

Deep and Shallows

Anchored Yachts

Yachts that anchor in the lake When they could take Trips to Tripoli or Spain
And then, again,
Sail the southern seas to Rio And feel free!—Oh How an anchored yacht must feel

That Life's insipid and unreal!

Music Hath Charms

Marge was a young woman who was at everyone's beck and call.
Besides accompanying soloists at concerts, she played wedding marches, played for my dancing class, and was the organist of a small town church. She loved it and was always willing and ready to serve.

One day there was to be a funeral in the small town church. The congregation was assembled and Marge was at the organ, waiting for the signal to begin playing.

She had with her a book of music containing a varied collection.
The first four pieces were volun-taries to be used in church, and when she was given the signal, she began to play the first voluntary.
She finished it. No funeral to be seen. So she went through the second number, and then the other two. Still no funeral.

The rest of Marge's book contained nothing but dance music.
Very old-fashioned dance music, at that, which we used in teaching rhythm to the little tots at my dancing school, to which we were going next.

Marge had started to play, so she had to continue. She gave me a wicked look, and turning over the next page, began to play an enticing waltz, very slowly, with a little flourish here and there of her own composing. From that she went into a mazurka, with the same slow tempo, followed by several other pieces of tuneful nature.
The audience sat as though spellbound.

In a pew all by herself, sat an Old Lady, a member of the church, who never did anything but find fault. She criticized the preacher's sermon, she found fault with the hymns that we sang, and didn't like the ventilation in the church.
Nothing was ever right and she felt it her duty to air her opinion, and that loudly.

There was no back door to the little church, so after the services Marge and I had to follow the mourners and the congregation.
That made us among the last to reach the front door.

The first person I laid eyes on was the Old Lady, coming straight toward us, with her hand out ahead of her. Having heard her scold other people, I felt sure that she would grab Marge by the arm, so she couldn't get away, and then pour out a torrent of biting words.

I dreaded it, having had tilts with her myself, and I made up my mind that if she started to scold Marge, I would tell her we had something more important to do than to listen to her fault finding, and take Marge off with me.

Of course I couldn't say anything until she began to talk, and I almost passed out when I heard her say:

"My dear girl, I never in all my life heard such beautiful funeral music. That is the kind of music that would put my soul to rest."

Discretion

I think that some attention Should be brought to bear at school Upon the well-known principle:
"Exceptions prove the rule."

It's rash to state emphatically That this or that is so; I'd rather seem less sure, at first,
Than, in the end, eat crow.
—HIGHLAND LASSIE.

To the Highland Parker who declares that, before she left on a visit, his wife ordered a bushel of wild oats sent to the house, we feel prompted to quote from the Saturday Post: "Self-restraint is feeling your oats without sowing them."

The Protest

Wee Barb'ra has no wish to cry;
But when she can't see eye to eye With grown-ups—stupid, blundering folk,
Who seem to feel that life's a joke—Flings arms and legs — terrific task—
And screws her face into a mask;
Such sturdy effort cannot fail To bring about a lusty wail.

Women Voters to Hear Arthur Carstens Wednesday, March 20

"Late Flashes on Labor Management Relationships" is the subject to be discussed by Arthur Carstens at the next monthly meeting of the Highland Park League of Women Voters, being held at 1:15 on March 20, at the Community Center.

Mr. Carstens, who is director of program for the Industrial Relations center at the University of Chicago, came originally from Montana. However, he is a graduate of the University of Chicago.
Following 1925 he was with the Civil service, ultimately becoming an investigator for the OPA. He has been a resident of Highland Park for the past two years.

The Industrial Relations center at the University of Chicago with which Mr. Carstens is now connected is one of several which is trying to bring scientific fact obtained from study and research down to the basis of practical living. This particular center makes contact between academic life and life in general by offering technical advice to both labor and management, by conducting seminars in industrial relations, and by planning adult education classes in the downtown division of the university.

Mr. Carstens is appearing for the League's department of government and economic welfare, of which Mrs. Melvin Wolens is chairman. Following his talk, there will be a tea time with Mrs. Carol Bakers Summers, social committee chairman in charge.

On the morning of March 20, at 10, Mrs. Richard Loewenthal, president of the league, will conduct the usual monthly board meeting.

Square Dance to Be Held on Saturday, March 16, at 8:00

A square dance will be held on Saturday evening, March 16, at the YWCA, starting at 8 o'clock.
Mr. Paul will act as caller.

Between 8:30 and 9:00 p.m. instruction will be given to those desiring it.

