The old lady had lost her purse, and she rushed into the police inspector's office and tearfully told her story. The inspector was very kind and calmed her fears as best he could. Laying his hand on her arm, he said:

"We will leave no stone unturned to find your purse, madam."

Leaving his office, she noticed a group of city workers busy tearing up the street for drainage repairs, and she remarked to herself, "Well, they don't lose much time, I'll say that for them."
