Boy Scouts of Nation Plan for 500,000 Gardens

Backing up President Truman's appeal for more gardens, the nation's Boy Scouts are embarked on a program to raise a half million gardens this summer. As the war is now centered in the Pacific, home front attention is centered on the growing food crisis here and abroad.
The National Victory Garden Institute has obtained Gen. MacArthur's interest and is offering on his behalf a General MacArthur medal to those scouts who do an outstanding job with their individual gardens. Those winning this honor will need to successfully cultivate, care for, harvest and put to good use a reasonable variety of products from gardens at least 400 square feet in size.
Each garden will be inspected by a competent adult and the awards will be made not for "best" gardens but on the basis of meeting the high standards. The medal is for individual scout gardens only. However, scouts in a troop or patrol working together in a common garden plot will be eligible for the Green Thumb certificate, which may be presented to all Scouts who produce food this year.

Cpl. Whitt Schultz Is On the March

Columnist Whitt Schultz is now on the march and moving so fast that his weekly columns have to scramble to keep up with him. A letter received by his mother, Mrs. Whitt Schultz, Sr., 1097 Ridge-wood place, tells of his trip to the Hawaiian Islands. Morale on board was excellent, he said, and spirits high. Perhaps one of the contributing factors to this was the excellent food served. Turkey, steaks and roast beef. Even if our mouths water at these tidings, we surely concede that this food is being sent to the right place—our armed forces. It helps even things up for them who must do without the things we still enjoy.
An early Sunday morning service conducted by the chaplain on board ship was impressive, Whitt says. The setting—a spotless deck with the sunlight sparkling on the blue Pacific.
Cpl. Schultz finds the Hawaiian Islands most picturesque. But a reprocessing of troops augurs an early movement to points further west.

Books Needed for Liberated Europe

Campaign to collect books for the liberated Jews in Europe was begun this week by the Chicago division, American Jewish congress, in collaboration with a nation wide campaign currently undertaken by the World Jewish congress. Books collected will include school and prayer books, scientific and literary works, children's fairy tales, language textbooks and scrolls or "Sifre Torahs." Books in Hebrew and Yiddish, as well as in other languages, are earnestly sought.
The drive will continue until August 19. Books may be left at the new headquarters of the Chicago division, American Jewish congress, 12th floor, 123 W. Madison St.

Brig. Gen. Pierce—

At the time of the Von Runstedt bulge in mid-December, the 103rd moved to protect the right flank of the 3rd army. Major General Anthony McAuliffe took command of the 103rd at this time. After holding the line, the division was relieved by the 70th and moved southward again to a defensive position which it occupied until Mar. 15. On that date it moved forward again, this time through the Siegfried line and in April across the Rhine. Later in April the 103rd began a southeastward push that carried it across the Danube river through the Alps and the Brenner pass to effect a junction with the 5th army in northern Italy, 10 miles south of the Brenner pass.
General Pierce left the 103rd division headquarters at Innsbruck, Austria, on June 5, 1945. He arrived in Washington on June 8, and proceeded to Manhattan, Kansas, where he met his wife and daughter. His daughter is Mrs. Lawrence Glenn Matthews, wife of Captain Matthews, serving with the 95th division.
General and Mrs. Pierce, their daughter and four months old grandchild, John, will live at Fort Sheridan.

The following advertisement recently appeared in a town newspaper: "The ladies of Plum Creek Church have discarded clothes of all kinds. Call at 44 North Plum street and inspect them."
We like the philosophy of the following article from Boonton Molding Company's employees' manual. Those of us at North Shore Gas Company heartily believe and attempt to practice these objectives.
"A corporation is only a legal convenience. It's a skeleton on which can be hung the ownership of certain things so the sheriff can lay hands on them when necessary. It has land and buildings, perhaps; some money, possibly; some orders, probably; and some debts, certainly.
"But with all these things it is still a skeleton—it doesn't become a living thing, certainly not a successful thing until it gets a personality in the shape of people, people who keep the shop clean, people who make, finish, inspect, and ship its products, people who meet its customers, who plan the schedules, who keep the wheels turning by doing all sorts of things.
"Their combined personality becomes the corporation's personality. It lives or dies by their attitude toward their work. We believe a good corporation must first take care of its own people, try to make their job pleasant, take some of their troubles away, offer them some one to depend on. We will also get some enjoyment out of life during working hours as well as outside. . . . These things pay dividends to the company and you."
