

DEEPS and SHALLOWS

Contrasts

I ride on the crowded trains, and observe How the thoughts of men melt into their lips and play about the curved lines.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE!

As I got off the train my heart was in my throat — and thumping madly. This was thrill — adventure — romance.

Then I spied a familiar figure in uniform — but it was walking away from me. Larry! I would know that stride and those broad shoulders anywhere!

But fast as I hurried I could not match that long stride. I started to run, and forgetting my pride, I called: "Larry — oh, Larry!"

My heel caught in a crack in the platform and I plunged headlong. "Larry!" I shrieked.

He turned just in time to catch me as I fell. Oh, but it was good to feel those big arms around me once more.

From behind came a roar — no less: "Fine thing!" . . . It sounded like Larry. I lifted my head and craned my neck. It was Larry!

There was no time to be embarrassed. I sensed that drama was in the making. The two faces were fiery red — Larry's with wrath and the strange G. I.'s with embarrassment.

"I'll show you you can't hug my girl!" "I wasn't hugging anybody!"

"Look, guy — I don't even want to hug your girl!" "Watch out! You're talking about my future wife!"

Larry swung again — or started to. I screamed. Then still another arm shot out, and on it I read the welcome legend — "M.P."

Both Larry and the strange G. I. cooled off. Nobody likes the vision of a stretch in the guardhouse. "Now let's get this thing straight." The M. P. scowled.

"Just whose girl is this, anyhow?" He looked at me. "You! . . . which of these do you belong to?"

I sidled over to Larry. "This one," I said. "We're going to be married right away."

"Okay, soldier," snapped the monster. "Take your bride-elect and get going. Vamoose! . . . Scram!"

I clutched Larry's arm and we marched off with what dignity we were able.

And one of the grinning apes actually had the audacity to whistle, "Here Comes the Bride!"

CUPID'S CORNER

Shirley Ann Hughes Weds Former Air Force Pilot

Miss Shirley Ann Hughes, formerly of 950 Lincoln, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Hughes, now live in Shaker Hts., O., was married on Sept. 1 at Maplewood, N. J., to Thomas L. Harrocks of that town.

Gowned in white satin, her rose point veil fastened by orange blossoms, the bride was attended by Miss Joan Harrocks, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and two Maplewood friends, as bridesmaids.

A graduate of Highland Park high, the bride attended school at Linden Hall, Pa. A former student at Bowdoin college, Mr. Harrocks will resume his studies at Western Reserve university, Cleveland, O., where the couple will reside. He is a former pilot of a Liberator bomber, with the 8th air force, and possesses the Air medal with four Oak Leaf clusters.

Former Highland Parker, Weds in New Guinea

Miss Jane W. Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Robert Crawford Sr., formerly of Highland Park, now living in Yuba City, Calif., was married in Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, on July 28, to Major Homer R. Mather Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Mather of Latrobe, Pa.

Ever since their meeting two years ago, at Ft. Lewis, Washington, where the bride was connected with American Red Cross, the young people have been members of the same hospital unit, serving in Australia and New Guinea.

A graduate of Lake Forest college and University of Colorado, Mrs. Mather taught at Ripon college before joining the Red Cross. She has three brothers in service: Lt. Cmdr. Robert, Lt. James W., and Major William, who is with the AAF in China.

Major Mather took his internship and residency at Temple university in Philadelphia.

Shanafelt Newly-Weds Visit Their Parents

After a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Shanafelt, 1410 Pleasant, Ens. Charles and his bride, the former Louise Elizabeth Alexander of Reedsville, Ga., spent some time at Niagara Falls and in Canada, and are living at Grosse Ile, Mich., where the ensign is now stationed. The young couple was married at Jacksonville, Fla., on Aug. 3, where Ens. Shanafelt was at that time posted.

Cadet Don, AAF, stationed at Bakersfield, Calif., arrived home on Sunday after being delayed 3 days by an accident en route.

The former Betty Lou Shanafelt and her husband, Sgt. Alex Seidl, are also visiting her parents, Sgt. Seidl, who was formerly at Selmon Field, La., will now go Chanute Field, where he will attend school. Mrs. Seidl will remain with her parents.

Elizabeth Lowe Now With American Red Cross in China

Miss Elizabeth Lowe, who was for a time stationed with the armed forces in India as American Red Cross staff assistant, recently flew "over the hump" from Calcutta, India, into China, where she is now stationed. Graduating from Smith college in 1941 with the degree of A.B., Miss Lowe was employed, prior to her enlistment, with a New York advertising firm. Her brother, "Billy" Lowe, MAM 3/c, USN, is stationed aboard the D. E. Cabana in the South Pacific. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Lowe, 241 Laurel.

