

Deeps and Shallows

What Is It?

March opened up his storm gates
And came forth with a wham!
A mixture of a lion
And a fleecy, woolly lamb.

Malocclusion

At the mention of tooth-ache,
how Grandpa would scoff,
"Get some store-teeth and relish your suppers;"
His conviction was jarred when he coughed a great cough.
And the pup ran away with his uppers.

Month of Sundays

Of restful months in many a year,
This last was best;
Offering, in its brief career,
Five days of rest.

The Imp in Barby's Eye

A merry little imp I spy
Within the rim of Barby's eye,
And there he's made his home for keeps . . .
He rarely, hardly ever, sleeps.

Though sometimes he must rest, I
wot,
Behind a blue forget-me-not.
His pleasure is to charm - to vamp -
Till you adore the little scamp;

But when his fancy you have gained,
Or he is vastly entertained
By something that you say, or do,
The rascal jumps right out at you!

—R.B.O.

A Thousand Times, No!

A friend inquires, with manner
solemn,
If, in the lines of this-yere column,
We do not aim to take a dig
At whom we do not care a fig;
And lest this vague suspicion grow,
A thousand times, we answer
"NO!"

Our quips are uttered as a lark—
Our arrows aimed quite in the dark;
And, not to mix a metaphor,
But just explain a little more,
We hew and hew and hew away . . .
And let the chips fall where they may.

Aged Mother Of Highland Park Is Laid To Rest

Lester S. Olson, publisher and proprietor of the Highland Park Press, with his son, Brandt, drove to Eau Claire, Wisconsin, over the week-end, to attend the last rites on Monday for his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Olson Hasler. She was taken by death the preceding Friday, February 27, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Hasler's life, covering, as it did, a span of more than four-score years and ten, included its share of adventure, especially in its early part. Born Dorothy Brandt, in Trondheim, Norway, 91 years ago of Norwegian parents, she was brought to Canada at an early age. It was here that one of their number, dispatched to New York for supplies, absconded with the funds entrusted to his care, leaving the members of the party to survive as best they could.

Later, moving to eastern Minnesota, the family was among the few who escaped massacre in a savage uprising of the Sioux Indians, under Little Crow. A graphic account of this disaster is given in a book entitled "Big Ember", authored by Edward Haville.

Situated on the bank of the Mississippi, her father, Peter Brandt, ran a river boat, on which, during the Civil War, he transported wounded soldiers. One of the most vivid of her early recollections was standing on the dock, watching the unloading of these wounded men.

Later the Brandt family moved to Eau Claire, Wisconsin, where Mrs. Hasler spent the last 69 years of her life.

Mrs. Hasler, who several times visited in Highland Park, will be remembered by her hosts of friends for her stability of character, her energy, her devotion to family and friends, and her uncompromising cheerfulness during her last illness.

Twice widowed, she was preceded in death by one son, Helmer Olson, one daughter, Mrs. Lydia Reishus and two grandchildren. She is survived by two daughters: Mrs. George E. Mills of Biwabik, Minn., and Mrs. A. Sherman of Eau Claire, with whom she made her home, as well as two sons: Gerhard Olson of Eau Claire and Lester Olson of Highland Park. Also surviving are eight grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

She was laid to rest in the family plot at Eau Claire.

"It used to be the layer cake that broke down when company came; now it's the movie projection machine."

Highland Parkers At College

CLAREMONT, CALIF., Mar.—Ralph E. Lautmann, son of Mr. Herbert M. Lautmann, Moraine Hotel, and Robert L. Metzberg, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Metzberg, 628 Woodpath, Highland Park, Ill., are among the Pomona College students who will participate in the annual Matriculation and Parents' Day Convocation Saturday, March 6, on the college campus in Claremont, California.

To matriculate, a student must be in good scholastic standing after completing one semester's work at the college.

