

Let's Take a Look

Notebook Notes

We received another call from Street Supt. Andrew Beck the other day.

Purpose of his call was direct attention to Highland Park's alleys.

According to Mr. Beck, alleys are in bad condition: they're piled with junk, refuse, rubbish and everything we Highland Parkers don't want.

Believing Mr. Beck, but wanting to investigate first hand, we made an alley tour over the week-end, and, frankly, we were shocked at what we saw.

We're cleaning up our streets — but there's still a lot of cleaning to do.

On the other hand, our alleys are heavy with dirt.

How about concentrating on these alleys?

Let's clean them up, too!

ABOUT BEECH STREET . . .

What has been done about making Beech St. North Shore station a clean and safe place?

So far as we can see, the station is still dirty.

And about the safety angle: it's still the most dangerous spot in town.

Why don't we do something about it?

How many more deaths must we have to get action?

BEST BOWLERS? . . .

Who are Highland Park's best bowlers?

It seems the nice fellows around Purnell & Wilson's Ford garage have a right fine team — it's as good as Central Tire's, at any rate, report Rich Mau and "Smoky" Lawrence of the local agency.

"Yep, we young fellows can whip those 'tire-keglers' any time," bow-tie-wearing Rich Mau told the writer the other day . . .

There's spirited, friendly rivalry among the men who can bowl here in town.

And there are plenty of fine bowlers, we hear.

May the best club win!

STIRRING THOUGHT . . .

"Work as though you were to live forever, and live as though you were to die tomorrow."

—Anon.

ON A CHICAGO STREET CAR . . .

Before Chicago's bus drivers decided to work again, the writer spent some uncomfortable time getting on and off Chicago's dirty, sition where his hard-hitting American ideas can be heard and put into effect.

We'd like to nominate Mr. Knight as a presidential candidate.

He has what it takes — a deep love for America and its people: the belief that our great nation can and must improve.
