Reflections

Last week one of Highland Park's most beloved citizens, Mr. William W. Aiston, was struck and killed by an early morning North Shore train at the Beech street station. This terrible accident to such a wonderful man never would have occurred if that station was a safe place. It is not. And "Pop" Aiston's cruel death was a tragic way for us to learn that the station is a menace to all Highland Parkers.

Ridgewood Drive, the pleasant street on which "Pop" Aiston lived, borders, on the west, Beech St. And some of the progressive Ridgewood Drive residents have already created what we consider a positive plan to make that station a safe one.

But . . . more about the plans for this new station when we have all the details.

Something must be done at once!

DO-GOODERS . . .

One of this corner's most reliable scouts passed along the following names, saying:

"These Highland Parkers have done a grand job doing behind-the-scenes-work for our town. They deserve a great deal of credit. You should mention them in your column."

Okay. Here they are:

Mr. and Mrs. Tom R. Wyles, Mrs. Theodore L. Osborn, Mr. Herbert M. Lautmann, Mr. Harry Aiston, Mr. Walter E. Meierhoff, Mr. Lewis B. Sinclair, and Mr. George B. Hartman.

THANKS, FRISBIES . . .

A note to thank the C. O. Frisbies, 166 Lakeside Manor, for a delightful evening spent at their beach party held last Saturday night.

Our group—Betsy Gooder, Tom Ullman, Phillis Baker, Dick Higgins, and the writer—had a keen time. We know the many others there also enjoyed the tasty food; the refreshing drinks; the reunion with old friends.

O, and by the way, despite the fact that he did nothing sensational — and because he wanted his name in the paper — Ray Johnson was there, too.

CONCERNED . . .

Recently we were taken on a tour of Glenview Naval Air Base. We were amazed at the growth of this field. It was impressive indeed to see the many luxurious club, barracks, and administrative buildings.

The base is much like a country club — equal to any of Highland Park's.

Briefly, the naval base is a nice, clean place to be around. And the planes landing and taking off regularly tend to make a visit there entertaining.

After we left we thought how nice the Navy treats its cadets and ex-pilots.

But we wonder if this is so com-

Wm. L. Winters Released; Plans To Study Medicine

William L. Winters Jr., pharmacist's mate 3/c, has just received his discharge from the naval medical corps, U. S. navy, at Great Lakes.

The son of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Winters, 188 Laurel, he was graduated from the Highland Park high school in June, 1944, immediately afterward enlisting in the navy.

After receiving his basic training at Great Lakes, he was assigned to the hospital corps, serving his apprenticeship at San Diego, Calif. Later he was stationed at the base hospital on Samar, P. I., for eight months.

Following this he was given independent duty aboard an LST, based at Subic Bay, traveling between Subic Bay and Okinawa. After his ship was decommissioned, he returned to the States by transport, via the Panama canal to Norfolk, Va., receiving his discharge at Great Lakes Naval Training station, July 5.

Bill plans to study medicine.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE OF MARIE LOUISE WORTH

The announcement of the marriage of Marie Louise Worth to Walter Spike is being made by her grandmother, Mrs. Frederick D. Silber of Chicago. Mr. Spike, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Spike of West Roxbury, Mass., is a gradu-mendable after all.

THINK ABOUT PEACE! . . .

We agree that flying is great sport. Frankly, we wish we could fly. We know it's fun. And we know, too, that it's necessary for a pilot to keep in "flying shape."

But . . . we maintain that as long as we keep thousands of young men interested in fighter planes, machine guns, rocket bombs and other war implements, we're going to have less concentration on the vitally necessary thought of lasting peace.

It's natural for man, when he has a new machine, to try it out. And if we station the nation's youths at plushy air bases, supply them with speedy, death-dealing fighter planes, it's only a question of time, we believe, before these young men will get anxious to test their weapons of death.

Learn to fly? Yes. But make the armed services attractive and wars glamorous — no!