OXFORD, OHIO—Nancy Riggs, 2165 Lakeside pl., Highland Park, was one of the 40 freshmen to be honored recently at a special chapel on the campus of Western College for Women. Miss Riggs was named on the Dean's List. Only students maintaining a "B" average or better in grades are on this list.

OXFORD, OHIO—"Sham", a play of social satire by F. G. Tomkins, recently was produced on the campus of Western College for Women. Technical director for the show was Virginia Knox, 2296 Lakeside pl., Highland Park. Miss Knox is a sophomore.

H. Park Music Club Celebrates 20th Anniversary

The eighteen Highland Park women who organized the Music Club twenty years ago would have been surprised at the attendance of one hundred people Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Harold McLain, where the 20th anniversary meeting was held. Two huge birthday cakes, fancy sandwiches, and a gaily decorated table, made it a festive occasion. Two former presidents, Mrs. Lawrence Meyer and Mrs. Edith Howes poured, while Mrs. James B. Garnett helped Mrs. George Hinn receive.

Prefacing the program, Mrs. May Ann McFadden, President of the Club which has a membership of over one hundred active and associate members, spoke of the aim of the founders to foster musical interest in Highland Park and to develop their own musical talent. It has had a steady and healthy growth under capable leaders and has stimulated a love for music in the community.

Mrs. Virginia Schur, whose brilliant piano playing always meets with hearty applause, played mostly classical numbers, while the Club Choral Ensemble delighted the audience with five gay Rounds and other attractive selections.

Highland Park Students Win First Place For "Brotherhood" Essays

More than 600 persons filled the auditorium of Skokie School, Winnetka, Tuesday night, February 24, to hear Glifton Utley, Fred K. Hoehler, and Dr. Earl S. Johnston discuss brotherhood in the home and human relations in the community, and to hear three prize-winning essays written by North Shore high school students on the subject "Brotherhood in the High Schools." The response of the audience left no doubt that the essays were the feature of the evening.

First and second prizes and one of the three honorable mention certificates awarded went to students at Highland Park High School. First place and a prize of $100 was awarded to Betty Arnswald, 331 North Greenway Road, Highland Park, a senior at Highland Park High School. Second place and $50 went to Hein Juergensen, 692 Central, Highland Park; and third prize of $25 was won by Ronald Treuse, Glencoe, a senior at New Trier. Honorable mention was given to essays written by Ned Greenberg, Highland Park; Kit Montgomery, North Shore Country Day School; and Marie A. Hutchings, Mallinckrodt High School.

More than 200 essays were submitted from the four participating high schools. The contest, conducted jointly by the North Shore Council of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the North Shore Citizens Committee, is expected to become an annual feature of Brotherhood Week.

Monodramatist To Present The World And Nellie Bly To Ravinia Women

Members of the Ravinia Woman's Club will have an opportunity to see and hear an exceptionally fine dramatic entertainment when Jeanne Welty, talented young monodramatist, presents "The World and Nellie Bly" on Wednesday March tenth at two o'clock.

Mrs. A. C. Heimerdinger, chairman of the program committee, says that Miss Welty is recognized by critics as one of America's foremost exponents of the art of monodrama and states that her appearance here is one of the outstanding events on the club's calendar.

The monodrama, as presented by Miss Welty, though enacted by a single person and carried by a single voice, gives the effect of a stage play, for acting, costuming and stage setting are part of her performance. Miss Welty writes and produces her own plays each one of which represents months of research into the lives of those she portrays. The adventurous life of Nellie Bly, a young newspaper woman at the turn of a century, coupled with the dramatic talents of the artist promise a most delightful program.

In addition to her work as a monologist, Miss Welty starred in Max Heinhart's California production of "The Miracle" and has played leading roles in many stock productions.

At the regular business meeting preceding the program, Mrs. William Alderman, chairman of the nominating committee, will present the slate of officers for the coming year. Serving with Mrs. Alderman on this committee are: Mrs. John Kuiper, Mrs. Arthur Mason, Mrs. Elzie Partlow and Mrs. Chas. S. Stunkel. Hostesses for the tea hour will be Mrs. Theodore L. Osborne Jr., Mrs. Carl Holzheimer and Mrs. Charles R. Morrow.

