Inter-Faith Officers Elected; Prize Essays And Poems Read

The highlight of the luncheon meeting which closed the 1946-47 season of the Inter-Faith group on Tuesday, was the reading of the prize essays on racial and religious understanding by the high school students, John Rostenheim, Sue Ostrander and Pat Cole. These young people whose interest in world solidarity was so thoughtfully and convincingly expressed in their timely essays won the first, second and third prizes given annually by the group to local high school students. Touchingly expressing similar ideas were the poems read by their author, Edith Lovejoy Pierce, formerly of Highland Park, whose second book of poetry will be published in the early fall by Harper Bros. In place of Mr. Kinney of Winnetka, who could not be present, Dr. Jas.

Yard, director of the Chicago round table of Christians and Jews gave a stirring talk on the grim necessity of understanding and cooperation among racial groups and religious groups if our world is to survive. He stressed the encouraging and significant fact that American youth, having fought in a war for democracy, is, on the whole eager to put these democratic ideas into practice, and to accept the idea of human brotherhood.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Miss Elizabeth Bredin; vice-president, Mrs. Arthur Raff; secretary, Mrs. Oray T. Knight, and treasurer, Mrs. Sidney Mandel.

Hurrying Home a Hazard

Ten times as many men are injured hurrying home from work between 4 and 5:59 pm as meet mishaps going to the job between 7 and 8:59 am. The National Conservation bureau, always ready to point out the need for care in preventing accidents, maintains this figure shows that after-job fatigue causes the men to be less alert—hence more injuries.
