PLATINUM ONCE USED FOR COINAGE

Platinum was used for coinage by the Russians over 125 years ago in order to reduce the probability of counterfeiting as the metal was difficult to melt and had a greater weight by volume than any other element. The coins were called in toward the middle of the 19th century due to platinum's rise in price and the fact that it was too scarce for coinage.

Stays silent... lasts longer
Servel
GAS REFRIGERATOR

"There's only one refrigerator for us... and that's a Servel," more and more folks are saying. For they've learned from friends and neighbors that the Gas Refrigerator stays noise-free, wear-free. The secret? A tiny gas flame replaces moving, wearing parts in its freezing system.

New Servels are coming off the line every day. But the demand is so great that some folks may have to wait a bit. If you can't get yours right away, remember—Servel is worth waiting for. It stays silent, lasts longer.