Adult Games At Center

The adult card and recreation club meets every Thursday night at the Highland Park Community Center. Last week the program included chess, checkers, cribbage and gin rummy. The handball court and workout room is also open for those interested in competitive exercise.

Plans are under way for tournaments in chess, checkers, cribbage on the Thursday night program. For further information call H.P. 2442.

GIANT ROSES FOR NATIONAL FLOWER SHOW

First crop of long-stemmed roses which are being cultivated specially for the National Flower and Garden Show to be held at Chicago Coliseum, March 14-21, being admired by Gloria Hunter. The roses which require more than six months of bud pinching and special care to reach height of ten to twelve feet, will be featured among hundreds of exhibits now being prepared by Chicago and Midwestern garden clubs.

Veteran Highland Park Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Maria Augusta Mayer, a resident of Highland Park for 35 years, passed away in her home at 930 Oak street, on Thursday, February 26, after an illness of 10 months, at the age of 92.

Born March 7, 1855, in Lindau am Bodensee (Lake Constance) Bavaria, Mrs. Mayer, then Maria Rheinthal, came to the United States in 1884, where she was married to John M. Mayer in Buffalo, N. Y. To this union two daughters were born; Helen Mayer Mannings of Highland Park, and the late Julia Mayer Farrell of Glencoe. John M. Mayer preceded her wife in death, on February 17, 1938, and Julia Mayer Farrell preceded her mother in September, 1918. She is survived by Mrs. John M. Mannings of the Oak street address, a grandson, James S. Farrell and a great granddaughter, Joan Farrell, five years old, of River-Forest.

Mrs. Mayer was one of Highland Park's grand old ladies, and was dearly loved by her many friends and acquaintances. She will always be remembered for her sterling character, her cheerfulness and her sympathy for all mankind. She was active up to the last day of her life and would have celebrated her 93rd birthday next Sunday.

Funeral services were held on Friday, February 27, at the Kelly-Spalding chapel on North Sheridan road, Rev. H. K. Platzler of the Redeemer Lutheran church officiating. Interment was made in the family plot in the North Shore Garden of Memories.

Emblem Club To Choose Year's Officers

Highland Park Emblem club will convene Wednesday, Mar. 10 at 8 p.m. in Elks hall. Mrs. Raymond Sheahan, president, will preside.

Annual election of officers will feature the business session. The slate of candidates has been prepared by a nominating committee comprised of Mrs. Frances Schneider, Mrs. Irving Garling, Mrs. George Bock, Mrs. Edward Welch, and Mrs. Richard O'Brien.

Annual reports of all officers and committee chairmen also will be due at this meeting.

Hostesses will be: Mrs. Maynard Schramm, chairman; Mrs. Henry Stenson, Mrs. Edward Dostalek, Mrs. Frances Schneider, Mrs. George Rich, and Mrs. Ben Shifflett.

The board will meet at the lodge hall on Monday, March 8.

Rites On Saturday For Frank Warren

Funeral services were held on Saturday at the Kelly and Spalding chapel for Frank Warren, 73, whose lifeless body was found in his home at 433 Lincoln avenue the preceding day by police, in answer to a request to investigate. He had evidently succumbed to bronchial pneumonia. An accumulation of mail outside the house occasioned alarm as to the welfare of the occupants.

The deceased, estimated to have been dead for about three weeks, was being cared for by his wife, Lillian, 70, who, in a mentally disturbed state, was not aware of his true condition. Suffering from exposure and lack of food, she was immediately hospitalized.

A lifelong resident of Highland Park, Mr. Warren retired from the carpentry trade eight years ago.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two brothers, in distant parts of the country, two nephews and a niece.

Interment was made in Rosehill cemetery.
