

Sunset Camp Service League Adds Mrs. Nathan to Board

Mrs. Thomas Nathan is joining the board of directors of the Sunset Camp Service league, at its annual meeting at the Standard club Friday, March 22. This brings to eight the number of Highland Park women on this board. They include Mrs. Sidney L. Schwarz, president; Mrs. David Levinson, new vice-president to be installed at the same meeting; Mrs. Harold Lachman, Mrs. Walter E. Lilienfeld, Mrs. Richard Loewenthal, Mrs. Henry I. Stein, and Mrs. John Wineman.

The Sunset Camp Service league supports two projects: Herrick House, a convalescent center for children with rheumatic heart disease, and Max Strauss Summer camp for children with special need of camp experience. Both are near Bartlett, Ill.

In addition to Mrs. Nathan, new board members include Mrs. Fremont Chandler, Mrs. John H. Holabird, and Mrs. William F. Petersen, all of Chicago.

In welcoming the new board members, Mrs. Schwarz said, "We are glad to have you join us in this eventful year when we are extending the service of Herrick House from five months a year to twelve, and almost tripling our service. For 23 years we have been caring for children whose hearts have been damaged by rheumatic fever, which as you know causes more deaths among children than any other disease, and cripples many more. We have learned that most of these supposed 'cripples' can live active, happy and useful lives if given proper care and guidance immediately after they leave the hospital. This we are now in a position to give, with our year-service which begins April 4.

"Dr. Herrick and the other members of our medical advisory committee have led us cautiously over a long road, and now we know how large a constructive service we can give. Some of us have served on this board for many years; we are glad to add you to our number."

Other officers of the league include Mrs. Richard Loewenthal, Miss Elsa Eisendrath, and Mrs. Harris Perlstein. Mrs. Edwin Eells is executive director.

Kay Francis, in Person, Big Hit in "Windy Hill" At the Harris Theater

Kay Francis, beloved screen star, has returned in person to the legitimate theater where she began her stage career before the movies secured her services, and is scoring in on of her greatest triumphs in the new Patsy Ruth Miller stage comedy, "Windy Hill," at the Harris theater, Chicago. Ever since the play recently opened it has won the hearts of playgoers and is therefore presented every night, including Sunday, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Windy Hill" is a modern comedy that finds Miss Francis cast as a globe-traveling newspaper correspondent who dares to move in with an old boy friend after the war in a suburban cottage at Nyack, N. Y. The play has been acclaimed by critics for its sparkling comedy scenes, its many bright lines, and for its outstanding Broadway supporting cast that includes Roger Pryor, who is featured opposite Miss Francis. Mr. Pryor has been a stage and screen favorite for years, and many will recall him for his hand.

"Windy Hill" is the presentation of Ruth Chatterton, better known as the star of such former stage successes as "Daddy Long Legs," "Moonlight and Honeysuckle," and "Mary Rose," and more recently, of "Pygmalion" and "Private Lives."

Patsy Ruth Miller, the author, was a movie star for fourteen years during the era of silent pictures. Rudy Valentino and Lon Chaney are some of those opposite whom she has appeared.

The selected Broadway cast includes Lawrence Fletcher, Eileen Heckert, Ruth Conley, Donald McClelland, Grant Gordon, Earle Mayo, Eulabelle Moore and James Hagan.

The exquisite setting for the play is by Edward Gilbert.

"Windy Hill" is in Chicago for an indefinite run and has popular prices for the matinee and evening performances.

Girl Scouts of Immaculate Conception School Troop

On Wednesday, March 13, the Immaculate Conception school troop was visited by Father William Clark of St. Mary's seminary in Mundelein who spoke to the girls.

The new leader of this troop was also introduced. She is Mrs. George H. Heicher, the former Lt. Nurse Helen Cawley. Mrs. Heicher told the girls of some of her overseas experiences and related how a ten-year background of Scouting had helped her while in the service.

Mrs. Thomas Clark organized this troop. Mrs. W. J. Curotto, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Mitchell and Mrs. C. McCarthy, have maintained leadership until a trained leader could be had.

Scout Nancy McKinley is assisting with the girls who are working toward their game badge.

