

Steps in the Training of a Good Hunting Companion

There's nothing like a good dog to add pleasure and profit to the hunt. But good dog companions don't just happen; practically without exception they are the products of long, conscientious training in the demands of the woods and fields. Some of the steps in the training of a good gun dog are here illustrated by Elias C. Fall, widely-known trainer of field dogs and director of the Gaines Research Kennels, Ridgefield, Conn.

"NO!" is one of the most valuable commands in preventing waste motion in hunting. A dog who will refrain from eating when commanded "No!" is well on the way toward being well trained.

"HEEL!" This command keeps the dog at his master's side ready for any contingency. Pointers and Setters "heel" on the right side while Retrievers walk on their master's left side.

"WHO!" Picking the dog up and then planting him down firmly on all four feet while restraining him from moving is the best way to teach him to stop in his tracks on this command.

THE YOUNG DOG learns the correct form for a point by example from association with an older and well-trained dog. Constant correction leads to ultimate perfection of stance.

"COME!" is the first step in training a field dog. He learns from repeated tugs on a long lead and from pats when he obeys.

FIELD TRIAL DOGS are run in braces. Exuberant dogs have to be held back until they learn to stand without a lead while waiting for the starting signal.

HOLDING a point until a gun is fired is taught by having one man flush the bird while another holds the dog. After the gun is fired the dog is allowed to run to the end of a long lead, and thus comes to associate the two.

Illinois To Launch "Save The Teeth" Campaign

Designed to offset an ever increasing prevalence of dental defects among school children, a new kind of "save the teeth" campaign will be launched soon in Illinois, according to an announcement made here today by Dr. Roland R. Cross, state director of public health.

Along with regular brushing of the teeth, the new program will focus attention on three factors which are among the most effective known means of preventing dental decay; application of sodium fluoride to the teeth; use of a new dentifrice containing dibasic ammonium phosphate and urea; and a reduction of sugar and sweets in the diet of children. The program was approved at a recent meeting of representatives of all local dental societies of Illinois, all dental colleges in the state, and the Illinois department of public health.

AVC Asks Hearing On Apartment Plea

Declaring that there is confusion on facts and issues at stake in the proposed 4th floor addition to Sher-Park apartments in Highland Park, the North Shore Chapter of American Veterans Committee this week demanded that the Zoning Committee reopen public hearings on the case.

"We have interviewed more than a dozen city officials and interested parties," said Richard Ettlinger, AVC chapter chairman, in a letter to Karl Velde, Committee chairman. "No two of them have the same story on this matter. Meanwhile the innocent victims of the deadlock are prospective tenants in dire need of housing: veterans, teachers and other citizens."

The City Council last week referred a rehearing plea on the proposed addition by Julius Reingold, owner of the Moraine Hotel and of the apartment structure at Sheridan Road and Park Avenue for consideration by the Zoning Committee. Two floors of the building are occupied by tenants and Reingold estimates that a $40,000 completion job will provide quarters for 6 additional families at rentals similar to those now in effect on the finished floors, which run from $65 to $120 a month.

"Hundreds of zoning violations are being overlooked in Highland Park because of the urgent housing crisis," the AVC petition asserted. "The city faces a serious problem of eventual enforcement. But certainly there will be no injurious precedent created if completion of this building is allowed on the grounds that such completion would have been legal at the time the structure was first erected. Very few zoning violators or would-be violators have had permits issued which later lapsed unused, as in this case."

Basing his plea upon public necessity rather than the "rights" of veterans as a special class, Ettlinger admitted that the Sher-Park's prohibition of children and dogs and its relatively high rentals make few veterans eligible for apartments there. He said, however, that six high-class apartments for a new investment of only $40,000 promises a bargain in housing for the community, and that there, as in many instances, the community's interests and the veteran's aims should be identical.

"There are good arguments on both sides of this case," he concluded. "But no technicalities or personal grudges should decide the issue. The public interest demands that the case be further studied and an intelligent agreement reached."

Nursing Career Urged For High School Grads

High school graduates who are interested in a nursing career are urged to apply to a nursing school within the next thirty days. Spring classes are never as crowded as those starting in the fall, and consequently it is easier to gain admission before enrollments are closed. Nine nursing schools of this state are now admitting male

Cut Winter Drafts with Venetian Blinds

A properly dressed window will contribute to the winter coziness of your home, keep it warmer and reduce expenditures for fuel by blocking drafts from the outside and loss of heat from the inside.

The ideal window dress, pictured here is a snug-fitting Venetian blind with full-hung draperies of light-weight wool. A simple valance adds a decorative touch and prevents drafts and heat loss at the top of the windows.

Tests by the Armour Research Foundation of Chicago show that the blinds can save enough in fuel costs to pay for themselves during their long term of usefulness. An air space is formed between closed slats of the blind and window glass that prevents drafts from entering the room and interior heat from escaping.

Windows, are naturally, not the only factors to be considered in insulating your home, but they can do their part gracefully and effectively with the proper treatment.

U. S. DOG POPULATION IS NEAR 20,000,000

America's dog population is right around 20,000,000, a survey by the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City, indicates.

The South leads in the number of dog-owning families and the average dogs per family is also highest there, the survey also revealed.

Dog ownership varies in inverse proportion to the size of communities, with farmers having the highest percentage of dog ownership.

Approximately half of all families with children boast dogs, while 40 per cent of families without children keep canine pets.
