The Weather

The paper says "light snow". Well, why not? That's the only kind of snow there is.

Did you ever see dark snow falling from the clouds?

Soft Pedal It, Sis

Most worthy advice to the Old and the young, Is—keep a close guard on that little pink tongue; Never get stuck with a Tale you can't prove— To be careless that way is a Foolhardy move.

When you come by a bit that's A real stinkeroo— A thing that you'd hate to Have said about you— Soft pedal the poison—don't Spill it in chunks . . . Just make, if you can, like The three little monks.

You just can't depend on your Pals not to spread it . . . Nor even repeat it the Way that you said it!

Mrs. Clifford Makelim Heads Welfare Society

Mrs. Clifford Makelim the new president of the Junior group of the Highland Park-Ravinia center of the Infant Welfare Society, took office at the first meeting of the new year which was held at the home of Mrs. Judson S. Cross, 2734 Deere Park Drive, on Monday, January 26. After new board members were introduced, Mrs. Makelim welcomed eleven new members into the group: Mesdames Emerson Mead, James Shannon, George Smith, Lawrence Smith, Edward Murray, Jay P. Embich, Rex Andrews, Alfred Turner, Robert Walker, Theodore Hazen, and James Kelly.

Reports were read from the 1947 board among which the Thrift Shop chairman, Mrs. John Kies reported $2,081 as proceeds for the year. Mrs. Arthur Schramm, sewing chairman, reported that 1,050 garments had been completed, fifty more than the goal set for that year, and Mrs. Charles E. Close announced a 100 per cent attendance at the two stations.

The Juniors can well be proud of this record of service to so many underprivileged children and will strive to attain an even greater goal in 1948.

Chopin; American Songs Delight Music Club

In spite of the zero temperature, more than sixty members of the Highland Park Music Club met at the home of Mrs. Don Cuthbertson Wednesday, January 28th, to listen to a program given by Mrs. Jeanette Ray, soprano, accompanied by Miss Olga Sandor, and Mrs. Cuthbertson, pianist. Both Mrs. Ray and the hostess are accomplished musicians, and their selections of American songs, on the one hand, and the stirring music of Chopin, on the other, elicited much well deserved applause.

Assisting Mrs. Hinn, Chairman of the Hospitality Committee, were Mrs. Joseph Lambert and Mrs. Paul Mathews; pouring at the Tea table were Mrs. Franklin Nelson and Mrs. Joseph Lambert.

The February meeting, to be held in the evening, Wednesday, February 25th, will be an especially gala one to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the Club.

"Open City," called "The best foreign moving picture of 1946" by the New York Film Critics, will make a one night stand at the Winnetka Community House on Wednesday, February 11th at 8:15 p.m.

"Open City" was filmed in Rome by Italian resistance fighters soon after the city was liberated by Allied armies. The resulting drama, Elsa Maxwell says, is "an experience almost beyond description," and "Life" reported that "Its violence projects a feeling Hollywood seldom approaches."

Tickets for the North Shore are obtainable from the AVC chapter at Box 524, Highland Park, or at the Griffis Drug Store, Lake Forest; Lageler's Pharmacy, Highwood; Deerfield Pharmacy, Deerfield; Gsell's Pharmacy, Highland Park and Ravinia; Porter's Electric Shop, Winnetka, and Lyman-Rennecker Drug store, Wilmette.

Welfare Groups Report On Work

A large representation from the four Infant Welfare groups of Highland Park attended the annual luncheon and business meeting of the Infant Welfare Society which was held in the Gold Room of the Congress Hotel on Wednesday Jan. 28.

At the Woman's Auxiliary meeting which preceded the luncheon, Mrs. Robert McDougal Jr. was re-elected president, Mrs. John W. Dyer, vice-president, Mrs. John Donahoe, secretary and Mrs. C. Longford Felske of Highland Park, treasurer.

Reports from the Highland Park groups were presented by their presidents, Seniors, Mrs. C. Longford Felske; Juniors, Mrs. Clifford Makelim; Intermediates, Mrs. John B. Martineau, and Wings, Miss Alice Pfister. The combined contributions of the Highland Park centers is $5,768.39—425 hours of volunteer work in Infant Welfare stations and 1050 articles of clothing made for babies.

Mr. Phillip Armour, president of the Society, told the representatives from the 37 centers in Chicago and Suburbs that despite a shortage of doctors and nurses, this year's mortality rate was lower than ever: 15 deaths out of 6,907 infants cared for in 1947 and only 2 mothers out 966 receiving prenatal care who did not survive.

The report of Doctor Heyworth N. Sanford, medical director of the Society, commissioned by the government, for health research in the Virgin Islands, was transmitted to the audience by phonograph, stating that more deaths were caused by accidents in the home to the pre-school age group than from any other cause, and told of plans for a safety control unit.

Miss Sara B. Place, former administrative supervisor, who tendered her resignation after thirty years of service, has been replaced by Mrs. Elizabeth McCreary.

The Infant Welfare Society maintains 21 stations in the areas of Chicago and last year served 12,285 babies, pre-school and expectant mothers by giving supervised medical attention and health instruction in the stations followed by regular home visits by the nurses and nutritionists who teach the mothers how to keep their children well.

Former Marine Chaplain At First N. E. Church

Rev. W. Wyeth Willard, ordained Baptist minister who preached for several years in New England Churches, will conduct a series of services from February 8 to 13 in the First United Evangelical Church of Highland Park. The speaker served with the U.S. Navy and U.S. Marines during the recent World War and saw action in the South Pacific field. His book—"The Leathernecks Come Through" was written to narrate some of his experiences. Following the war, the speaker was called to the staff of Wheaton College, at Wheaton, Ill. where he serves as Assistant to the President. He is actively engaged in conducting special services in churches throughout the country and the Highland Park congregation is fortunate to be able to have him for one week.

The former Marine Chaplain will speak at both morning and evening services next Sunday, and in addition will address a public service at 3 p.m. when he will give his famous lecture—"Six Months Under Fire"—given many times throughout the country and continually in demand since the war's end. In the closing months of the war, this was used by the Navy Department as a means to recruit Chaplains for the Navy. The message has also been given in a large number of high schools, luncheon clubs and other organizations as well as churches. Efforts have been made to have the speaker before the local High School, and luncheon groups.

The winner will share a pilgrimage with representatives from the 48 states as guests of the National Society with all expenses paid by the Daughters of the American Revolution to the Continental Congress at Washington, D.