JUST FOR THE RECORD . . .

Now and then the writer is teased about the yellow PRESS light bolted to the front of his convertible. Many think the light is a gift from THE HIGHLAND PARK PRESS — Highland Park's newspaper for 34 years, incidentally.

Just to keep the record straight, folks, that PRESS light was put there on orders from a rugged Chicago city editor under whom we worked as a correspondent. The Chicago newspaper paid for the light, installation and all. We had nothing to do with it.

And because we're freelancing now, we're permitted to maintain the beacon.

BEST CRACK OF THE WEEK DEPT. . .

Credit a Highland Parker, an ex-AAF corporal just back from Germany, with this succinct description of our present "give-away" policy:

"You name it and UNRRA will feed it!"

PARTING THOUGHT . . .

We wonder how life will be in the Post-Atomic Age?

Or, for that matter, how times will be in the Post Hey-Boba-Re-Ba-Putty-Putty Age we're struggling through now?

ate of Harvard university. He served with the CIC in Germany before his return to the United States in March of this year. His fiancée is a graduate of Grinnell college and has been working as a nursery school teacher in New York City.

The wedding will take place on Sunday, July 14, at the All Souls Unitarian church in New York City. Following their marriage the bride and groom will go to Bustins Island, Maine, for their honeymoon. In September they will reside in Boston while Mr. Spike attends B. U. Law school and Mrs. Spike continues with her teaching.

Highwood Veteran To Return From Germany

Stationed with the U. S. army in France and Germany since last December, Sgt. Tony Gualandri, of the 255th signal corps, expects to return home soon.

Mrs. Gualandri, the former Violet Caldarelli, with her two children, Tony Jr., and Susan, lives at 235 Jeffreys, Highwood.

RICHARD SCHAAF RECEIVES DISCHARGE

Former Lieut. Richard Schaaf, ordnance officer in charge of the army signal corps station in Asmara, Eritrea, Italian East Africa, recently flew the 9000 mile trip from Asmara to the States, where he received his release from service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Schaaf, 200 Ravine drive.

ETHEL CARLSON WEDS

On Saturday, July 6, Miss Ethel H. Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Carlson of Medford, Wis., became the bride of Carl E. Miller, son of Mrs. Susan Miller of Clifton, Ill., at the St. James rectory, at 11:30 a.m. The Rev. Gleeson read the service.

The bride wore a white eyelet gown and three quarter length veil which hung from a tiara. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Angelo Notagiacomio of 224 Burchell avenue, attended as matron of honor. She wore a blue eyelet dress and her bouquet was of pink carnations. Her husband served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress and pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother was in flowered blue chiffon and her corsage was also of pink carnations.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, the William Pawelkos of Des Plaines, for the immediate families, following the ceremony, after which they all left for Clifton, Ill., where another reception was held in their honor.

After a week's honeymoon, the young couple will reside in Des Plaines.

VISITING HERE

On Saturday, July 20, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. N. Milner and their son, Richard, of Cairo, Egypt, will arrive for a few weeks' visit at the home of Mrs. Milner's sister and brother-in-law, the Robert K. Belts of 1919 S. Sheridan road. The Milners will be visiting in the United States until November.

HELEN SMITH A BRIDE

The Rev. H. K. Platzer heard the exchange of nuptial vows on Saturday evening, June 29, at 7:30, at the Evangelical Lutheran church, when Miss Helen Smith became the bride of Leo James Zahnle. Miss Smith is the daughter of the Walter Smiths of 1205 Deerfield road, and Mr. Zahnle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zahnle of 56 Skokie boulevard.

The bride wore a pale blue dress complemented by white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Attendants for the couple were their fathers.

The bridegroom, a former carpenter's mate 1/c in the seabees, served for three years, most of that time overseas in both the European and Pacific theaters. He participated in the Normandy invasion and the battle of Okinawa.

