A Chat With The Bishop

HONOLULU, T. H.—

Greet life with a YES. Realize there is some good in every person. Be aware of the great amount of beauty in the world. See that beauty and react positively to it and your life is certain to be happy and complete.

That is a practical definition of Religion, according to Bishop Harry S. Kennedy, Episcopal Bishop of Honolulu. I had the distinct honor of chatting with the Bishop for one hour this week in his beautiful office at St. Andrew's Cathedral Parish.

"I call life's fault-finders 'The Two Percenters' for they see only the very small part of life which is mean and ugly. They totally ignore the 98 per cent which is good and fine and clean," Bishop Kennedy told me.

NEED UNDERSTANDING
 "In these critical peacetime days with unrest on the home and foreign fronts, we need a deep and tolerant understanding of the peoples of every nation. We need to know their ideals and beliefs. We must welcome them by opening our homes, our hearts, and our churches to them," he emphasized. "The Church," he continued, "can do much to create this friendly feeling. There must be no caste system, no racial discrimination. We — Koreans, Chinese, Negro, Japanese, all of us — must work and worship together as a team if we plan to fully enjoy the peace God has given us," the Bishop added.

UNIVERSITY OF LIFE
 In an effort to create tolerance and an understanding of how Christianity affects Oahu's younger generation, Bishop Kennedy, with the aid of his co-workers, has set up a series of instructions which he calls "The University of Life." The series, slated for full development during the Lenten Season, will stress plain talk by experts on marriage, religion, psychology, and racial understanding. "Teach the youth on the islands to respect his fellowmen and you'll not have the hoodlumism or juvenile delinquency, the Bishop, a father of five sons, stated.

PLAIN, SOLID RELIGION
 Solid religion, the type which stands up to 1945 sophistication, is taught every day in the Hawaiian schools, not only in religious classes, but also in other subjects where teachers have a keen sense of their duty to instill the practical laws of Christianity into the minds of the young, according to the Bishop. Oahu's Department of Public Instruction is highly aware of the vital need of "the spiritual values in education" and it is, therefore, planning a far more intensive program in the future, the Bishop pointed out.

GET CLOSER TO PEOPLE

Bishop Kennedy, an Army chaplain in World War II, said one of the reasons the Church is not closer to the people is because the clergy in the past has not affixed itself to the workaday world.

"I realized this lack of closeness when I was in the Army," Bishop Kennedy said. "When I hiked with the men, ate with them, drove their trucks, joined them in their barracks talk sessions, I knew their problems. I knew the specific actions I could take to assist the men in their daily living. I believe the war has done much to make the clergy seem far more real and regular to the average men, and this is a big step in the right direction," the Bishop said.

THE CHRISTIAN WAY

"Now that the war is over," he went on, "the same close association is vital in maintaining peace. Plain talk, an understanding of a man's specific problems, and practical suggestions on how his life can be made richer and fuller through the Christian way of life is the job of every minister. "Make the Church as important to man as food is and you'll end bitterness and discrimination and you'll begin tolerance and the positive approach to life," the Bishop declared.

LIVED IN EVANSTON

"It is our job as human beings to disseminate the teachings of Christ to wherever there are men. From now on Christianity should have priority on all our creative powers. In the years to come we should spend more money and far more effort getting the teachings of Christ into our homes and then from our homes out and into the homes of our neighbors," the Bishop concluded.

Bishop Kennedy, 44 years old, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y. He attended the New Jersey public schools and in 1926 was graduated from Colorado State Teacher's College and St. John's Theological Seminary. He was awarded his Doctor of Divinity degree at Seabury Western Divinity School in Evanston and his STD degree at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley, Calif.

Adeline Ramond, who served at Bakersfield, Fla., as a member of the WAAC, was released at the time of the organization became the WAC, and returned to Yale for a post graduate course about 18 months ago. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ramond, 1069 Moseley road.

S/Sgt. Vera Greene, of the WAVE, received her discharge at Cherry Point, N. C., on the 22nd of September, after serving over two years, during which time she was stationed at Cherry Point and Columbia, S. C. She is married to Sgt. Glenford Newton, Norfolk, N. Y., where they are now living.

Miss Linda Rollery joined the WAAC in January, 1943, but resigned 8 months later when the organization was changed to the WAC. A graduate of Highland Park high, she was attending Northwestern university at the time of her enlistment. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Rollery, 497 Roger Williams.

Lt. (jg) Monie Eyer, of the WAVE, now stationed in Washington, D.C., is expected home for Christmas. Trained at Smith college, she has been stationed with the Bureau of Personnel at Washington for 18 months. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey J. Eyer, 344 Marshman, Ravinia.

Beverly Frisbie, daughter of the C. O. Frisbies Jr., 166 Lakeside Manor, was a member of the Woman's Air Service Pilots (WASP) until the service was disbanded. A graduate of Highland Park high, she was a student at University of Colorado at the time of her enlistment.