Mrs. Joseph Riddle Completes Course in Red Cross Training

After completing a course in Red Cross training in "mass feeding" with a class of 60, Mrs. Joseph Riddle, 330 Vine, is now serving two evenings a week from 5:30 to 9:30, at Fort Sheridan.

Mrs. Riddle met with a warm welcome from service men who knew her as a Saturday evening snack bar hostess at the USO-Salvation Army, and her admirers almost upset discipline with their demands for more of her home-made bread.

This gold star mother, who has two sons in the navy, is possessed of tireless energy, and her motherly heart holds a place for each and every lonely GI she contacts. She is a prime favorite with the military.

Miss Mildred Walther, 122 So. Green Bay, also completed this course in foods.

N. S. Creative Writers Start New Season

Plans for the autumn season of the North Shore Creative Writers are now under way. The educational committee of the YWCA, under Mrs. Edmund Froelich as chairman, and Mrs. Mildred Haessler president of the writers group, have some interesting prospects for leadership in both prose and poetry. Plans will be announced soon.

The Creative Writers have closed a successful summer, which began with participation in the Midwestern Writers conference in Evanston. Several members of the group won honors at the conference.

Mrs. T. F. Dawson of Reerfield won a prize in Mr. Litten's class for her short story, "Homespun and Satin." Mrs. Beatrice Steinman of Highland Park won honorable mention for her juvenile story, "Mrs. Robin's Mistake." Mrs. H. Rosenheim of Highland Park won two prizes, one from the Polish Arts club for her short story, "Diploma," and a first prize in Mr. Litten's workshop on her story, "Miss Emeline."

The informal weekly luncheon of the group at the home of Mrs. George Bowden will close this week Thursday, with a picnic at the home of Mrs. Dawson in Deerfield.

Presbyterian Women to Hold Membership Tea

The membership tea, given by the Woman's association of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, will be held in the parish house of the church, 300 Laurel avenue, on the afternoon of Sept. 17, between the hours of 2:30 and 4:30 o'clock. All members of the association and prospective members are most cordially invited to attend.

HIGHLAND PARK USO

Since the personnel at Fort Sheridan is being increased, the need for housing facilities for service men and their wives continues. These men have been assigned to the separation center as permanent parties. The USO has many of these men on its waiting list, and again the members of the club are making a plea for rooms.

SGO Planning Year's Activities

The Senior Girls organization of the YWCA, Mrs. Vernon Hein, leader, is making plans for the fall and winter season. This club, with 35 members, has been meeting three times a month, once at the USO and twice at the YWCA. They have been helping also with Sunday morning breakfasts at the USO.

They have a meeting this week, Tuesday, the 11th, and will attend a dance Sept. 14 at the USO.

Jimmy Warren Celebrates His Second Birthday

A party of little friends honored Jimmy Warren, son of Pfc. and Mrs. Frank H. Warren, Sunday, at his home at 631 Vine. The occasion was his second birthday. Pfc. Warren, the father, 18 months in the Pacific area with the army anti aircraft, is awaiting further orders — either on to Tokyo or back to the United States.

PVT. K. MORGESON BREAKS RECORD

Here's Why The Community and War Fund Is More Vital Than Ever This Year!

Even though Victory has been won, long months must pass before most of our fighting men will be sent home. War-related relief, too, moves into a most critical period, during which the world must make secure the Victory won at so terrible a price.

In considering what contribution you will make this year, please bear in mind the following facts:

- With the excitement of battle gone, our men in uniform will need more than ever the friendly service of the USO and the hearty laugh of the camp-shows while waiting in distant outposts for demobilization. Our merchant seamen have a big job ahead, bringing our boys home and rushing help to stricken areas. Seamen's Service activities cannot be reduced for a long time yet. Many of the war relief agencies are only now able to start their desperately needed work in many areas. Right here at home, our own health and welfare agencies must now also cope with the new dislocations and inevitable heart-aches caused by demobilization and the closing of war industries.

This year, more than ever before, it is vital that Highland Park make its full quota in the Community and War Fund Drive. Be ready to give when your Block Captain calls October 2nd and 3rd.

GIVE MORE THAN IN '44 . . . THE NEED IS GREATER!
