

Deep and Shallows

Pilgrims' Thanksgiving

They worshipped in a church with rough-hewn pews—
No beauty there, except that from within—
No mighty organ, rolling out the hymns,
No vested choir, nor voices trained to please,—
Just songs made lovely by the grateful heart.

They thanked God for escape from hungry waves,
For haven in a wild, but longed-for, land,
For freedom, though obtained at costly price . . .
The price of work - stained, chapped and calloused hands,
Of constant vigilance for stealthy foe,
The price of loved ones, broken by the strain,
The price of empty stomach, often times,
Of housing rude and comfortless and bare.

But they had found the haven that they sought;
They worshipped now in freedom, as they chose . . .
And gave they thanks . . .

Life

Life is so long—and yet so short;
The days flit by, but more will come;
Chin up; eyes on the road ahead;
God is above. March on.
Tomorrow soon will be today;
'Twas ever thus, and thus will be.

Ain't It The Truth!

A very canny bachelor —
He is a careful man —
Can squire the sweet young things about,
And wear the dearest pan . . .

He keeps his precious liberty intact, and this is how:
By wondering, "How will she look Some twenty years from now?"

The picture that he conjures up Serves as a mental "Boo!"
He never even stops to think That he'll look that way, too!

H. P. Music Club Enjoys Musical Treat

In the attractive music room in the home of Mrs. Donald Boynton on Hawthorne lane, Wednesday, Nov. 20, the Highland Park Music club members enjoyed a concert given by members of the Winnetka Music club. This exchange program of classical and modern music was given by Louise Yates, soprano, Agnes Conover, pianist, and a trio for voice, piano and viola: Mary Catherine Collins, Lillian Magnuson Waller and Amy Neill.

Preceding the program, Mrs. Wickerham of the Illinois Federation of Music clubs spoke briefly on "The Golden Lyre Fund for Living Music," a fund to further the cause of music in the state of Illinois. On Monday, Dec. 2, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Clarence W. Schaaf on Ravine drive, a meeting will be held to explain this plan to Highland Parkers.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting, with Mrs. Ralph Bard, a former president of the club now residing in Lake Forest, and Miss Priscilla Carver, pouring. In January the local club will send some of its members as guest artists to the Winnetka Music club.

The January meeting of the local club will be held on the evening of Jan. 30, instead of the customary fourth Wednesday afternoon.

Winnetka Music Club Sponsors Concert Series

A series of concerts by famous artists is being offered at the New Trier high school by the Winnetka Music club. The three remaining programs will be given on Dec. 2, by William Kapell, pianist; Jan. 6 by Patricia Travers, violinist, and Feb. 12 by Paul Draper, dancer, and Larry Adler, harmonica player. These Monday concerts begin promptly at 8:30. Information and tickets may be obtained at Landis Stationers, Winnetka, or from Mrs. Joseph Garnett, Highland Park.

The entertainer on Dec. 2, William Kapell, is a native New Yorker of Spanish and Russian extraction. He studied with Dorothy Anderson, Olga Samaroff Stokowski at Philadelphia conservatory, and later at Juilliard graduate school of music. Prior to the age of 20 he had won three major awards. He has manifested his interest in young artists by sponsoring Richard Farrell, 18, of New Zealand, and establishing the William Kapell scholarship for youthful musicians. Now 24 himself, he has made over 40 coast-to-coast concert tours, and a comprehensive tour of South American countries. The climax to his last season's schedule of 60 appearances was an extended tour of Australia. His hobby is painting.

Blackhawk Society Plans Annual Dance

Jan Ann Turner, 626 Crescent court, was hostess to the Blackhawk society of the Children of the American Revolution on Saturday of last week, at which time plans for the annual formal dance were discussed. It will be held at the Ravinia Village House, Dec. 21. Music will be furnished by Jack Cavan and his orchestra. Tickets are being sold by Jan Ann Turner, Bette Jane Parliament, Robert Weddell, Sara Shafer and Dick Patton. Miss Nancy Waggett is president of the society.

Announce Engagement of High School Classmates

The engagement of her daughter, Gertrude, to Thomas Kirk, son of the James J. Kirks, of 360 Orchard lane, has been recently announced by Mrs. Otto Sossdorf, 225 N. Green Bay road.

The young folks were classmates in the Highland Park high school, and Miss Sossdorf is now attending Roosevelt college. Mr. Kirk is advertising representative for the National Research Bureau, Inc., of Chicago and New York.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Women Voters Study State Constitution

"The G. I. O. workshop, a study group of the League of Women Voters, is at present studying the Illinois State Constitution, including the revisions necessary to make it workable in a modern world," reports Mrs. David Joseph, of Lakeside place. The next meeting will be held Dec. 3. Anyone interested in this study group of government and its operation is invited to attend.

No telephone rate increase in 20 years for over 97% of all our customers

The present level of telephone rates was, with few exceptions, established in the early 1920's. For over 97% of our customers there's been no rate increase in 20 years.

Yet, the cost of providing telephone service to you has been climbing higher and higher.

True, we're doing more business than ever before. But expenses have risen faster than income. Payroll costs alone have more than doubled since 1940. Prices of materials and equipment, needed to maintain your service, have greatly increased.

That explains why Illinois Bell's present rate of earnings is as low as in our worst depression year—why we have reluctantly decided that we must ask for an adjustment in rates.
