TOO DARNED EFFICIENT
An efficiency expert went in to see the boss about his vacation. He came out with a handgog expression on his face.
Asked what was wrong, he replied:

"I get only one week. The boss says I'm so efficient I can have as much fun in one week as other people can have in two."

Dumas and his bride will be at home at 366 Ravine drive, Highland Park.

Floral Ideas for Valentine's Day

Cupid's message for Valentine's day always demands flowers, and romance is still the No. One challenge to florists everywhere. To glamorize your sentiment either locally or via flowers-by-wire, FTD stylist Allyn Wayne designed this coat corsage of solid carnations to suit the day (lower left). For extra heart interest at that Valentine dance, advance the good cause with a stunning hand corsage like this (lower right). White roses and stephanotis, tulle and ribbon are the florist's trick. For this year's Valentine hostess gift or table piece, stylist Wayne suggests (above), this foamy cascade of snapdragons, jonquils, acacia and pompons—set off by appropriate heart of butterfly paper lace.

Ravinia School Conducts Civic League Election

When the ballots were counted after the Ravinia School Junior Civic League Election on Monday, February 2nd, the student body learned that the successful candidates were Doug Keare, president; David Baum, vice president; Margerie Ellman, secretary, and Howard Ellman, sergeant-at-arms.
The election was a culmination of a series of activities carried on at the school during the ten days previous. Students circulated petitions to get their candidates on the ballots. Two parties were formed, the All-American with the following slate: Doug Keare, president; Dave Smith, vice-president; Cathy Stair, secretary; and Toni Murphy, sergeant-at-arms; and the Reform Party with these candidates: Jim Gordon, president; David Baum, vice-president; Audra Lou Furrow, secretary; and Brit Davis, sergeant-at-arms. The two Ellmans, Howard and Margerie, ran as independents for the offices of sergeant-at-arms and secretary, respectively.

On Friday, January 30th all candidates were given the opportunity to speak to the student body and present their platforms. This meeting was conducted by the retiring president, Joel Davis, who pointed out the responsibilities of the voters. At the conclusion of the speeches the All-American Party asked the students to join them in singing their campaign song. The Reform Party followed with a musical demonstration and parade. A wire recording was made of the entire program.

On Monday, February 2nd, an election committee of the Junior Civic League prepared three precincts for the election. Judges, clerks, and messengers were posted at their stations. After the students and teachers cast their ballots, they were counted with the results given earlier in this article.

Telephone Company Reports Low Earnings

Lowest earnings in company history, with some improvement foreseen, a fifty per cent slash in the telephone waiting list, and record net plant additions of $63,000,000, were announced by E. M. Knox, manager for the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, coincident with the issuance of the company's 1947 Annual Report.

Lincoln School Fathers Present Smash Hit In 'Follies and Fashions'

The Follies and Fashions show presented last Wednesday evening at the Lincoln school by the school fathers was an inspired and side-splitting performance.

The show was opened by Mike Bones and his Country Stinkers. A cannibal war dance, in costume, followed, with Mike Tighe as chieftain, C. Leonard Johnston as missionary, and Leonard Ross, William Woll, LeRoy Leonard and Bob Clarkson as natives. Frank McOmber presided at the tomtoms. One of the evening's highlights was a continuous between-acts performance with Jim Moore as Marco Harps and Lester Ball as the pursued Damsel.

"Tintypes" was enthusiastically received. Walter Crowds, appropriately garbed, portrayed the Gay Nineties, and his partner, J. H. Duffy, wore the New Look. Bob Burton, as Our Pretty Girl, merited the whistles and demand for an encore which he received. William Woll modeled the Alice Blue Gown, and A Bicycle Built For Two, with Walter Crocus and Stanley McKee hit a new high. Credit for off-stage singing goes to Carol Lawrentz.