Mary Jane Guernsey joined the WAC in October, 1943. Stationed in Baltimore, Md., for a time, she wrote and broadcast radio scripts for recruiting purposes. Although she applied for foreign service, she has never left the States. She expects to spend Christmas with her family, former Highland Park residents, now living in Minneapolis.

Mary "Sis" Binder, daughter of the well-known Carol Binders, former residents now living in Minneapolis, has been a member of the WAVES for over a year. She trained at Mt. Holyoke, Mass., as aerographer's mate, and was stationed in Hawaii at the time of our latest information.

Miss Elizabeth Low, daughter of the Elwood Lows, 241 Laurel, is now in Tientsin, China, where she is lending assistance in staffing and arranging ARC programs for the Marines in that area. She has served in the China-British-India theater since August 6. A graduate of Highland Park high and of Smith college, class of '41, she joined the Red Cross last April in Washington and left for overseas in June.

Frances and Patricia Kelly, both in Red Cross work, daughters of Mrs. William P. Kelly, 366 Hazel, entered the service at the same time, in July, 1944. Patricia, who acted as master of ceremonies in entertainments on New Guinea and in Manila, arrived home from the Pacific last Saturday. Frances, who has been stationed in Manila, recently flew to Okinawa to visit her brother, and then on to Yokohama. She is expected home soon.

Miss Josephine Zook, daughter of Mrs. Joseph D. Zook, 216 No. Linden, has returned from the India-Burma theater, where she acted as club director for the Red Cross. She was in service for 18 months. Before her appointment she was a display artist for the Fair store in Chicago, and at one time assistant manager of the Jack and Jill shop in Highland Park.

Miss Phoebe Swazey joined the Red Cross service in April, 1945. She has worked in Scotland, England, France, Germany and Austria, and is now at home on leave. She will be reassigned to duty in the States. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roswell B. Swazey, 540 Hawthorne.

Miss June Stockwell, whose sister, Helena, is proprietor of the Knit Shop, attended the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago after high school. In September, 1944, she joined the Red Cross and served abroad in England, Scotland and France, sometimes serving hot coffee and doughnuts to troops from the big transports, sometimes visiting hospitals and sometimes acting as entertainer in clubs. Since her return to this country, last August, she has worked in the claims department of the separation center at Fort Sheridan.

Pauline Costo, SK 2/c, of the WAVES, has been in the service for 3 1/2 years, during which time she has been stationed at Norfolk, Va. She is the daughter of Mr. Paul Costo, 216 North Jean and Margo Cady, of the "Marine-minded Cady's" — their brother is Capt. Hearst W. Cady Jr., USMC, stationed at El Torro, Calif., in ABG-2 — entered the Marine service on the same day, October 4, 1943. Both trained at LeJeune, N. C., and Margo is now home from Pearl Harbor, where she served for nine months. Jean was also released this week at San Diego, and will be home soon.

Mrs. Thomas Stein, B.S., formerly Pauline Bloom, has contributed to her knowledge in chemistry to work on the atomic bomb. Her husband, Sgt. Stein, is now stationed in New Caledonia. Mrs. Stein lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Bloom, 1040 S. Sheridan.

The former Dorothy Boylan, of the WAVES, was released from service last September, after 29 months in service, during which she was stationed at Glenview Air base. In July, 1944, she was married to James M. McKillip, war veteran, and they plan to make their home in Chicago. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Boylan, 544 Elm.

Madeline Bushman, for 5 years a member of the local high school faculty, entered the service in November, 1942, and is serving with the Vocational Counseling branch. She trained at Des Moines, Ia., and spent four months in Africa. The rest of the time she has been stationed in various parts of this country and at one time was in charge of the northern section of New York state. At present she is at Fort Dix.

Miss Madge Friedman, daughter of the Herbert Friedmans, 1717 Rice, entered service 2 1/2 years ago. She served with the ARC in Africa at Casablanca, and in Sogicia, Italy, with the 5th Wing Hq. as program director of Recreational service.

After a furlough at home, she returned overseas to Florence, Italy, where she was with the Red Cross club connected with the college there. She is now stationed in the Trieste region.

Delores Dean, of the Marines, the first girl in Highwood to enter service, was released last October 23. She served for 31 months, stationed at Cherry Point, Edenton and Bogues Field, N. C., receiving her discharge at Camp LeJeune. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Dean, 242 High St., Highwood.

Jeanne Patricia Scully, of the WAVE, has been stationed at Glenview Air base for over a year, employed in the Flight Record department. She attended Pinebrook school, Mich., Principia, at St. Louis, and University of Colorado. Her mother, Mrs. Waldo Thorsen, is now living in Chicago.

Miss Jane Robbins served with the WASP for nearly a year. Members of this group were really civil service employees with the privileges of a 2nd lieutenant. Miss Robbins resigned in order to take a trip to Alaska, and shortly after she returned the organization was disbanded, December, 1944. She is the daughter of Mrs. P. A. Robbins, 100 Prospect.

