Open New Headquarters For Lake County Republicans

John J. Spellman, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee announces opening of new headquarters for the Republicans of Lake county. Since 1936 the Republican headquarters have been located in the Clayton hotel in Waukegan but due to the shortage of available space the community found it necessary to seek new quarters. These new headquarters are located at the corner of County and Clayton streets in Waukegan, across from the YMCA.

"A spirited campaign is already under way," William D. Whyte, campaign manager, who is in charge at headquarters announces. An aroused citizenry over present day conditions assures a turnout on election day, November 5 that will far surpass the total vote of any "off year" election. The Lake county organization is enthusiastic over the results of the registration drive closed last Tuesday, as by careful canvassing it has been found that 75 to 80 per cent of the un-registered citizens who are now fully eligible to vote on November 5 are pro-Republican.

Americans are pretty well fed up on government controls, governmental red tape, government confusion and all the other post-war annoyances. They will VOTE THEIR PROTEST on Nov. 5 and thereby answer the campaign query, "Haven't You Had Enough?" Nov. 5 promises to be a victory day for all Americans.

Campaign Mgr.

Ten members of the "Stamps for the Wounded" club, a group of men working among the veterans of the Great Lakes Naval hospital, housing at present about 8000 men, have been cited for their faithful work.

Names of Members

For the two years of the club's existence, these men, all with business of their own to look after, have not missed a single Monday evening at the naval hospital. They are paying their debt of gratitude to these wounded veterans. An orchid to each of the following:

Messrs. Ray Klinger, Dr. J. P. O'Connell and Charles Sanborn of the North Suburban Philatelic club and from New Trier and Evanston: Alfred Bates, Milton Ferguson, Charles Henderson, Karl Heumann, Kenneth Kerr, Joe Lorimer and Joseph Mountain.

During the time they have maintained the club, these men have interested over 600 boys in stamp collecting, and at present have 80 active collectors.

Stamps Donated

Where do these men obtain stamps for that many members? Of course they hand over a great many from their own private collections, but a great many are also donated. Interested citizens, glad to do this small service, save cancelled stamps from their mail and turn them over to "Stamps for the Wounded." Reflection upon the weary, painful hours whiled away by this fascinating hobby is certainly reward enough for such a trifling service.

For some time the Highland Park Press has gladly received stamps to be handed over to Charles Sanborn, one of the faithful, for his "boys."

This Means You!

Watch your mail. If you find unusual stamps on it (the ordinary two- and three-cent ones are not needed) just slip them into an envelope addressed to the Highland Park Press. It will cost you a slight effort and a three-cent stamp. And your contribution may include just that certain stamp some lonely boy needs for his collection.

Present GOP Candidates At Affair Here Saturday

Columnist Whitt Schultz Produces the "Master Key"

A character of many facets has our columnist, Whitt N. Schultz, 1007 Ridgewood place. Student, soldier, journalist, business man... he has now turned inventor, and produced one of those useful little household helpers, so simple that we wonder why we never thought of it ourselves — only we never did!

This streamlined little gadget occupies hardly any more space than a butter spreader, yet it solves six ever-present problems for the busy housewife. And like most simple things, it gives no hint of the processes it underwent to reach perfection.

One might almost call it a Highland Park product, for Mr. Bruce Krasberg, Lakeside place, is vice-president of the Chicago firm, R. Krasberg & Sons Mfg. Co., which is turning out the finished item, and Elwood Hansmann, of Lincoln avenue, is a member of Hinkle, Horton, Ahlberg, Hansmann & Wupper, Chicago, the firm that handled the exhaustive search with regard to patents.

This handy helper opens, cleanly and quickly, vacuum cans of all shapes and sizes, sardine cans, vacuum sealed bottles, crown cap bottles and sardine cans; acts as a cherry, olive or pickle fork, and as a ketchup starter.

The Master Key is on sale in all Chicago State street stores. Local firms handling the article are: Central Hardware, Blue Goose, Husenetter Hardware and Highland Park Pharmacy, and Sears Roebuck & Co., and it is expected that it will soon be on sale in Krogers, National Tea, Walgreen's and Jewel Tea.

Rowe Calls for End Of Waste in Washington

Richard Yates Rowe, Republican candidate for state treasurer, charged that the United States today stands on the precipice of national bankruptcy and called for the end of the carnival waste in Washington, D.C.

Stating that national solvency is one of the vital issues of this campaign, Rowe quoted staggering figures on the national debt and the per capita tax to back up his charge.

"In 1935," Rowe said, "our per capita tax in the United States was $20. On Sept. 9, 1946, our per capita tax was $308."

"In 1935 our federal payroll one and one-fourth billions. On Sept. 19, 1946, our federal payroll was eight billions — also seven times greater than in 1935."

Rowe, who is recognized as an outstanding authority on finance, then quoted these startling figures on our national debt:

"Our federal debt," he said, "is 263 billion dollars. The national debt of all other countries of the world is only 219 billions. We, with 7 per cent of the total world population — 140 million people — have a per capita debt 19 times greater than the rest of the world. We owe 60 per cent of the world debt, while the other 93 per cent owes only 40 per cent."

"It is time to drive the wasters and squanderers and looters out of Washington," Rowe said.

H. Park Elevens Upset Morton's Apple Cart

The Morton varsity team lead of 6 to 0 vanished into thin air, last Saturday, when Highland Park rallied to gain a decision.

Dan Murphy and Enzo Nannini turned the tide for dear old Alma Mater, Dan scoring on three plays for Highland Park on a 50-yard end sweep and runs of 19 and 3 yards. Enzo scored on a 3-yard crash over center after Murphy had set it up on a 12-yard sprint.

It was a great day for Highland Park, the varsity team scoring 12 to 6 and the frosh-soph 19 to 6 over Morton.

All announcements to appear in the Highland Park Press MUST be in this office by TUESDAY NOON at the latest to insure publication in the current issue.

The Deerfield Township Republican Woman's club will present to its members and their guests at a tea to be held on Saturday, Oct. 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Mills, four important Republican candidates and their wives. Nickell of Champaign.

CONG. RALPH CHURCH

Congressman Church represents the 10th district of Illinois in the Congress of the United States, and is standing for reelection, having served eight years previously in Washington, D.C. Mr. Stratton is Republican candidate for Congressman-at-large from Illinois, having served one term previously in the Congress and one term as state treasurer for Illinois, prior to entering the service of the United States navy. Mr. Rowe is Republican candidate for state treasurer, and served as secretary of state by appointment to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Edward J. Hughes. Mr. Nickell is Republican candidate for reelection as superintendent of public instruction for Illinois, a position he has filled the past few years. Presented also to the club that day will be Mr. and Mrs. William M. Marks of Lake Villa.
