Children's Department
The 16th and 23rd of February is Brotherhood week. Only through knowledge and understanding of different races and different nationalities of the world can we ever hope to establish a long lasting peace...

Understanding comes through knowledge, and in a modern world, one of the most important mediums for spreading knowledge is the printed word. What people read as grownups is often determined by what they read as children.

Association for Childhood Education—Told Under the Stars and Stripes.

A fine collection of short stories of boys and girls whose families come from all countries to live under "the Stars and Stripes."

Bontemps — We Have Tomorrow. Short biographical sketches of American Negroes who have made important contributions to our country.

Colman — Chinatown, U. S. A. "In the center of some of our biggest cities, a quiet people lead their lives... We have come to meet them very superficially only... They stem from a country which looks back upon roughly 4000 years of recorded civilization... which has produced many of the greatest thinkers and artists in the history of the world."

Clark — Little Navajo Bluebird. A little Indian girl of today, in her home, and in her associations with the outside world.

De Angeli — Bright April. The life of a little Negro girl in a happy home, with friends and neighbors, but also facing hard reality in the feelings of a race-prejudiced world.

De Angeli — Up the Hill. Daily life of two Polish children in a Pennsylvania mining district, closely connected with the life of today. Richly illustrated.

Graham — Dr. George Washington Carver. A significant biography of the great Negro scientist who worked so unselfishly to help his fellow men, and whose life has been an inspiration to so many.

Means — Great Day in the Morning. The life and problems of a young, idealistic Negro girl in the world of today.

Tarry and Ets — My Dog Rinty. Photographs of real life in New York's Harlem, show a little boy and his mischievous dog, in and out of trouble.

Tunis — All American. A fine sports story about the football team of a large city high school, with pupils from various races and different religions.

NORTHWESTERN SETTLEMENT

(Continued from page 3) son returned to the United States sufficiently informed and equipped to venture into the art of producing perfumery.

On Wednesday, when she set describing to members of Northwestern Settlement Bulgarian women working at lightning speed in the dim light of dawn, gathering petals from the "valley of roses" in the mountains of Bulgaria, and the seventy-day harvest season in the jasmine fields of France, she also passed around measured mixtures of these substances. Everyone said, "How lovely," and daubed wrists and carotids with drops of the provocative scents.

As her story continued it seemed more and more incredible that the absolute essence of jasmine and roses, an essential oil from a tuberos root grown in Java, the repelling odor of civet, moss from the Black Forest, the gland of a buck deer, ambergris—the regurgitation of a sperm whale—sandalwood from far-off India, an extract from a Canadian castor beaver and the aldehydes of chemistry could be combined through alchemy, imagination and an acute sense of smell into the exact result of an exquisite perfume.

Perfumes have recently become a high art in milady's dressing, and an essential on her dressing table. They are now reflectors of personality, motivators of moods, sweet memories of a beautiful evening, and invitations to romance. Madame no longer dares to scent herself with the earthy odor of a lilac if she knows at heart that she is but a shy violet; nor should she wear the aroma of a chaste carnation if she considers herself a blushing rose. Perfume must suit her clothes, her mood, her personality.

Program Arranged for Room Teas at the Ravinia School

At a tea on Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. Elwood Hansman, Ravinia school PTA chairman, the teachers of Ravinia and the room mothers met to plan teas for the mothers of each grade.

It was decided that each room of every grade should have a tea so that the mothers of the children in that room might become acquainted and discuss with each other and the teacher any common problems. These teas have been held during the latter part of January and early part of February and have been so popular that they will probably be part of future PTA programs.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. J. Christopher the following room mothers and teachers have entertained the mothers of Ravinia school children.

Kindergarten — Mrs. DeLaney,

Mrs. Wolens and Mrs. Stirling. First grade — Miss Anslow, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Haley and Mrs. Hornung.

Second grade — Mrs. Melville, Mrs. Wellman, Miss Lindstrom and Mrs. Osborne.

Third grade — Miss Tweed, Mrs. Schaffner, Miss Marxon and Mrs. Bjork.

Fourth grade — Miss Marxson, Mrs. Rölfe, Miss Rogman, Mrs. Kluss, Miss Crawford and Mrs. King.

Fifth grade — Miss Bodholdt, Mrs. Ladany, Miss Ducker and Mrs. Brown.

Sixth grade — Miss Patterson, Mrs. Rosin, Miss Larson and Mrs. Otto Saphir.

Seventh grade — Miss Pond, Mrs. Kraft, Miss Siverson and Mrs. Rosenberg.

Eighth grade — Mrs. Becker, Mrs. Dorough, Miss Sinkler and Mrs. Lowenthal.