Music will be furnished by Olson Brothers.

Mrs. Renslow Sherer Gives Tea for Vassar Scholarship Committee

Mrs. Renslow Drew Sherer, chairman of the Vassar scholarship benefit, invited her committee to a meeting and tea, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Edwin C. Austin, in Glencoe, on Tuesday, March 12.

Most of the fifty committee members from Chicago and the suburbs were there to discuss some new ideas which the committee is hoping will remain a secret until the very day of the benefit on Tuesday, April 2.

Reports were given by various committee chairmen. Miss Jean Faricy was wishing she had ordered more of the grey and fuchsia invitations to the spring fashion show as so many people have already requested extra invitations.

Among those invited from town were Mrs. Everett Van Nice, co-chairman of the benefit; Miss Jeanette Higgins, Mrs. Charles S.
Pratt, Mrs. Durnot W. McGrew, Miss Dorothy Wrigley and Miss Riel MacChesney.

And from all along the North Shore came committee members who, after the business meeting and tea, listened to records of some of the songs they used to sing at Vassar. Among them were Mrs.
Richard K. Agnew, Mrs. James E.
Day and Mrs. Mathew L. Rockwell, all of Winnetka; Mrs. Robert L.
Foote and Mrs. Thomas F. Geraghy-Jr. of Glencoe, Mrs. Edward H.
Kellogg and Miss Mary Louise Wieboldt of Evanston, Miss Olive Robbins of Lake Forest, and Mrs.
Louis Stirling of Highland Park.

Mrs. Theodore C. Diller, president of the North Shore Vassar club, was there, but Mrs. Robert H. Morse Jr., was not as she had not returned from her trip to Mexico.

Concert to be Presented at Ravinia School Sunday, March 31

District 108 orchestra, directed by Earl Stricker, will present a concert at the Ravinia school on Sunday afternoon, March 31, at 3:00 o'clock. Although tickets are not necessary, a contribution by the patrons will be accepted. The revenue from the concert will be used to purchase much-needed equipment for the schools.

Each school in the district has a band or orchestra which rehearses once a week. They provide music for assembly programs and other school activities. From these groups come the more mature players to form the District orchestra, which also meets for weekly rehearsal. This group learns types of music that can not be adequately handled by a beginning group. Not only does the District orchestra provide a challenging learning situation for the advanced players but it also enables the young musicians from the various schools to intermingle and in a sense "preps" them for the high school band or orchestra.

One has only to attend the concert to note how the music curriculum is enriched for these youngsters through the medium of the District orchestra.

Approaching Marriage of Washington Girl to Lt. Comdr. Millard

Capt. and Mrs. Ralph U. Hyde, of Washington, D.C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Penniman Hyde, to Lt. Commander Everett Lee Millard, USNR, son of Mrs. Everett L. Millard of Highland Park, and the late Mr. Millard.

Lt. Comdr. Millard prepared for college at North Shore Country Day school of Winnetka, and Phillips academy, Andover, and was graduated in 1931 from Harvard, where he was a member of the Hasty Pudding and Iroquois clubs. Following a year at sea, he has been on duty as gunnery instructor at the naval training station in Manhattan and at the naval base in Brooklyn.

The wedding will take place in Washington on April 26.

Lake Forest School Superintendent to Speak at Elm Place

Wednesday, March 20, at 8 p.m., at Elm Place school, Mr. Frederick Quinlan will speak on Art and Education. Superintendent of Lake Forest public schools, he came from New York and received his education at Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., and Columbia university. He was principal of the high school at Pleasantville, N. Y., and superintendent of schools at Katonah, N. Y.

His subject will be "Functions of Art and Music in the School Curriculum." He will state what kinds of art and music are best, how much is necessary, and how to present the subjects.

Mrs. Lester Britton, program chairman, will introduce the speaker. Everyone is invited.

H. P. Garden Guild, Ravinia Garden Club Exhibit Spring Flowers

The Garden Guild of Highland Park and the Ravinia Garden club will enter exhibits in the twentieth annual spring flower show of the Garden Club of Illinois to be held at Marshall Field & Co., Monday, April 8, through Saturday, April 20. It will be the fourth "Fashions in Flowers" the organization has given as a war time show, which took the place of the large Chicago Flower show given at Navy Pier from 1933 through 1941.

Seventy-three community garden clubs, most of them in or near Chicago, will be represented at the show with one or more exhibits.
There will be planted gardens and many classes of flower arrangements.

