SKI WEDDING

The ski resort at Aspen, Colo., was the romantic setting for the wedding of Miss Barbara Francis Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton Morris of Wade street and John Kinsey Snobble, son of the J. Ernest Snobbles of Hazel avenue, on March 27, in the Aspen Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Jean Snobble Everett, sister of the bridegroom, who had accompanied Miss Norris to Aspen for a skiing vacation, attended as matron of honor. James Snobble, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride wore navy blue ski trousers, a red plaid skirt, and a white windbreaker jacket. The bridegroom, also in ski trousers, wore a cable stitch sweater. The attendants, as well as all the guests were similarly attired.

The bride was given in marriage by a professor at the Fountain Valley school in Colorado Springs, where Mr. Snobble is also a faculty member and skiing instructor. Twenty boys from the school, who had been taken to the resort for the spring vacation by Mr. Snobble, attended the wedding. Mr. Snobble is a graduate of Elm Place, Fountain Valley school and of Dartmouth, '45, where he was captain of the ski team. His studies at Dartmouth were interrupted for several years by the war during which time he served as a lieutenant in the army air corps.
