with husbands of the members as guests, will follow a 6:30 buffet dinner to be served at the home of Mrs. George K. Bowden, Ravinia, editor of our column, "Deeps and Shallows," which is maintained largely by contributions from the group. Edith Roberts, novelist, and a member of the editorial staff of Coronet and Esquire, will be guest speaker, and will criticize and discuss several manuscripts turned in by members of the Writers' group.

Mrs. Roberts, one of the principal speakers at last summer's Writers' conference, gave a very interesting talk at that time on "How a Novel Is Born."
