The booklet is enlivened throughout by striking pen and ink sketches of the public buildings and facilities.

The city council states that the distribution of this booklet is prompted by "the belief that a summary statement of the organization and procedures of our city government and a review of the financial considerations within which that government must function will assist citizens of Highland Park in cooperating even more effectively with their government and with those responsible for the administration of the city's affairs. The report may also prove of assistance to those citizens who may be called on to serve their community in either an elective or appointive capacity at some time in the future."

Thanks for conserving gas during the coal strike!

Newest G. M. C. motor coaches have booster heaters which keep engines warm when they're not running.

Then there's the new Gas home heating device which has been in the papers during the past few weeks. Remember? It was the suitcase-size furnace. Frankly, we know very little about, that one, but we do know it is impossible to serve additional Gas house-heating until natural gas arrives next spring. Sorry!

'Tis said, "Our failures won't harm us until we begin blaming them on the" other fellow."

That reminds us of the definition of a Communist, "A man who has nothing and is eager to share it with others."