Only the immediate families attended the reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

The young couple, who will reside temporarily with her parents, plan to live in their own home on Skokie boulevard, soon.

IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. William Saach of Elm St., Highwood, left by plane Friday night for California, where she will visit with Mrs. Fred Rubly of Los Angeles, formerly of Highland Park.

ANDERSONS BACK

The family of Dr. Chester Anderson, Highwood dentist, moved here on Monday from their home in Rochester, New York. Dr. Anderson, who served as a lieutenant in the navy during the war, has been here for two months. His family remained in Rochester until he found a home for them. They are residing at 55 High street, Highwood. The Andersons are the parents of two sons, Bruce, 4, and Donald, 2.

WEEK-END AT LAKE BEULAH

In Lake Beulah, Wis., for the week-end at the Roth summer home were the J. Roths of 389 Comstock place and the senior M. M. Kutzers of 1978 S. Sheridan road.

VISITED HERE

Edward Carroll of Cleveland, O., spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Mayme Carroll, and his children, Patricia and Tom, of Pleasant street, Highwood.

ATTEND FUNERAL

In Davenport, Iowa, last week, for the funeral of Harvey Daines, superintendent of the Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' home, who passed away on July 3, were his wife's sister and brother-in-law, the Jim Gourlays of 4144 S. Sheridan road, Chicago, formerly of Highland Park. Mr. Daines, who visited in Highland Park many times, had many friends here.

TO ALL OUR MOST WORTHY GARDENERS & OTHERS Who Take Delight and Comfort in the Kitchen-Garden

LET the Reader be pleas'd to take notice, that I write not here for those which are skilful Gardeners, but for those that have a mind to become so, that their Gardens may be in a Condition to allure the Spectators, and delight the Eyes of the Curious.

OF the STANDING OR the most desirable place, the Husbandman ought to consider the condition and property of the earth of his Garden, whether it incline to be very moist, or more dry, acid or sweet, and that it must be fruitful and kindly being up profitable herbs. The garden must be water'd and enjoy'd by the Sun and shadow, but be subject to prevent proper drainage of water. And this diligently obey, that better to a little ground of field, being well dress'd and labour'd, than a large ground being so poorly labour'd better to it at all.

OF the SOWING THE beds must be very carefully prepared for Seed. Here the good dressing maketh a good ground the better, and greatly consisteth in the ground. It is necessary the Gardener to leave the up times to rest or plant in. Many have the business up and down of seeds or plants in the hand in a common Complaint. The planting must be attended to in a due season, not delayed, as in the contrary. Do not sow too shallow or more than a foot deep. Do not sow too thickly as seedlings must be given free Room for Growth or they will come to nothing.

OF the INSTRUMENTS

Little thought may do a great deal of mischief. The several Husbandmen after each using cleavards and fork Tools and Instruments of the Earth whereof they are want to be taken. He keeps them well appear'd and safe from harm that happens in the course of being left in the field.

OF FRESHENING of the Beds

If the sky withholds its Supply, the Labour of the Hand must take its place. For this Season must not be pass'd over. The eye of the plants shall greatly direct the Gardener to know how to continue them, for under young plants some come up, require a heavy watering. A gentle sprinkling shall greatly prosper them where otherwise by the faculty drawing with water, they are much enervated and put in hazard of perishing. But beds sown green will pay to have their soil plentifully water'd that their roots may drink. The watering of the beds ought to be done in the morning, soon after the Sun rising and at evening when the Sun presseth a weaker force upon the Earth.

OF the CULTIVATION

When plants grow thick together, the Gardener must learn to cut them down to the end they might the better increase and rise higher. And what plentiful nature is require'd in the watering way of all these beds compared to the nature of the Clay contains. Husbandmen are to take care of the Water in the best but there are places where the ground might offer to be water'd with the Hand, for fear of falling the young plants before they be grown strong to stand and lay that up. And the Husbandman must take heed that he do not too liberally water the earth, nor hardly crush the plants.