Hitherto hidden qualities were displayed in Fashions of the Day, Lester Ball introducing each costume. The following were simply darling in their individual costumes: Jim Moore in Oh, That New Look; Bob Burton in an eye-catching Glamor Gown; Dr. Reich in Sweater and Slacks; Bob Cushman in Cocktail Gown; Bob Clarkson in Beguiling Lingerie, and Stanley McKee in Swim Suit. To the tune of South America Take It Away, Papi Pohn gave an impersonation of Carmen Miranda, complete with song, gesture and dance. The chorus line of Chickery Chicks was made up of Messrs Moore, Phon, Woll, Tighe, McKee and Johnston, joined by Marco Harps and the Damsel. The show was brought to a close by community singing led by the chorus. Refreshments were served by the fifth grade mothers.

The following are especially worthy of special mention: Messrs Pagenkoph, Sherry and McVee in Rhythm Boys; Mesdames Lawrentz and Smoot as make-up artists; Mesdames McKee and Tighe for Costumes; Mrs. Jim Moore for portraits used as decorations; Mrs. Weinfield and Mr. Pollack for producing and displaying announcing signs; Mr. Sam Smith for stage direction and Mr. Harold Rudolph for general assistant. Goodfellowship characterized the entire evening of fun.

Famous February Birthdays

Everybody knows that February is the month famous for the birthdays of great men and women. Without half trying, you can remember that Abraham Lincoln was born on February 12, George Washington on February 22 and that Thomas A. Edison's birthday falls on the eleventh of the month. But how many of you know that February is also the birthday month of such people as Victor Hugo, W. T. Grenfel, Charles Lamb, Marian Anderson and Katharine Cornell? For your convenience and edification the Highland Park Library has arranged a shelf of biographies of great men and women of all fields whose birthdays come during the second month of the year.

In addition to a number of books on the two February immortals, Washington and Lincoln, there is an interesting book about the well known dancer and choreographer Nijinsky, written by his wife Romola. In telling the story of her husband's rise to fame, Romola, who was a dancer herself, has necessarily told much of the history of the art and of many of its other exponents.

For those of you who are interested in the stories of the West, "The Last of the Great Scouts" should prove fascinating. It is the story of one of the most colorful of all Western heroes, Buffalo Bill, written by his sister, Helen Cody Wetmore.

Musically-minded readers will enjoy Herbert Weinstock's biography of George Frederick Handel, another February son. The book is beautifully illustrated and discusses not only the various phases of the composer's musical career, but also the numerous trends and incidents in the field of music as music as well as in his private life were 90c a share on the 1,949,976 shares outstanding. Total dividend paid during the year amounted to $1.50—the lowest in the company's history—and was made possible by deduction from surplus. The company's rate of return on invested capital was 1.4 per cent for the year compared with a previous 10 year average of 5.7 per cent.

which profoundly influenced the music he wrote.

William Allen White is another whose birthday falls in February, and, of course, his famous autobiography is also included in the special collection, as is a fascinating story of Dickens by May Lambert Becker, entitled "Introducing Charles Dickens." Still others whose biographies appear on this shelf are: Sidney Lanier, Elihu Root, Susan B. Anthony, D. L. Moody, Sinclair Lewis and Frederick Chopin.

For those of you who do not know and for those of you who may have forgotten, the children's Story Hour is still being held at the Library every Saturday morning from 10:30 to 11. All children of grade school age are invited to attend.

Temple To Observe Jewish Music Sabbath

Friday, February 13, will be observed at North Shore Congregation, Glencoe, as Jewish Music Sabbath: The Temple Choir, under the direction of Mr. Benjamin Landsman, is preparing a special musical service for this occasion, and the guest Rabbi, Rabbi Phineas Smoller, will interpret the music.

The guest speaker on this occasion will be Mr. Robert S. Adler, Vice President of North Shore Congregation Israel and one of the men who is spearheading the program of liberal Judaism in America. Mr. Adler, a member of the Board of Governors of the Hebrew Union College, is devoting himself to furthering the work of the College and the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Following the Service an open discussion will be led by Mr. Adler and Rabbi Smoller in the Temple Lounge. Mr. Adler's subject will be "Planning for Liberal Judaism in America—A Layman's Point of View."

Services are conducted at North Shore Congregation Israel every Friday night at 8:15 p.m. The Temple is located at the corner of Lincoln and Vernon Aves., Glencoe, and visitors are always very cordially welcome.
