BARBARA BOWES A BRIDE

Trinity church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Friday afternoon when Miss Barbara Bowes, daughter of the junior Jerome P. Bowes of Laurel avenue, became the bride of S. Parker Johnston Jr., son of the S. J. Johnstons of Waverly avenue. The Rev. Harris heard the exchange of nuptial vows.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a yoke of heirloom rosepoint lace.

The matron of honor and the junior bridesmaid, Mrs. Charles M. Dering Jr., and Courtney Bowes, both sisters of the bride, wore bustled frocks of dusty pink organza. Similar dresses of green organza were worn by the bridesmaids, Elizabeth Mahan; Mrs. F. Kent Blatchford (Beverly Roach), Mrs. Jerome P. Bowes III, Margaret Johnston, sister of the bridegroom, and two cousins of the bride, Mrs. John Farrington and Elizabeth Leigh Nesbit. All wore picture hats and carried bouquets of violets formed about rose centers.

John Dingle of Wilmington, Del., son of Mrs. Florence T. Dingle of N. Sheridan road, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Frederick Asher, John Quincy Adams Jr., Jerome Bowes III, Arthur Emerson Jr., Robert Johnston and John Mercer.

The bride attended Roycemore, Warrenton country day school and Pine Manor. She was introduced to society in December, 1941, and is a provisional member of the Chicago Junior league. Mr. Johnston, a fifth generation Chicagoan and a great grandson of Benjamin Adams, is a graduate of Dartmouth. A former lieutenant, he served four years in the navy in the Pacific and Florida.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The young couple, now on a Bermuda honeymoon, will reside in Highland Park on their return. They plan to build a home here in the near future.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of brocade satin made with a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was held in place with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of orchids and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Rose Lorusso, cousin of the bride, wore aqua brocade satin and carried aqua and pink carnations. The bride's sister, Angela, Miss Toni Rich, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Margaret Drack attended as bridesmaids. Their gowns were of pink and their bouquets were of pink and white carnations. The attendants all wore blusher veils to match their dresses.

The bride's little cousin, Carol Ronchetto, and Beverly Compani acted as flower girls. Their dresses, made like the other attendants, were white. Their headpieces, small white blusher veils, were held in place with small pink flowers. They carried colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Soloist was Mr. Chester Kyle, accompanied by Mrs. McGuire at the organ.

James E. Rich was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Michael Cappozzi, Joseph Lorusso, cousin of the bride, and Floyd Swarthout Jr.

A breakfast for the bridal party and immediate families followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. At 3:30 a dinner for 54 guests was held at the Union hotel in Wheeling. About six hundred guests attended the reception at the Labor temple in the evening. Mr. Rich and his bride will reside in Highwood.

Everett L. Millard Will Head Olympic Ski Fund

Everett L. Millard, secretary of the Snow Chase club of Chicago, has been appointed chairman of the 1948 Olympic ski fund drive for the central area, it was announced recently by the national chairman, Albert Sigal, of California.

"We've lined up a crack American ski team," Millard said. "Now we've got to finance their invasion of St. Moritz, Switzerland, for the winter Olympic games, which are held separately and financed separately from the summer events."

"The Canadian, Swiss, Norse and French skiers are terrific. The skiing competition promises to be the hottest in history. I hope every American skier will invest a dollar and a prayer in the success of our team."

Millard began skiing in Italy and Austria and was a founder of the Snow Chase club, instrumental in bringing the downhill phase of the sport to the midwest hills. During wartime navy service Millard reported skiing adventures from Persia. During the past winter he initiated the formation of the Chicago Ski clubs, an informal league now embracing 11 winter sports groups of the metropolitan area. Some years ago he designed a safety ski binding made by removing toe straps from a conventional binding, with the irons bent in slightly so that the foot can escape in case of a spill. This "safetyized" binding, first advocated by Millard's club to lessen the toll of breaks and sprains, is now in increasing use by skiers nationally.

Chicago offices of the Olympic ski fund have been opened at 111 W. Washington, Chicago.

Floral Design—Mother's Day

For what she is and what she does, orchids to mother on Mother's Day! Here are two orchids facing in opposite directions—the top orchid rests gently on the shoulder for an extra lavish display.

A crown of carnations about the head of the Madonna—both symbolic of mother—makes this charming arrangement (right) a perfect Mother's Day gift. This sample of what florists are planning for the occasion this year was designed by Alyn Wayne, noted stylist of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. Simple treatment makes the most of the beautifully modeled pottery container. Upper left—a special design for an orchid corsage.