Ravinia School Holds February Ice Carnival

Ravinia school held its twice-postponed ice carnival on Sunday, Feb. 2, with Dudley Dewey in charge. The program opened with a graceful exhibition of figure skating by Miss Nancy Sproul.

In the races which followed, ribbons were awarded to first, second, third and fourth place winners in each room of every grade — boys against boys and girls against girls. From third grade through eighth these ribbon winners raced again. First, second and third places were given medals and points to count in the all-school competition of the Silver and Blue teams. The Silver team emerged victor for the afternoon, with 61 points to 59 for the Blue team.

In the kindergarten race Judy Kraft came in first. First place honors in first grade went to Susan Shelton, Grady Ellis and Barbara Edelman. In second grade Bobby Wilson, Judy Coleman, Ed Lauer and Nancy Keare placed first.

The finals of the third through eighth grade races were as follows (in the order named):

Third grade boys — Peter Riddle, John Coleman, Arthur Weinfield.

Third grade girls — Nancy Keare, Robby Stuppel, Shan Goldberg.

Lincoln School Fathers To Present Musical Revue

On Wednesday, Feb. 19, at 8:00 p.m., the fathers of Lincoln school will present "The Lincoln School Musical Revue," to the members of the PTA and their guests in the school's auditorium.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Walter Pagenkopf, the fathers will take over for the evening and entertain their audience with harmony, swing and rhythm. This group of ingenious thespians will give a varied program introducing such acts as: close harmony the Andrews Sisters style, a burlesque entitled "The Golden Girls," the proverbial raconteurs telling the latest jokes and jests, not to mention the special act lampooning a PTA board meeting. The "Dads' Swing Orchestra" will oblige with tantalizing tunes mellow and sweet — old and new.

Mr. Pagenkopf says "his newly formed stock company" is bursting at the seams with talent and that the program will have a professional touch.

The audience will have an opportunity for active participation after the conclusion of the main portion of the program as dancing has been planned for everybody. Mr. Vincent Viezbicks will be on hand to direct square dancing.

Furthermore, food will be provided by the Bowman dairy snack bar. It will be an experience in eating as this service is super deluxe.

It is not likely that any Lincoln school patron will want to miss this unusual and delightful evening of entertainment.

Illness Fatal to Mrs. Maria Leonardi

Requiem high mass was held on Wednesday morning at St. James church in Highwood for Mrs. Maria Santi Leonardi, 316 Railway avenue, Highwood, who succumbed to a long illness Sunday morning at the Highland Park hospital. She was 63 years of age.

A native of Italy, she came to Chicago 39 years ago and had been a resident of Highwood for nearly 20 years. Past vice president of the Italian Women's Prosperity club, she also was a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, and of the St. James church.

Surviving are her husband, Sante; three daughters: Mrs. Alex DeBartolo and Mrs. David Perry of Highwood, and Mrs. Robert Umans of Half Day; one son, John F., of Highland Park; two brothers, Sam Santi of Milwaukee and Casper Santi of Highwood, and 10 grandchildren.

Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Rites at Rosehill For Ansel D. Weaver

Funeral rites were held on Monday afternoon at the Rosehill cemetery chapel, Chicago, for Ansel D. Weaver, 681 Delta road, who passed away at the Highland Park hospital on Friday at the age of 54.

Born in Gloversville, N. Y., he later lived in Chicago, moving to Highland Park seven years ago. He was chief claim attorney in the Chicago office of the Royal, Globe & Eagle Indemnity Co.

Surviving are his widow, Myrtle, a son, Denison, two daughters, Martha and Christine, and four sisters.

Former Highland Parker Is Taken by Death

Word has been received from Seattle, Wash., of the death of Mrs. Johanna Frada, former resident of Highland Park and mother of Mrs. Alfred Pick Jr., 176 Vine avenue. Mrs. Pick, en route to California when the news reached her, went directly to Seattle to attend the services.

Mrs. Frada, 70, was known as a writer, having several books of poems to her credit. Besides her daughter she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Kreighbaum of Seattle, two sisters and two grandchildren.

"Care of Trees" to Be Theme of Ravinia Garden Club Meeting

"Trees, Their Diseases and Care," will be the subject of a talk illustrated with slides, to be given before the Ravinia Garden club by Nels Johnson, a prominent Evans-ton tree surgeon. Mrs. Oliver Turner will open her home at 2432 N. Deere Park drive on Friday, Feb. 14, for the meeting. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Claburn Jones, Mrs. V. E. Lawrence, and Mrs. Hugh Riddle.

In spite of a very frozen outlook now, the club is beginning plans for its annual garden fair to be held in May, and the chairman of that project is Mrs. A. G. List.
