Beware of the Ides of March When It Comes to Fires
Local Fire Chief Suggests

There's an extra reason to beware the Ides of March Chief Hennig reminded local residents today, pointing out that March is the worst month of the year in terms of fire hazards.

Chief Hennig cited figures released by Fire Protection institute which indicated that losses this month may set an all-time record unless home owners and business men take steps to safeguard their property.

Last year more than $72,435,000 worth of property was destroyed by fire during March. It was costliest month in a year that saw nearly 700 million dollars of fire waste. Reports for January of this year show a ten per cent increase in fire loss compared with January a year ago. If this trend continues, we're in for plenty of trouble.

Chief Hennig believes two simple rules can help safeguard local property owners.

1. Do all you can to prevent a fire by eliminating the causes of fire.
2. Be prepared to protect yourself against fire by keeping approved fire extinguishers handy on each floor. A fire multiplies fifty times in eight minutes but most fires can be brought under control if you know how to fight them when they first break out.