Mrs. L. Thorpe Warren, long a member of the flower show executive committee, will be the chairman of the show. Mrs. O. W.
Dynes, chairman of the Chicago Flower show for many years, will be honorary chairman. Other committee members include: Mrs.
Raymond Knotts, Mrs. J. Wilson McAllister, Mrs. David R. How-ton, Mrs. George M. Kendall, Mrs.
Albert C. Ross, Mrs. Raymond Rohde, Miss Ann L. Lyons, Mrs.
Bertha L. Downes, Mrs. Wilbur E.
Fribley, Mrs. Henry W. Shedd and Mrs. Frederick Julstrom. Miss Elizabeth R. Howland is president of the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc.

Mrs. Archer Entertains Board; New Members of Infant Welfare Society

The 24 new members of the junior group of the Highland Park-Ravinia center of the Infant Welfare society were guests Tuesday afternoon of last week at a tea in the home of Mrs. Ralph Archer, president of the group.

Mrs. John Morrissy, membership chairman, and Mrs. Philip A. Watson, first vice-president, presided at the tea table. Members of Mrs.
Archer's board were also invited to meet the new members, who are as follows:

Mrs. Lewis E. Baker, Mrs. R. H.
Brownlee, Mrs. Mac F. Cahal, Mrs.
Donald Dennett, Mrs. F. O. Dicus, Mrs. Graydon Ellis, Mrs. George

ORT to Hold 8th Annual Dance Sunday, March 17

Chicago Junior ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training) will hold its 8th annual dance at the Gold room of the Congress hotel, Sunday evening, March 17. Music will be by Lew Diamond and his orchestra.

The proceeds will be given to the 1946 Chicago ORT campaign, which is seeking to raise $250,000 as its quota towards the world ORT goal of $5,000,000.

ORT maintains trade schools, industrial workshops, vocational and agricultural training centers for Jewish refugees in Europe and the displaced persons camps.

Eighth Graders at Elm Place Receive High School Pointers

Last evening (Wednesday), Miss Betty Baul, guidance director at the Highland Park high school, was present at an Elm Place PTA meeting, when she introduced the 8th grade students at Elm Place to the intricacies of high school registration, curriculum and school activities.

Other speakers were Principal A. E. Wolters of the high school, George C. Steward, dean of boys, and Elyce Rinkenberger, dean of girls, who answered any questions put to them as to the business of the evening.

Mrs. Herman Anspach is pres-

Newcomers in Town

The W. H. Elstons, 245 Cary, are not really newcomers, having lived here three years ago. Their son, Johnny, 3 1/2, was born in the Highland Park hospital. During the war, in which Mr. Elston served as a lieutenant in the navy, they lived in Philadelphia. He is now divisional and personnel manager for Marshall Field & Co., Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Lavedan moved from Hartsdale, N. Y., the first of this month, and are now living with their family at 195 Laurel. The family consists of two daughters, Denny and Dix, of high school and college age, respectively, and a son, Pierre, aged 11. Mr. Lavedan is president of the Liquid Carbonic corporation, Chicago.

Bradford Larson, Out of Navy, Plans to Live in Boston

Bradford Larson, son of the Albert Larsons, 133 S. Green Bay, and a former lieutenant, has been released from the navy where he served for two years. With his wife and young son, Kent, he is now visiting in Kansas City, Mo., Omaha, Nebr., Council Bluffs, Ia., and Springfield, Mo. The young Larsons plan to make their home in Boston.

Fully qualified by temperament and 20 years extensive practice in the Probate Court

WILLIS A. OVERHOLSER

for

PROBATE JUDGE PLATFORM

Willis A. Overholser, if elected, pledges himself, while patterning his administration of the Probate Court after the efficient and just manner of the retiring Judge, to exert every effort to perform the duties of his high office according to these regulations:

1. He will cease to be a member of any law firm and discontinue to engage in the private practice of law to enable him to serve as a fair and impartial Judge.
2. He will devote the full time during regular hours to the work of the office.
3. He will hold Court three days of every week; oftener if there is any general need or demand for it.
4. On remaining week-days he will maintain regular office hours at the Judge's Chambers for consultation with attorneys in regard to uncontested procedure and to handle emergency court matters.
5. To keep the Court open continuously he will take no leaves without arranging to have another Judge to substitute for him on regular court days, excepting, however, for emergencies and official business that require absence and even in those cases he will endeavor to provide the services of another qualified Judge.
6. He will keep abreast of current high court decisions and changes in the Probate Law.
7. His prime objective will be to provide the highest service to the public and equal justice under the law in administering the work of the Probate Court.