Patricia and Helen Speed, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Kellogg Speed, 530 S. Sheridan, were both at one time members of the WAVE.

Ens. Helen was released from service November 10, after serving nearly two years at Indian Head, Md. She is now the wife of Lt. Hensinger, and they are making their home at Indian Head, site of the big naval powder base.

Yeoman Patricia Speed was released from service on Thanksgiving day at Great Lakes. For 18 months she was stationed at Hunters college, New York, with Ship's Company, and was later transferred to the Hawaiian Islands where she served for one year in the Department of Confidential Communications.

Catherine Jones is in the foreign service of the Red Cross. Joining in September, 1945, she is now in Manila, and is leaving this weekend for Okinawa. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where she served as volunteer nurse in the University hospital. After graduation she was employed as a copy writer by Montgomery Ward. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claburn E. Jones, 199 Roger Williams.

Miss Betty Schmidt, daughter of Mrs. Florence Schmidt, 642 Homewood, joined the WAC in March, 1943, from California, and left the following December for overseas. She has been stationed in various parts of Africa and Europe, including Algiers, Egypt, Italy and Austria. Recently, with the rank of sergeant, she was separated from the WAC and is now in civil service in Austria.

Others who are listed as being in the service, and whom we have been unable to contact are Mae

Child Meets Daddy For First Time On Second Birthday

Russell R. Turco of this town may be said to have received a novel birthday present this year, for on that occasion he first met his father, Lt. Russell Turco, home on a 90-day terminal leave from the Pacific, where he spent 24 months in the Solomons and 6 in the Philippines.

The lieutenant and his little family are staying with Mrs. Turco's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Poggioli, 907 Berkeley.

Ladies of Legion Auxiliary Discover Champion Guesser At Christmas Party

At the Christmas party for members of the Legion auxiliary, last Thursday night, Mrs. Violet Cole won distinction for herself by winning the prize in each of the two guessing games played.

Each member had contributed a $1 gift, and with Santa Claus, himself, in charge, drew a gift from the big grab bag.

Mrs. Sally Eichler and Mrs. De Witt Manasse were in charge of the arrangements.

Gifts and Giving

The best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to a father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity. — Balfour.

The Hagerstown Herald in Ohio was asked last week by a girl in a letter to the editor, to help her find the sailor who kissed her while riding on a bus.

Apparently she wants to further the romance and not bowl him out, the editor explained.

"I don't go around kissing people just for a habit," wrote the young woman, "but this looks like the real thing."

1st Lt. Margaret Clarke was the first from Highland Park to join the WAC over three years ago. For a time she was in Public Relations in New York, but recently she has been stationed at Camp Upton, N. Y., where she teaches Art in the army hospital.

The former 1st Lt. Elizabeth Clarke, of the WAC, is now home on terminal leave, having served for nearly three years. Engaged in recruiting in Wisconsin, she was last stationed at Percy Jones hospital in Battle Creek, Mich. She is married to Lt. (jg) Curtis Prendergast, who is stationed in Tokyo. The parents of the two girls are Mr. and Mrs. James O. Clarke, of 2237 Lincolnwood.

Mona Schupe, former receptionist in the offices at 2 N. Sheridan road, joined the WAIT (Women's Aircraft Instrument Training) after her husband. T/Sgt. Ray Schupe, lost his life in combat during an air mission over Germany. She trained in Chicago, served for a time at Rome, N. Y., and has since been stationed at Wright Field.

Ens. Margaret Einbecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Einbecker of 325 Park, is now stationed at the Navy hospital at Long Beach, Calif., where she is engaged in physical therapy. After 2 years of physical training at University of Illinois, she became interested in her present line of work, enlisting in the WAVE in June, 1945, and receiving her commission at Mayo's, in Rochester, Minn., the following August.

Eileen Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Sullivan, 8 N. First, was released from the WAC on Dec. 7, after 15 months of service. A graduate of Highland Park high, she studied also at Mundelein college, later accepting a position in California, where she enlisted in the service. She trained at Orlando, Fla., and was later stationed at Wright Field.

The former Eleanor Schoonover, daughter of the Clyde Schoonovers, 1733 Deerfield road, entered the Marine corps in February, 1944, and was released from service in March, 1945. Stationed at Quantico, in Motor Transports, she was married, while in service, to S/Sgt. Roy Dalm, who is now stationed in North Carolina.

Cpl. Miriam Cohn, of the Air Transport Command (ATC), received her discharge from service last week, Dec. 6. A New Yorker until 1943, she came to Highland Park to live with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cohn, 363 Cedar, and entered the service at Romulus, Mich., in May, 1944.

Sgt. Helen Crawford, who was released from the WAC last June, served for 3 1/2 years with the first group to leave the country for Africa. She served in the African and Italian campaigns, was awarded the Bronze Star, and while there met Major William Mayo, English engineer. Last Saturday she arrived in England, where they will be married and make their home in Kent. She is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Gaddis Jeffries, now of Tucson, Ariz.
