"How Religion Can Help" First of Sermon Series

This Friday evening at North Shore Congregation Israel, Rabbi Charles Shulman's sermon will be "How Religion Can Help You—It's Faith in Time of Doubt." This is the first of a projected series of five sermons dealing with the stabilizing force of the past that held out hope and encouragement for men to face their day and to continue to plan for the future. Never have men been without need of some guiding philosophy to continue the search for a happy and satisfying life. Religion has an answer to these pressing needs and has the capacity to help the individual with courage in time of fear, comfort in time of sorrow, inspiration in time of stagnation, and its social philosophy for a troubled world.
Regular services are held at the temple every Friday night at 8:15. All visitors are cordially invited to attend.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

I had a very interesting experience the other morning. I went through the modern laundry in our town. All the new scientific equipment was amazing, and it was really fun to watch the girls at work! I stopped to chat with 3 girls who were pressing shirts, and watched them turn out a completely pressed and folded shirt every 27 seconds! That certainly is surprising when it takes us about 15 minutes to iron one at home!
You know, I'm always curious, so I asked the girls how they liked working in the laundry. And one by one they pointed out all the advantages—the clean, light, cheerful rooms in which they work... the music playing for the girls' enjoyment—the good pay for skilled workers. One of the girls told me that she had worked steadily for over three years—that a skilled laundry worker could always find employment. And then, too, many laundries provide group insurance at a very low rate—and vacation with pay.
Well, I was quite impressed with these girls' obvious enjoyment in their work. One of the girls stopped long enough to show me the rest room—and it rivaled any big office building's rooms for cleanliness, modern appointments and comfort.
You know, I think many of us have an idea that laundries are old-fashioned—that working in one is much like washing at home. But I certainly learned the difference! A girl looking for a steady year-round job would be wise to look into the many opportunities in this field—I'm convinced it's a worthwhile career.

Redeemer Lutheran Installs Officers

Redeemer Lutheran church will install 1947 officers during the morning worship on Sunday, Jan. 5. The congregational officers for the new year are: Louis Wagner, president; Henry Grossman, vice-president; Leonard Eichler, secretary; Harry Eichler, treasurer; trustee, William Rectenwald; deacon, Milton Voigt; Sunday school superintendent, Carroll Snyder; finance committee: Louis Geminer, Henry Grossman and George Lawrentz; auditors: Carl Loetz and Raymond Grossman; sexton and financial secretary: Raymond Rectenwald.

Redeemer guild officers for the year 1947 are: Mrs. Marcus Hagen, president; Mrs. Harry Eichler, secretary; council members: Mesdames George Shuman, George Schfeuchenflug and Byron Brandt. Dorcas society officers are Miss Ruth Rectenwald, president, and Mrs. Milton Voigt, secretary-treasurer.

Three new members will be admitted into the congregation on Sunday during the service: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Juul and Mrs. John Wilner.

Auto Shop Secures New Electric Hoist

The auto shop recently received from army surplus a new Walker electric automobile hoist. Also new is an engine stand, which permits an engine which is set on it to be turned in any direction for observation.

The hoist, which is the only one in the auto shop, permits all four wheels of the car to be raised from the floor to a height of four to five and one-half feet. This allows a person to walk under the car to do repair work.

The hoist is run by an electric motor, which winds up a cable and pulls up to steel beams on which the car is resting. Hydraulic jacks or a hand driven winch were previously used to lift cars from the floor.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Veterans Bill of Rights

It is virtually certain that this session of the congress will liberalize many provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights, particularly since President Truman and the Veterans administration have now given added impetus to needed clarification and liberalization.

In his message to the congress, the President urged that prompt consideration be given for more liberal hospitalization and veterans care, more vocational training under the vocational rehabilitation act and to education and training under the serviceman's readjustment act (G. I. bill). The President further urged more specific language for re-employment of veterans under the selective service act, so there can be no doubt about the right of a veteran to get back his old job should he desire it.

The Veterans administration itself will take the lead and spearhead the fight for these clarifying and liberalizing amendments and the administration will have the backing of such organizations as the American Bar association, the American Institute of Banking, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At this time 22,349 veterans, out of more than two million demobilized thus far, are taking advantage of the education features of the bill of rights. Some of the proposed amendments would include "adequate subsistence and travel allowances for veterans taking intensive refresher courses away from home; permit instruction by correspondence, particularly from approved educational institutions which have not hitherto conducted correspondence courses."

Pastel bed sheets are popular again. Misty yellow, seafoam green, and peachbloom are most asked for colors. . . . And don't forget that when they become faded they can be tinted to look like new with instant dye.

Because tom turkeys are so large and hard to sell, the suggestion has been made to market turkey steaks, thereby solving the problem for both housewife and turkey growers. They're delicious either fried or broiled.

When winter menus get bogged down with starchy foods, give them a lift with tempting green or fruit salads topped off with a tempting real mayonnaise variation. Appetizer Mayonnaise made of equal parts of mayonnaise and French Dressing is good over most any salad.

Although this season's American rice harvest is 10% larger than last year's, this grain will still be very scarce during 1947. Heavy exports to the Orient, which depends on rice as we do wheat, will continue.

About the tastiest bit on any appetizer tray is Spiced Pineapple Cubes. Just saute them in vitaminized margarine and sprinkle with brown sugar and spices. Then add a dash of vinegar and stir gently until glazed. Ummm! They're good pickings!!!

And a Spring note! Gay print dresses with solid colored light woolen jackets to accent one of the colors in the print will be featured. So hang on to that last year's number. Maybe a jacket will be all you'll need to make a brand new ensemble.

Keep fats saved from cooking in the refrigerator because they spoil more quickly than new fats.

A new outdoor clothes drier will be a joy to housewives. Made of aluminum with 150 feet of rope it weighs only 10 pounds and opens with the ease of an umbrella.

As festive as the holiday season itself is this delicious mayonnaise variation made of chopped candied fruits, nuts, sour cream and real mayonnaise. It's simply wonderful served with fruit salads.

Speaking of the holiday season, Christmas candles will be scarce due to shortage of chemicals, coloring and tallow.

Know why the price of vitaminized margarine went up? Here's the reason: Cost of soybeans and cottonseed, sources of major ingredients of margarine, have soared. Soybeans sold for as little as 80 cents a bushel in 1939; they now sell for $3.40. Cottonseed brought $16.25 a ton; today $100.

Tomato juice will be plentiful with the pack expected to hit a peak of 30 million cases.

Women's buyer resistance is having its effects. Retailers in many locales are eyeing expensively priced sheets and towels that found their way to shelves when cotton prices crashed. Though prices are holding firm, best opinion is that a break will come soon.