A training course for new leaders and assistants and any one interested in brushing up on previous training is to be held on Friday, March 22, at 9:45 at the Community center.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 17, was:

"SUBSTANCE"

The Golden Text was: "By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life" (Proverbs 22: 4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength: . . . But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (1st Cor. 2: 9, 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. . . The fading forms of matter, the mortal body and material earth, are the fleeting concepts of the human mind. They have their day before the permanent facts and their perfection in Spirit appear. The crude creations of mortal thought must finally give place to the glorious forms which we sometimes behold in the camera of divine Mind, when the mental picture is spiritual and eternal. Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things. Where shall the gaze rest but in the unsearchable realm of Mind?" (pp. 468, 263).

ity center. Mrs. Leonard Davidow, Mrs. Raymond Ryan and Mrs. Eugene Clarke will be instructors. This is a condensed course of the fundamentals of Girl Scouting and troop leadership.

A craft workmanship will be held at the Community center on Friday, March 22, and Tuesday, March 26, at 1:15. Mrs. Joseph Hruby is to be the instructor. Mrs. Hruby comes highly recommended by the Chicago Park board. Leaders will be instructed at this workshop so they in turn can carry ideas back to the girls in the troops.

A new troop is being organized at the Ridge Farm preventorium and Mrs. Reichart will be the leader.

Local Disabled Veterans Urged to Form Highland Park Chapter of D. A. V.

In an appeal to approximately 500 Highland Park veterans of World War II who were disabled in service, Dow V. Walker of Newport, Ore., national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, today urged that they band together to form a local chapter of the D.A.V.

Walker based his estimate on the number of disabled veterans in this community on a per capita average that has been worked out by the D.A.V., which is chartered by Congress as the official voice of America's wartime disabled.

Veterans who have been wounded, gassed, or disabled in any degree while serving in the armed forces during time of war are eligible for membership in the D.A.V. Veterans of all wars are members.

The D.A.V. national commander pointed out to local veterans who suffered disabilities that there are more than 1,211 chapters of the D.A.V. throughout the United States. Both men and women are eligible for membership.

Walker said complete information on how to go about forming a local chapter can be obtained by contacting a D. A. V. chapter in a nearby city or writing to National Adjutant Vivian D. Corby, national DAV headquarters, 1423 E. McMillan St., Cincinnati O.

The D. A. V., Walker said, maintains the largest staff of nationally paid service officers of any veterans organization. During the past 14 years the D. A. V. has handled more than 900,000 claims, obtained 160,000 medical examinations and established disability compensation benefits in excess of $100,000,000.

Lay Health Committee Talks on Health Subjects Before Women Voters

The area in which an intensive public health program can operate to best advantage was one of the subjects discussed at the last meeting of the lay health committee of the League of Women Voters on March 5, at the home of Mrs. Louis B. Haller.

It was learned that in general the area should be small enough so that the people in that area will have similar problems, so that a health department can act quickly, and so that community interest will be aroused.

In the last year a diphtheria epidemic in Freeport, Illinois, got under way and resulted in over 30 cases with five deaths, which might have been prevented. The time required for reports to clear through Springfield gives a disease like diphtheria a chance to spread before control measures can be applied from the state level.

Even if a health program could be efficiently administered in an area as large as the state, it would require the services of so large a staff that the citizens as a whole would refuse to support it. Communities will not accept or pay for local programs imposed by Washington or Springfield. To quote Dr. Roland Cross, M.D., director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, "The benefits of a good public health service can be had only when the people in a community decide that good health is worth while, and when they are willing to pay for the services which will minimize the risk of disease."

On the other hand, an area must be large enough so that the controls will be effective; so that the area will justify the full time employment of a few professionally trained people, and so that inequalities in health and services within the community are leveled out.

Roadside taverns, of which there are over 220 in Lake county, improper sewage disposal, and trailer camps outside of municipal boundaries, may be a menace to people within those boundaries, but are beyond the control of city ordinances. Rural areas, small cities and small institutions cannot afford or are they justified in employing full time health officers. But professional full time service at the county level could successfully supplement and coordinate existing local services.

Even in an area so small as Lake county there are considerable inequalities in wealth, and the most money is not necessarily spent where it is most needed. By the last governmental survey 76c per capita was spent yearly for public health services in Lake Forest, and 63c in Highland Park, while in the more congested and industrial towns of North Chicago and Waukegan, approximately 20c went for public health service. At Grayslake each citizen paid only a tenth of one cent a year.

Each meeting will be reported in full so that citizens may become informed of conditions and needs in Lake county, and that they learn of the public health situation in general. The next meeting of the lay health committee will be on Tuesday, March 19, at 1:15 p.m., at 290 Marshman avenue, Highland Park. The group will continue the discussion of county government as it relates to public health. It is hoped that guests from the county board will be in attendance to help with the discussion.
